MONTE IRVIN

FEBRUARY 25, 1919 – JANUARY 11, 2016

Hall of Fame outfielder Monte Irvin passed away on January 11, 2016 at his Houston home. Irvin died peacefully of natural causes at the age of 96.

A multisport athlete in his youth, Irvin starred with the Newark Eagles of the Negro National League before joining the New York Giants in 1949. By 1951, Irvin was one of the National League's most dangerous hitters, driving in a league-high 121 runs in 1951 while leading the Giants to their improbable pennant, catching the Brooklyn Dodgers down the stretch and then defeating Brooklyn in the three-game playoff.

Irvin played seven seasons with the Giants and one with the Cubs from 1949-55. He was elected to the Hall of Fame by the Committee on Negro Baseball Leagues in 1973, becoming the fourth Negro Leagues candidates inducted following Satchel Paige, Josh Gibson and Buck Leonard.

Irvin, born Feb. 25, 1919 in Haleburg, Ala., was a four-sport athlete in high school and began playing professional baseball while in college under an assumed name to keep his amateur status. He joined the Newark Eagles and quickly became an outstanding all-around player. He could hit for power, was a strong fielder at shortstop and could steal bases. One of the league's biggest stars, he was elected to four East-West all-star games. After asking for a raise and being denied, Irvin took off for Mexico and won the Triple Crown there.

He returned to the Eagles in 1946 where he won his second batting title and helped win the Negro World Series. In 1949, the New York Giants bought Irvin's contract from the Eagles. In 1951 as New York's regular left fielder, he sparked the Giants to win the pennant, hitting .312 with 24 home runs and a National League-best 121 RBI, en route to a third-place finish in the MVP voting. Although the Giants lost to the Yankees in the World Series, Irvin batted .458 in the six-game series.

He played for the Giants for seven seasons, was elected to the 1952 All-Star Game and won a World Series with them in 1954. After an ankle injury, Irvin spent his final season with the Cubs in 1956. He finished with a .293 career batting average, 97 doubles, 99 home runs, and 443 RBIs in the major leagues.

Following the 1956 season, Irvin became a scout for the New York Mets and later spent 17 years as a public relations specialist for the commissioner's office under Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. Irvin was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame by the Special Committee on Negro Leagues.

Notes:

Laurence M. Baer — PRESIDENT & CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

A fourth generation San Franciscan, Larry Baer has gained a national reputation as one of professional sports' leading visionaries. Baer joined the team in 1992 as the executive vice president after he and Peter Magowan led the effort to assemble a new ownership group and negotiate the sale that kept the Giants in San Francisco. A limited partner of the ownership group, Baer was named chief operating officer in May 1996, team president in October 2008 and CEO on January 1, 2012. In his first year as president and CEO, the Giants won their second World Series Championship in three years. In 2014, the Giants won their third World Series title in five years.

As president and CEO, Baer serves as the club's "control" person on all Giants, Major League Baseball and industry issues. Baer is responsible for the overall day-to-day functioning of the organization. Under his direction the Giants developed and constructed AT&T Park -- the first privately-financed Major League ballpark. Since opening in 2000, AT&T Park has been widely praised as one of the "best ballparks ever built." The club has received unprecedented fan support – becoming one of only four teams to exceed three million in attendance eight consecutive years (2000-2007).

Currently, the Giants enjoy the longest active home sellout streak in Major League Baseball of 408 games. With the support of more than 30,000 full season ticket holders, the Giants sold out the 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, and 2015 seasons and welcomed more than 3.3 million fans each year. The Giants have been the standard bearer in all of baseball for sponsorship revenue, and the ballpark continues to be one of the most popular venues in the country for special events. In 2008, AT&T Park was named Sports Business Journal's Sports Facility of the Year, and in 2011 the Giants received Sports Business Journal's Professional Sports Organization of the Year award.

Baer also serves as a key strategist and negotiator of the club's major business and baseball transactions. This includes the Barry Bonds signing in November 1992, the naming rights agreement with AT&T (then Pacific Bell) in 1996 and other strategic business partnerships. He led the effort to host the 2007 All-Star Game in San Francisco and was the driving force behind the Giants partnership with Comcast to create a regional sports network for the Bay Area.

Baer worked closely with the Giants Baseball department on strategic signings that keep several key players in Giants uniforms for years to come, including Buster Posey, Matt Cain, Madison Bumgarner and Hunter Pence.

Baer also serves as Chairman and CEO of Giants Development Services, which is currently developing Mission Rock – a new, mixed use urban neighborhood located on a 25-acre site across McCovey Cove from AT&T Park. In 2015, the Mission Rock Project was overwhelmingly approved by San Francisco voters, garnering 73% of the vote. Once completed, Mission Rock will include more than eight acres of parks and open space, an Anchor Steam Brewery, 1,500 residential units, approximately 1.3million square feet of office space, a parking structure to serve ballpark and Mission Rock patrons, and 250,000 square feet of retail, restaurants, and public amenities. The project is currently in the entitlement phase with groundbreaking projected for early 2017.

After earning Phi Beta Kappa honors at the University of California in 1980, Baer joined the Giants as the club's marketing director. In 1983, he left the Giants to attend Harvard Business School, followed by positions at Westinghouse Broadcasting in San Francisco and New York. He next moved to CBS, Inc. in New York serving as special assistant to the network Chairman, Laurence Tisch. Baer returned to the Giants in 1992 after he and Magowan successfully concluded the purchase of the franchise. Baer has been the recipient of a number of prestigious awards throughout his career with the Giants. This includes the San Francisco Distinguished Leadership Award for civic leadership (1996), "Sports Torch of Learning Award" by the Scopus Society of the American Friends of The Hebrew University (1995), and the Anti-Defamation League's Torch of Liberty Award (2001). In 2010, Baer was the named the "Person of the Year" by San Francisco Boys and Girls Club, and in 2012 he was honored as the Harvard Business School's "Alumnus of the Year." In 2014, Baer was honored by the University of California Berkeley with its "Excellence in Achievement" award and received the Civic Leadership Award from the American Jewish Committee.

Baer chairs Major League Baseball's Long-Term Strategic Planning Committee and serves on MLB's Business and Media Board and MLB's Legislative Affairs Committee.

Baer is a member of the Board of Directors of KQED, Inc., the San Francisco Committee on Jobs, the Bay Area Council, Comcast Sports Net Bay Area and is a member of the Boys and Girls Clubs of America Pacific Region Board of Trustees.

Baer and his wife, Pam, co-chaired the San Francisco General Hospital Foundation Campaign Committee in support of the new hospital, which will open in May 2016 as Zuckerberg San Francisco General Hospital and Trauma Center. Larry and Pam Baer reside in San Francisco with their four children.

Mario Alioto — EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, BUSINESS OPERATIONS

Mario Alioto, a member of the Giants front office since 1983, is responsible for all revenue and marketing areas of the organization. This includes all ticket sales functions, sponsorship and media sales, promotions, special events, ballpark entertainment, advertising and the Giants' Dugout Store retail operation. He also oversees the relationships with the team's TV and radio partners (KNBR, Comcast Sports Net Bay Area, NBC Bay Area and KTRB 860 ESPN Deportes).

Since AT&T Park opened in 2000, Alioto has been responsible for overseeing a record breaking sales strategy that has consistently placed the Giants as one of the top sponsorship generating teams in all of Major League Baseball. Over the past four seasons, Alioto has led the effort that has attracted more than 3.3 million fans through the turnstiles each year as well as a sellout streak that sits at 408 consecutive games as of the start of the 2016 season.

Alioto served as Vice President, Sales & Marketing during the final years at Candlestick Park. He oversaw a promotional lineup in 1999 that included the first ever bobblehead promotion, which has since become one of the most popular premium items in professional sports. Alioto also played an integral role in developing the Charter Seat program and Winner's Circle sponsorship program as the Giants prepared to build AT&T Park.

Alioto currently serves as Chairman of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and is a board member of the San Francisco Giants Community Fund, and the Bay Area Sports Hall of Fame.

The St. Mary's graduate lived out every youngster's dream by starting with the organization as a batboy in 1973 and later served as Visiting Clubhouse Manager prior to moving to the front office in 1983.

Alioto and his wife Kelly live in the East Bay and have four children.

Jack F. Bair — EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL COUNSEL

Jack Bair has served as a trusted counselor and key strategist to the San Francisco Giants baseball team since January of 1993. As he enters his twenty-fourth season with the Giants, Bair has broad experience assisting and advising every department within the organization. As Executive Vice President & General Counsel, he is responsible for all of the team's legal matters and for managing the team's many and complex relations with the City & County of San Francisco and other governmental entities. Bair also serves as President of Giants Development Services, the wholly-owned subsidiary of the San Francisco Giants responsible for real estate matters, including the planned Mission Rock Project just south of AT&T Park. Bair led the successful political campaign last year to win voter approval for the Mission Rock Project (Proposition D). Bair is also responsible for the current effort to expand the club's Latin American Headquarters in the Dominican Republic.

Bair played a critical role in the Giants successful effort to develop a new ballpark in downtown San Francisco. Bair coordinated the effort to select the site for the new ballpark and contributed significantly to the ballpark's architectural design. Bair was the Giants liaison to the successful 1996 ballpark campaign for the Giants. He wrote and produced the award-winning campaign video and served as the principal spokesperson for the campaign, addressing hundreds of neighborhood, business and political organizations throughout the City. Bair also negotiated the business transaction with the City and coordinated the successful effort to gain all of the local, regional, state and federal governmental approvals necessary for the project to meet its timetable for Opening Day in April of 2000.

In addition to the ballpark architectural style itself, Bair's creative suggestions led to several of AT&T Park's unique features, such as the public promenade behind the Right Field fence, the perched arcade seating area in Right Field and the Ferry Terminal at Seals Plaza. His father's old-time glove served as the inspiration for the world's largest baseball glove that sits above the Left Field bleachers. Bair also planned and developed China Basin Park and its historical elements at McCovey Point. Bair is also credited with launching the Giants Community Fund field renovation program and suggesting one of the more clever baseball advertising programs in the 1990's, placing signage for the "GAP" clothing retailer on outfield fences in what in baseball parlance is referred to as "the Gap."

Prior to joining the Giants, Bair worked as a Deputy City Attorney for the City & County of San Francisco. Bair was the attorney assigned to direct the legal effort to save the Giants in 1992 from being sold and relocated to Florida. Before working at the City Attorney's Office, Bair practiced law at the San Francisco law firm of Farella, Braun & Martel. The San Francisco Business Times & Silicon Valley Business Times honored Bair for his accomplishments in the legal community by awarding him its Lifetime Achievement Award in 2011. Bair was also named by the Daily Journal as one of the "25 Leading General Counsel in California" in June, 2011.

and member of the Board of Directors. Bair helped successfully fundraise, purchase and remodel the historic Vogue Theatre and acquired a long-term lease on the Balboa Theatre, both in San Francisco. Bair also co-founded and co-directs the Mostly British Film Festival in San Francisco.

Bair has served as an Adjunct Professor at the University of San Francisco in the Sports & Fitness Management Program and is a frequent lecturer at Bay Area law schools. Bair played and coached amateur baseball in San Francisco for several years.

In 1993, in one of his first public statements after assuming ownership of the team, former Giants President and Managing General Partner Peter Magowan announced that the franchise was signing Mays to a lifetime contract.

Magowan also announced in 1997 that the front entrance of the club's new ballpark would feature a world-class statue of Mays and the official address of the park would be 24 Willie Mays Plaza. The 84-year-old Mays serves as a Giant emissary. He visits the Giants' minor league teams, as well as Spring Training camp and attends nearly every single Giants home game during the season. The Westfield, AL native also makes appearances on behalf of the club at a variety of civic and charitable events throughout the Bay Area for the Giants Community Fund. He has also made generous contributions to needy children throughout the country through his own Say Hey Foundation charity.

During his 22-year Major League playing career, Mays was named Most Valuable Player twice, 11 years apart, first as a New York Giant and then as a San Francisco Giant. He holds the all-time record for putouts by an outfielder, with a career total of 7,095. He compiled 3,283 hits, won 12 Gold Gloves and appeared in 24 All-Star games. He was third on the all-time home run list with 660 until 2003 when his godson, Barry Bonds, passed him. His career batting average was .302 and for eight consecutive years, he drove in more than 100 runs a season. The "Say Hey Kid" was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1979, the first year of his eligibility (the ninth player to make it on his first try). He had previously made special public appearances on an ad hoc basis for the present and previous administrations over the past several years, but had not held a formal front office position with the team since 1986.

In honor of the Hall of Fame great, the portion of San Francisco Bay behind right field at AT&T Park has been named "McCovey Cove." In 2003, the Giants unveiled a statue of McCovey at China Basin Park, which is located across from AT&T Park on the southern shoreline of McCovey Cove. In his current position, McCovey offers his expertise to Giants players when possible, appearing at Spring Training and during the regular season. He also makes occasional speaking appearances, and performs other valuable functions for the team.

One of the most respected and feared hitters in baseball during his 22-year career in the Majors, McCovey was a six-time All-Star, ranks second to Lou Gehrig in career grand slams (18) and hit the most homers (231) ever at Candlestick Park. Dave was an All-Star with the San Diego Padres in 1983, and was traded to the Giants in 1987. Winner of the 1989 Willie Mac Award, Dave's story is both touching and inspiring. After discovering a cancerous tumor in his pitching arm in October of 1988, Dave battled back and returned to the majors in August of 1989. After winning his first start, his humerus bone snapped just five days later while throwing a pitch in the 6th inning. The doctors discovered another mass in his left arm, and Dravecky was forced to retire from baseball. After two more surgeries in the next two years, Dave's left arm and shoulder were amputated.

Nicknamed "HacMan" after the popular video game PacMan, Leonard was known for his "one flap down" routine, running around the bases after hitting a home run with one arm hanging motionless at his side. He had one of his finest seasons in 1987, when he batted .280 with 19 home runs and was named to the National League All Star team. He was named MVP of the '87 NLCS, after batting .417 with four homers and five RBI, despite San Francisco losing the series to St. Louis four-games-to-three.

During this stretch, the Giants were one of only three teams in the Major Leagues to have been to the World Series four-or-more times (also: Cardinals, four times and Yankees, six times).

In his 30th season as a baseball front office executive, the 59-year-old Sabean was honored as the 2010 Major League Baseball Executive of the Year by the Boston Chapter of the BBWAA. In his first year as the Giants' GM, the Concord, NH native finished second in The Sporting News' 1997 Executive of the Year balloting. He seized national headlines for his bold player moves that season, engineering some of baseball's most successful blockbuster trades, which catapulted San Francisco to its first divisional championship in eight years.

During his tenure as GM, Sabean acquired some of the game's best players via trades. They included Giants' All-Stars Jeff Kent, Jason Schmidt, Marco Scutaro and Robb Nen, as well as standout performers Ellis Burks, Joe Carter, Andres Galarraga, Kenny Lofton, Jose Mesa and J.T. Snow. The Giants' GM has been known to bring reinforcements during the July 31 trading deadline, acquiring the likes of Carlos Beltran, Javier Lopez, Jake Peavy, Hunter Pence, Freddy Sanchez and Randy Winn.

Prior to being named GM in 1996, Sabean served one season as the club's Senior Vice President, Player Personnel in 1995 and enjoyed a three-year stint as Assistant to the General Manager and Vice President of Scouting/Player Personnel. Prior to joining the Giants, Sabean played a vital role in developing the Yankees' farm system into one of baseball's finest. During his eight-year tenure with the Yankees, he held several positions of increasing responsibility, including Director of Scouting from 1986-90 and Vice President of Player Development/Scouting from 1990-92.

Sabean, who graduated from Concord (NH) High School in 1974 and Eckerd College (St. Petersburg, FL) in 1978, served as an assistant baseball coach at St. Leo (FL) College in 1979 and the University of Tampa from 1980-82. He was then promoted to head coach at Tampa in 1983, holding that post for two years, compiling a 61-36 record and making the school's first-ever appearance in an NCAA regional tournament in 1984. Sabean and his wife, Amanda, have two sons, Aidan and Declan. They are also the proud dad and stepmom to Colin, Sean, Brendan and Darren.

Bobby Evans

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

Bobby Evans was named the Giants' Senior Vice President and General Manager on April 3, 2015. He is the eighth person to hold the title of General Manager for the organization since the Giants moved to San Francisco in 1958.

Evans enters his 23rd season in the Giants baseball operations department. During his tenure he's helped the organization capture seven Postseason berths, including four World Series appearances and three Championships.

In his first season as GM in 2015, Evans engineered trades for right-handed pitcher Mike Leake, who at the time was Cincinnati's second-best starter and outfielder Marlon Byrd, whose addition helped bolster the outfield. This past offseason, Evans rebuilt the Giants' starting rotation by signing former Reds ace and 2015 World Series champion Johnny Cueto, inking 2014 All-Star Jeff Samardzija and shoring up the outfield by signing free agent Denard Span, who is one of the top centerfielders in the game.

Prior to being promoted to General Manager, Evans served in the assistant general manager's role for nine seasons. During this time, the Giants were named the Topps Organization of the Year in both 2009 and 2011 and the Baseball America Organization of the Year in 2010.

Evans, 47, first joined the Giants in 1994 as Administrative Assistant, Minor Leagues. He was later promoted to Director of Minor League Operations in 1998, Director of Player Personnel in 2005 and Vice President of Baseball Operations in January 2009.

Dick Tidrow

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, PLAYER PERSONNEL & SENIOR ADVISOR TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

A former American League Rookie Pitcher of the Year and 13-year Major League veteran, Dick Tidrow embarks on his 23rd year overall with the club. Tidrow has had an integral role in helping the organization win three World Series titles over the last six seasons. Tidrow came to the organization prior to the 1994 campaign, serving as the club's Major League scout for the American League. He was promoted to Special Assistant to the General Manager in 1996, and was elevated to Director of Player Personnel prior to the 1997 season. His current responsibilities include providing Major League player recommendations for trade and free agent signings, overseeing the Giants' minor league system and assisting in supervising the First-Year Player Draft.

His judgment for talent, whether acquired or developed through the farm system, can be seen throughout the roster of the Major League club, as he had a major hand in the teams drafting and development of their homegrown talent. Of the players on the 2014 World Series 25-man roster, 13 were either selected by San Francisco in the June draft or signed their first professional contract with the Giants.

In addition to the Giants capturing seven post-season berths (including four World Series appearances and three Championships) during Tidrow's tenure, San Francisco's farm system owns the highest winning percentage in baseball over the past nine seasons with a .552 organizational mark, largely due to Tidrow's tutelage of the club's pitching prospects.

Prior to joining the Giants organization, Tidrow served as a special assignment scout with the New York Yankees from 1985 through 1993. The former right-handed pitcher, nicknamed "Dirt," enjoyed parts of 13 years in the Majors from 1972-84. He was honored as The Sporting News A.L. Rookie Pitcher of the Year as a starter with the Cleveland Indians in 1972, while also capturing pennant and World Series rings as a reliever with the Yankees in 1976 and '77, respectively. He later pitched for the Cubs, White Sox and Mets. His lifetime numbers show a 100-94 record with 55 saves and a 3.68 ERA.

Felipe Alou

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

Felipe Alou, a man whose name is synonymous with the Giants, returns for his ninth season as a special assistant to the general manager after serving as the club's field manager from 2003-06. He works closely with Bobby Evans on special assignments, ranging from Major League scouting and player acquisition to minor league instruction. He provides evaluations and recommendations at both levels.

The Dominican icon continues a long and storied career with the franchise, beginning with his playing days as a member of the original San Francisco Giants club in 1958. He concluded his four-year tenure at the helm of the Giants ranking seventh on the wins list for San Francisco skippers with a 342-304 record.

The 2015 campaign will mark Alou's 60th season in professional baseball. Following a distinguished 17-year playing career that ended in 1974, he was appointed a minor league manager in 1976 and remained in uniform each year through the 2006 campaign.

In 13 seasons as a Major League manager, the 1994 National League Manager of the Year posted a 1,033-1,021-1 ledger and became just the 53rd skipper since 1900 to register 1,000 wins. The Haina, Dominican Republic native is the first manager of Latin descent to win 1,000 games in the big leagues, and is only the third foreign-born skipper to reach the milestone (current Giants skipper Bruce Bochy, France, 1,530-1,530; and Harry Wright, England, 1,000-825).

Alou became the first Dominican-born manager in Major League history when he assumed control of the Montreal Expos on May 22, 1992. He was the fourth Latin American head man born in the Caribbean Islands, following Mike Gonzalez (Cuba), Preston Gomez (Cuba) and Cookie Rojas (Cuba).

Prior to the 2015 season, Alou was elected into the Canadian Baseball Hall of Fame, acknowledging his work with the Expos.

Primarily an outfielder during his playing days, the second Dominican-born player to reach the Majors (following Ozzie Virgil with the 1956 New York Giants) was a three-time All-Star during a 17-year career with the Giants (1958-63), Milwaukee and Atlanta Braves (1964-69), Oakland Athletics (1970-71), New York Yankees (1971-73), Montreal Expos (1973) and Milwaukee Brewers (1974).

Alou, and his wife Lucie, make their home in Boynton Beach, FL with their two children, Valerie and Felipe, Jr. He is also the father of daughters Maria, Christia, Cheri and Jennifer, along with sons Jose, Moises, Felipe Jose and Luis.

Jeremy Shelley

VICE PRESIDENT & ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Jeremy Shelley enters his 23rd season in San Francisco's baseball operations department, currently serving as Vice President and Assistant General Manager. He assists General Manager Bobby Evans with the day-to day operations of the baseball department including player acquisitions, player evaluations, roster management, player contracts and salary arbitration. Additionally, he oversees the pro scouting staff at the major league, minor league and international levels, including advance scouting. Shelley also plays an integral role in the club's international operations.

During his time with the Giants he has been an important part of seven Postseason berths, including four World Series appearances and three Championships. He has also helped the organization be recognized as the Topps Organization of the Year in 2009 and 2011 and the Baseball America Organization of the Year in 2010.

The Concord, CA native began his career for the Giants as a baseball operations intern in 1994. He was hired full-time as Administrative Assistant, Baseball Operations in 1996. Shelley was later promoted to Director, Baseball Operations in 2006, Senior Director, Baseball Operations/Pro Scouting in 2009 and Vice President, Pro Scouting and Player Evaluation in 2013.

He earned a BS in finance from Santa Clara University in 1995. Shelley and his wife, Suzanne, live in San Mateo with their daughters, Maria and Leah.

John Barr

VICE PRESIDENT & ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER, SCOUTING & INTERNATIONAL OPERATIONS

John Barr will begin his 32nd season as a baseball executive and his ninth season with the Giants, overseeing amateur and international scouting.

Under Barr's guidance, the Giants have drafted players such as 2010 Rookie of the Year and 2012 National League MVP Buster Posey, Brandon Crawford, Brandon Belt, Joe Panik and Matt Duffy all of whom have contributed to the Giants' three World Series titles over the last six seasons. In fact, seven of the 13 position players on San Francisco's 2014 World Series roster were all selected by Barr in the June draft.

The Audubon, NJ, native entered the front office ranks in 1984 with the New York Mets as Administrative Assistant to Minor Leagues and Scouting where he remained until becoming the East Coast Supervisor for the Minnesota Twins in 1988. As Scouting Director for the Baltimore Orioles,(1989-90), Barr was responsible for selecting first rounders Ben McDonald ('89) and Mike Mussina ('90). He served as Assistant General Manager for the San Diego Padres (1991-93) before returning to the New York Mets (1994-97) as Scouting Director, where they added players such as AJ Burnett, Paul Wilson, Jay Payton, and Terrence Long to their system. Barr then spent ten years (1998- 2007) with the Los Angeles Dodgers as East Coast Supervisor where he was instrumental in the selection of All-Star catcher Russell Martin, starting pitcher Edwin Jackson and reliever Jonathan Broxton.

Barr was inducted into the Mid Atlantic Scouts Hall of Fame in November of 2008 and then inducted into the Professional Scouting Hall of Fame during the summer of 2009.

Yeshayah Goldfarb

VICE PRESIDENT OF BASEBALL OPERATIONS

Yeshayah Goldfarb enters his 16th season with the Giants. During his tenure he has become an integral part of a baseball operations team and decision making process that has led to five playoff seasons, four World Series appearances, three World Series championships, the development of the fourth most Major League players and the top winning percentage in minor league baseball. Goldfarb runs minor league operations on a day-to-day basis, which includes: running spring training camp, forming and managing rosters, conducting player evaluation, staff development, budget oversight, and acting as the affiliate team liaison. Additionally he provides statistical analysis on major league, minor league, and amateur players for purposes of roster construction, player acquisition and development. He is also responsible for seeking out and incorporating new technologies and data into baseball operations information systems.

Goldfarb graduated Cum Laude from the University of California, San Diego. A former pitcher and team captain, he played four seasons with the Tritons and was elected most inspirational Player by his teammates and also presented with the John Roth Memorial Award (Charlie Hustle) by the coaching staff in 2000.

The Berkeley, CA native began his career with the Giants as a scouting intern and video assistant in 2001 and was hired full time after the season as Assistant, Baseball Operations. Entering the 2016 season Goldfarb was promoted from Senior Director, Minor League Operations and Quantitative Analysis to Vice President of Baseball Operations.

Goldfarb and his wife, Miranda, have a daughter, Eliana, and a son, Ezra, and reside in Oakland, CA.

Shane Turner

DIRECTOR, PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Shane Turner begins his 21st season with the Giants, his third as the Director of Player Development. He is chiefly responsible for the assignment, development and evaluation of players throughout the Giants farm system.

From 2008-2013, Turner served as the Giants Coordinator of Minor League Instruction. In this role, Turner traveled to each of the Giants' minor league affiliates to work closely with SF's young players.

In his 20 years with the Giants, Turner has managed or coached at every level within the Giants' minor league system. He owns an overall record of 620-666 (.482) in 11 seasons as a minor league skipper, having posted a winning record in each of his initial four campaigns. The highlight of his managerial career came in 1998, when he led Class A Advanced San Jose to a league-best 83-57 record and the California League Championship, the first ever in San Jose's affiliation with San Francisco.

Turner played professionally for 11 years as an infielder in the minor league systems of Chicago-AL, Baltimore, San Francisco, Seattle, Philadelphia and New York-AL. He saw action on the Major League level with the Phillies in 1988, Orioles in 1991 and Mariners in 1992, finishing with a lifetime .236 batting average in 56 games. He singled in his Major League debut off former Giants pitcher Scott Garrelts.

Turner was originally selected by the Yankees in the sixth round of the 1985 June draft. He attended Cal State-Fullerton, where he finished ninth in the nation with 108 hits in 1985.

- Started 130 games (117 at first base, 13 in left field) and led all NL first basemen with a .997 fielding pct.
- Suffered a right groin strain in just the second game of the season on April 7 at Arizona...while playing first base in the bottom of the 4th inning, Belt turned and ran to chase a Nick Ahmed foul pop up...he immediately pulled up as the ball fell well beyond second baseman Joe Panik's reach...a trainer and manager Bruce Bochy came onto the field and after he tried to run a bit, he was taken out of the game...underwent an MRI exam the next day (April 8) that showed a low grade strain.
- Missed four games with the injury and was back in the starting lineup April 12 at San Diego.

- On June 25 vs. SD, became the second Giants player with two triples in a game at AT&T Park, joining Omar Vizquel (July 31, 2006).
- Recorded his second career multi-homer game on Aug. 1 at Texas...hit a solo homer off LHP Cole Hamels, who was making his Rangers debut, then homered in the 11th inning to help the Giants defeat the Rangers 9-7.
- Registered his third career multi-HR game Aug. 11 vs. Houston, hitting two HRs off Scott Kazmir.
- Was kneed in the head while sliding into second base on Sept. 15 vs. Cincinnati that caused concussion-like symptoms.
- Was pulled from the game in the 9th inning on Sept. 18 vs. Arizona because he had trouble focusing during the game... passed one round of concussion tests, but was tested again and was diagnosed with a concussion.
- Flew to Pittsburgh to meet with concussion specialist Michael Collins Sept. 24...was shut down the remainder of the season.
- Following the season had surgery to repair a torn meniscus...had played through the injury most of the season and was often seen walking through the clubhouse with a big ice pack on his knee.

- Was sent to the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center on Aug. 18 to visit Dr. Mickey Collins, who is considered one of the preeminent experts in sports concussions, in the hopes of gaining more clarity on his recurring concussion symptoms.
- Visited Dr. Mickey Collins again Sept. 11 and received clearance to accelerate his baseball activity...was removed from DL Sept. 16.
- 2013: His 16 home runs as a first baseman were the most by a Giant since J.T. Snow slugged 19 in 2000.
- Was named NL Player of the Week for the period ending Aug. 11, 2013...collected hits in each of his seven games, compiling a .440 (11-for-25) batting average, which was the eighth-highest mark among National Leaguers...led the NL in total bases (20) and runs scored (eight), tied for second in home runs (two) and hits, and posted the eighth-best slugging percentage (.800).
- Became the first Giants player in franchise history to have a five-hit, six-RBI and four runs scored game...accomplished this on Sept. 14, 2013 at Los Angeles in the Giants' 19-3 victory.
- 2011: Was the Giants' top prospect entering season and began the year on the club's Opening Day roster, but was transferred back and forth from the Major League level to the minors on six different occasions (optioned to minors three times, recalled three times).
- Was named the Giants' Harry S. Jordan award winner for being the best player in his first spring camp.

- Hit his first big league home run in his fifth career AB and sixth career plate appearance on April 1 at Los Angeles, hitting a three-run home run to dead center field off of RHP Chad Billingsley in the 4th inning...became the seventh Giants rookie to hit his first career home run at Dodger Stadium, joining Jack Hiatt (1965), John Montefusco (1974), Mark Leonard (1990), Armando Rios (1998), Todd Linden (2003) and Jason Ellison (2004).
- Sat out four games after getting hit by pitch on his left wrist from Cardinals' Trevor Miller on May 31 at Busch Stadium…X-rays originally came back negative, but it was later found that he had hairline fracture in his wrist…was placed on 15-day DL on June 4, activated July 7 and optioned to triple-A Fresno.

Belt's Giants Gems

- Born April 20, 1988, in Nacogdoches, Texas, in a house his father built.
- Parents are Darrell and Janice (pronounced Ja-neece). Has one younger brother, Cameron. His father is a geometry teacher at Brandon's high school, Hudson High in Lufkin. His mother is a hairdresser.
- At age 8, broke a neighbors mailbox with his head in a bike crash and had to pay for a new mailbox.
- As a senior at Hudson High, Belt earned district MVP, All-State and All-America honors. Standout pitcher thought he'd make the major leagues in that position.
- Had a verbal agreement with Cubs coming out of high school to be drafted in high rounds and paid high-round money. But Cubs didn't come through and Red Sox drafted him the 11th round. Disappointed,Belt went to college instead. "Everything I went through happened for a reason," he says. "I'm so happy I went to college. I matured so much as a baseball player and as a person and I made so many friends."
- Played one year for San Jacinto College in Houston before transferring to University of Texas. (Same two colleges Roger Clemens attended.) Majored in education. Helped propel Texas to the College World Series in 2009, where the Longhorns lost in championship game to LSU.
- Injuries as a junior at University of Texas forced him to give up pitching altogether. When his hitting dropped off – he was barely hitting .300 two thirds into his junior year – Brandon sank to the lowest point in his life. He had always wanted to be pro baseball player and now he was wondering if he would make it. Then his grandfather, James Peterson, died. His grandfather had been so instrumental in Brandon's development as a baseball player by loaning Brandon the money, whenever he asked, to go to showcase camps and tournaments. "When I was flying back from the funeral, I decided to play the rest of the season for him," Brandon says. From that series on, he started to play better. He played well in the Big 12 tournament, which helped him get drafted. Another thing that helped was the veteran eye of Giants scout Doug Mapson, who had seen Belt hit a home run in the Cape Cod all-star game, turning around a 98 mph fastball. "It was in there," Mapson said. "You can't make that up."
- Was drafted twice (Braves and Red Sox) before signing in 2009 with Giants, who picked him in the fifth round.
- 2010 rookie season: Advanced through three levels, hitting over .350 with 23 homers and 112 RBI. In early 2011, he was ranked No. 26 among the Top 50 Prospects in baseball by MLB.com. (Contrast with a year earlier when Baseball America didn't even have him in the top 20 among Giants prospects entering 2010.)
- Married Hudson High sweetheart Haylee Stephenson Dec. 3, 2010, at Providence Baptist Church in Lufkin. The groom's cake was three tiers of chocolate with a Giants cap on top and alternating Longhorns and Giants logos on the sides. Haylee majored in business communications at Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches.

2015 SEASON

- Spent his third professional season with the San Jose Giants (A), going 2-1 with a 2.88 ERA in 20 games (five starts)...struck out 51 batters in just 25.0 innings pitched.
- Began the season on the disabled list with a strained lat...was also on the DL from May 22-June 13 (bicep).
- Moved into the starting rotation upon his return from his second DL stint and went 0-1 with a 4.66 ERA in five starts.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- 2014: After missing his first two professional seasons due to injury, split the 2014 campaign between Class A Augusta and Class A Advanced San Jose, going 2-3 with a 3.57 ERA along with 71 strikeouts and just 16 walks in 37 relief appearances.
- Working on a strict schedule in an effort to get him through the year without any significant injury setbacks (never pitching more than 1.0 inning plus multiple days off in between outings), he fanned 71 batters in 35.1 innings, mainly in Augusta, for an 18.1 strikeouts per 9.0 innings ratio.
- Was promoted to San Jose in late August for the Giants' playoff push and made four relief appearances in the Cal League.
- Was added to the Giants' 40-man roster in November 2014.
- 2012-2013: Missed the 2012 and 2013 seasons after undergoing shoulder surgery to repair a torn labrum...suffered a tear in his right labrum and underwent shoulder surgery before throwing his first professional pitch.
- Had impressed coaches and staff in his first spring training in 2012, however about 4.0-5.0 innings in and about a week before breaking for teams, he felt a sharp pain in his shoulder…had lost a lot of velocity and after four months of rehab it was decided that the best route was going to be labrum surgery.
- Following the surgery he was given a 33% chance of ever throwing again.
- His rehabilitation should have lasted 12-13 months, slating him for a return to action in 2013, however more setbacks moved his return to spring 2014, where he lit up 100 mph on radar guns…he made it through camp healthy and was assigned to Augusta where he fired his first professional pitch April 3, 2014.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Was drafted in the seventh round in 2011 out of Pittsburgh.
- Underwent Tommy John surgery his senior year at Coughlin High School...the surgery was performed by Mets orthopedist Dr. David Altcheck...had blown out his elbow while trying to show off his strong arm during showcase tournaments.
- Red shirted his freshman year at the University of Pittsburgh and then tore his right meniscus during an offseason workout before his sophmore season...two weeks later, Black and a roommate went to get food at a spot a block from their apartment and they were jumped, with Black suffering a broken right hand during the attack.

2015 SEASON

- Triple-A rookie posted a 2.85 ERA - the best in the Pacific Coast League - with a 10-4 record in 23 games...his 123.0 innings pitched gave him just enough (115.2 innings pitched is the minimum) to qualify, but it took until game 143 for Blackburn to solidify his place atop the league's pitching and ERA leaders.

- Was bumped from the starting rotation when Giants starter Matt Cain arrived in Sacramento for his first rehab stint.

- 2013: Finished fourth in the California League in ERA (3.65) and strikeouts (138).
- Was named to the California League mid-season All-Star squad.
- Was named the California League Pitcher of the Week for the week ending July 28.

- Grew up in Venezuela with two brothers – a twin and one seven years younger. His twin, Gregory, played in the Angels and Pirates minor leagues as a catcher but left after a few years to become a physical education teacher. Younger brother, Gregsman, works as a jobs recruiter for the government. Yes, the three brothers are Gregor, Gregory and Gregsman. Why? "I still don't know. My mom said she just liked the names. She even named our house The Gregs and put up a sign."
- Gregor's mother died of brain cancer at 47.
- His father sold insurance and now owns a taxi company.
- Gregor married his childhood sweetheart in 2010. They have a son named Gregor Alejendro, and Gregor has a another son from a previous relationship named Grenyer. (His brother Gregory's son is named Greyver)...Gregor and his wife, Zulay, had a baby daughter Grecia (Grace) Del Valle this past offseason (October).
- "I never wanted to do anything but play baseball." Signed with the Braves at the age of 16 and made major-league debut eight years later, in 2008. He stayed in the majors most of that season and parts of the next two. Traded to Kansas City in the summer of 2010. Between the Braves and the Royals that year, he hit. 283 – his best season ever.
- Then it all fell apart. He didn't spend a single day in the major leagues in 2011. Kansas City started him in Triple A then traded him to the Washington Nationals, who also put him in Triple A. Developed bone spurs in his wrist halfway through the season and had to stop playing. "It was the worst year of my career."
- But before he went on the DL, former Giants catcher Brian Johnson, a major-league scout for the Giants, saw him play in Triple-A and sent the front office a report that showed a low batting average (from the bone spurs) but a high on-base percentage.
- The Nationals released him Nov. 2. "For two weeks I didn't have a team. I didn't know what was going to happen," Gregor says. The Giants, short on outfielders, signed him to a minor-league contract Nov. 17 while he was playing winter ball in Venezuela. He became MVP of the league playing for Tiburones de la Guaira. Giants hitting coach Hensley Meulens, who was coaching in the league, also put in a good word with the Giants. The Marlins were also offering a minor-league contract. "Between Bam-Bam and Pablo Sandoval, they convinced me I should sign with the Giants."
- Impressing everyone with his bat and speed, Blanco surprised everyone by making the 2012 Opening Day roster.
- Made a spectacular catch to preserve Matt Cain's perfect game in 2012. In the dugout, Cain came up to him and said, "What are you doing playing there? How'd you make that?" Gregor said, "I'm there for you, man. I did it for you."
- When Cain was honored during a pre-game ceremony later on, he presented Blanco with a photo of the celebration and note thanking him. Gregor told him, "That's my job to catch the ball. And I hope it's not the last time we do something special like that. I hope we can do it again."
- In 2012, Gregor's father flew from Venezuela to meet Gregor in Atlanta for the series against the Braves. It was the first time Hernan had seen his son play in the major leagues. "And I hit a home run in that series, so he was really proud and happy."

- Was summoned from double-A, where he was originally scheduled to start an Eastern League playoff opener on Sept. 9... learned that he was that night's starting pitcher roughly three hours prior to game time, and retired his first four batters faced before giving up a home run to Chase Headley in the 2nd inning...gave up another solo shot to Kevin Kouzmanoff in 4th frame...marked the first time in 2009 (minor leagues included) that he had surrendered a pair of HRs in a single contest.

- Is the 26th pitcher (28th time) to win the World Series MVP Award, the first in Giants franchise history and the first pitcher overall since Philadelphia's Cole Hamels in 2008...Bumgarner joins former teammate Edgar Renteria (2010) and teammate Pablo Sandoval (2012) as the only World Series MVP winners in Giants history.

*Major League Record

- In 52.2 innings in the 2014 postseason, he permitted just six earned runs (1.03 ERA) on 28 hits with six walks and 45 strikeouts...among pitchers with at least 30.0 innings pitched in a single postseason, his ERA of 1.03 ranks third behind Burt Hooton of the Dodgers (0.82 over 33.0 IP in 1981) and Atlanta's John Smoltz (0.95 over 38.0 IP in 1996).
- Pitched at least 7.0 innings in each of his six starts, becoming the second pitcher in history to do so, joining Arizona's Curt Schilling (six starts in 2001).
- Bumgarner's road scoreless streak in the postseason also ended at a record 32.2 innings.
- In the Wild Card game at Pittsburgh, he became the third pitcher to notch a shutout with at least 10 strikeouts in a winner-take-all postseason game, joining Sandy Koufax (for the Dodgers against the Twins in the 1965 World Series) and Justin Verlander (for the Tigers against the A's in the 2012 ALDS).
- 2012: Tossed consecutive World Series Games of at least 7.0-scoreless innings with at least six strikeouts in the postseason…the only pitchers in MLB history to accomplish that were Christy Mathewson of the Giants in Games 1 and 3 of the 1905 World Series; Bill Hallahan of the Cardinals in Game 3 in 1930 and Game 2 in 1931; Don Larsen of the Yankees in Game 5 in 1956 and Game 3 in 1958; and Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers in Games 5 and 7 in 1965.
- 2010: Had one of the most memorable postseasons of any 21-year-old, going 2-0 with a 2.18 ERA 5er, 20.2ip) in four games.
- Earned his first career postseason victory in Game 4 of the LDS vs. Atlanta on Oct. 11, a contest that SF won 3-2 to advance to the LCS...tossed 6.0 innings and yielded two runs on six hits...became the youngest Giants pitcher in franchise history to win a postseason game at 21 years and 71 days old.
- Was the first rookie starting pitcher to win a clinching game on the road in the postseason since Dave Righetti (Yankees at A's, Game 3 of ALCS) and Fernando Valenzuela (Dodgers at Expos, Game 5 of NLCS) pitched their teams to World Series in 1981.
- In Game 4 of World Series on Oct. 31, 2010, Bumgarner joined teammate Buster Posey as the first all-rookie starting battery in a World Series game since Spec Shea and Yogi Berra started for the Yankees in Game 1 of the 1947 World Series (Elias).
- At 21 years, 91 days old, was the fifth-youngest pitcher to start a World Series game.
- Became the fourth-youngest starter to win a World Series game as the Giants took a 3-1 series lead over the Rangers on Oct. 31, 2010 with a 4-0 shutout victory…logged 8.0 innings and didn't allow an earned run becoming the youngest to ever accomplish that feat…Bumgarner's dominance gave the Giants their fourth shutout of the postseason, tying 1998 Yankees and 1905 New York Giants for the most in a single postseason in Major League history.
- Only three starting pitchers younger than Bumgarner (21 years, 91 days old) have ever won a game in World Series history – Bullet Joe Bush (20 years, 316 days) for 1913 Athletics, Jim Palmer (20 years, 356 days) for 1966 Orioles and Fernando Valenzuela (20 years, 356 days) for 1981 Dodgers.
- Only one starting pitcher younger than Bumgarner ever tossed at least 8.0-shutout innings in a World Series game – Jim Palmer, who was 100 days younger when he blanked Dodgers in Game 2 of 1966 World Series.

Bumgarner's Giants Gems

- From Hudson, NC, a town of 2800 people 90 minutes northwest of Charlotte. "You wave at everybody you see, pretty much," he says.
- 10th pick in 2007 draft out of South Caldwell HS.
- Madison followed the 2007 MLB draft in the main administration office of his high school along with his coaches, entire baseball team and some classmates. He had just finished baseball practice. Picked 10th overall. That night, he and his family celebrated at a Mexican restaurant, where people congratulated him all night and took pictures. "I didn't have a whole lot of time to eat," he says. "I'll remember that day for a long time."
- With his $2 million signing bonus, paid off his mother's house and bought himself and then-fiancé, Ali, new trucks. (He replaced his 1999 Dodge truck that had 150,000 miles on it.)
- Married high school sweetheart Ali Saunders on Valentine's Day 2010. The story of giving her a five-day-old bull calf as a wedding present has been exaggerated. He says Ali wanted a calf and he bought her one.
- While Madison played in the minor leagues, Ali studied stenography at Caldwell Community College in N.C.
- His father's family goes back 100 years in Caldwell County. One area is called "Bumtown" for all the Bumgarners living on both sides of Deal Mill Road. It's four miles southeast of Hudson and 10 miles northwest of Hickory. Madison's father Kevin Bumgarner has lived most of his life along Deal Mill Road. "Typical of many BumTownians," the local Hickory Daily Record reports, "Kevin lives about 100 yards across the road from his mother Mary's house, which is where he grew up. Likewise, Madison bought a 38-acre farm about three miles down the road, and pursues his off-season passion of raising and riding horses."
- Ali grew up near Hudson, off Pine Mountain Road, about two miles from Bumtown.
- Called Maddy by most family and hometown friends. Called MadBum by teammates.
- His mother, Debbie, underwent major surgery just to be able to conceive him, after having an earlier family of three children. After 5½ hours of surgery to reverse a tubal ligation, she says doctors gave her a 38 percent chance of being able to have additional babies. "Mr. Madison was quite a miracle," she says. Her other children were 18, 16 and 14 when Madison was born.
- His first word was "ball." A baby picture at 15 months, shows him with a baseball in his left hand.
- Since he was 11 years old, he has been a member of the non-denominational Christian Fellowship Chapel in Granite Falls. He prays before each inning he pitches. "I don't do it to help me through the inning but rather to be a witness to God and maybe help someone who looks up to us (players)." He was saved at the age of 15, along with his brother, at the end of a five-day church revival. "I know I would not be where I am right now if not for God." He says, "I try to live a good Christian lifestyle. I don't drink and party and cuss or any of that stuff, and I just try to be a good example."
- Fishes and hunts deer and bear. Only kills what he eats. Says he can cook venison – on the grill – but had to leave the bear meat to people who know what they're doing. Say bear meat can be really greasy if you don't cook it right. Has killed one bear. Mounted the head on his wall.
- At age 17, he began competing with Ali's father and brother in team-roping. In 2010, reliever Jeremy Affeldt invited Bumgarner and his wife, Ali, to stay at his Alamo house during a homestand; Affeldt wanted company while his wife stayed in Spokane, Wash., after the birth of their second child. "He practiced roping cows by roping my lawn furniture," Affeldt said. "He's good at it. I'd come home and he'd be spinning this rope," Affeldt said. "He's lassoing all my furniture. Then he wants to make me walk this weird, funky walk while he's trying to lasso my foot."
- Parents divorced when he was 12. He lived afterward with his mother, who works in the accounting office for Pepsi. His father is a college baseball umpire and night-shift employee of food wholesaler MDI.
- He has two half-brothers from his mother's previous marriage. All still live in Hudson. Both brothers work in the bubble-wrap plant in Hudson.
- His half-sister Dena Byrd died in 2010 at age 36. "We grew up in the same house. She was a good girl. I loved her to death."
- When he went to rookie camp in Arizona for a month in 2007, he had a very difficult time. He missed his family so much that quitting baseball "certainly crossed my mind." Bobby Evans, the director of player personnel – and also from North Carolina – helped him through his rough patch. By the time Madison returned to Arizona for spring training, he was fine. "It seemed like I had been doing this all my life."
- Bumgarner loved playing in Augusta for the Giants' Low-A club because he could go home on off days and his parents, grandparents, siblings, fiancé (now wife) and her family could attend most of his games there. In San Jose for Single A, Ali stayed with him for two of the four weeks he was there; he didn't live with a host family like most players but instead stayed at the Pruneyard Inn.
- His teammates in Double A Norwich, where he spent the 2009 summer, nicknamed him "The Future."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- 2014: Had an injury plaqued season, landing on the disabled list three separate times, with his last DL stint ending his season following the All-Star break...overall, went just 2-7 with a 4.18 ERA (42er, 90.1ip) in 15 games/starts.
- His DL stints included a cut on his right index finger, a strained right hamstring and right elbow inflammation, which he ended up having season-ending surgery on to remove bone chips from his right elbow.
- Was scratched from his scheduled start on April 29 vs. San Diego after cutting the tip of his right index finger after making a sandwich in the Giants' clubhouse kitchen...after the ham and cheese sandwich was fully assembled, he grabbed, dropped and tried to catch a knife he hoped to use to cut it...the cut did not require stitches, but kept him from taking the mound because it occurred at a spot where he released pitches from.
- Was placed on the 15-day DL May 5 (retroactive to April 24) to May 10 with the cut on his finger…missed 15 games (total of two starts)…was scheduled to start May 5 at Pittsburgh, but the cut had not healed sufficiently and was placed on the DL.
- Strained his right hamstring May 21 at Colorado and was removed after 3.0-scoreless innings…suffered the injury on his last pitch of the 3rd inning after striking out Charlie Blackmon with his 36th pitch…felt a twinge in his hamstring...underwent an MRI and was diagnosed with a Grade 1 strain (mild strain).

- Was skipped from his scheduled start May 26 vs. Chicago-NL due to the hamstring injury.

- Landed on the 15-day disabled list for the third time on July 21 with right elbow inflammation related to bone chips floating in his elbow…the fragments were first discovered in 2010, but he had been able to pitch with them without discomfort.
- Received opinions from three different surgeons about his elbow, including Dr. James Andrews, Giants orthopedist Dr. Ken Akizuki and Mets orthopedist Dr. David Altchek…it was recommended that he have surgery to remove the bone chips from his pitching elbow...underwent season-ending surgery on Aug. 11.
- Had arthroscopic surgery on his right ankle Sept. 27 to remove a bone spur...the surgery was performed by Dr. Ken Akizuki and Dr. Larry Oloff in San Francisco.
- 2013: Was placed on the DL for the first time in his career Aug. 23 with a right forearm contusion (Aug. 23-Sept. 7)...in his nine years in a Giants uniform he had never missed a start due to injury and had been skipped in the rotation just once.
- Matched his career-high by allowing nine runs (all of which came in the 4th inning) in his second start of the season on April 7, 2013 vs. St. Louis...the Cardinals sent 13 batters to the plate in the inning, collecting eight hits, two walks and a HBP.
- Cain became the first Giants pitcher to give up at least nine runs in an inning since Ernie Shore gave up 10 runs, three earned, in his Major League debut with the New York Giants in 1912...Cain was the first Giants starting pitcher to give up nine runs in an inning since Jack Cronin in 1902.
- Left his start August 22 vs. Pittsburgh in the 4th inning after getting hit on his right forearm by a line drive off the bat of Gaby Sanchez that went for a 1-4-3 putout...ended up with a contusion on his right forearm and X-rays were negative, however was placed on the 15-day DL for the first time in his career the next day...had made 261 starts before his first DL stint.
- Missed a total of two starts and was reinstated off the DL Sept. 7.
- 2012: Tossed the 22nd perfect game in Major League Baseball history June 13 vs. Houston...it was the first perfect game in the 130th-season history of the Giants franchise.
- His perfect game marked the 14th no-hitter in Giants franchise history and the sixth in SF-era history (since 1958).
- Was one of three pitchers to have a perfect game in 2012, joining Philip Humber of the Chicago White Sox on April 21 at Seattle and Felix Hernandez of the Mariners on Aug. 15 vs. Tampa Bay...marked the first time in Major League history that three perfect games have been recorded in the same season.
- Fanned 14 batters and threw 125 (86 strikes) pitches in his perfect game, a 10-0 victory against the visiting Houston Astros…the 14 strikeouts were a career-high for Cain and tied the record for the most strikeouts in a perfect game, set by Hall of Famer Sandy Koufax in 1965….it was the highest strikeout total in a no-hitter since Hall of Famer Nolan Ryan fanned 16 Blue Jays on May 1, 1991.

- 2009: Was named to his first career All-Star team along with Tim Lincecum, marking the third time in SF-era history that SF had a pair of starting pitchers on the All-Star roster…did not pitch in ASG July 14 at St. Louis' Busch Stadium and was actually replaced on the roster by Pittsburgh's Zach Duke, after suffering a right elbow contusion in his start prior to break July 11 vs. San Diego…had to leave that July 11 start in the second inning after being hit by a line drive off the bat of pitcher Tim Stauffer with two out in the second…that mishap prevented him from pitching in his first-ever All-Star Game.
- Was one of seven pitchers in SF-era history (eighth occurrence) to win 12 of his first 14 decisions, joining Gaylord Perry (1966), Juan Marichal (1966, 1968), Rick Reuschel (1989), John Burkett (1993), Shawn Estes (1997) and Jason Schmidt (2004)…only Perry, Marichal (twice) and Burkett advanced to 13-2.
- Was awarded annual "Willie Mac Award" prior to the game Sept. 25.
- 2007: Hammered his first two career HRs to become the first SF pitcher to have two in a season since Brad Hennessey in 2005…clubbed his first clout Aug. 8 off Washington's Tim Redding, before launching a solo shot off Chicago's Carlos Zambrano on Aug. 23.
- 2006: In his first full season in the big leagues, led all NL rookies with 13 wins, while pacing freshmen with 179 strikeouts

- His 13 wins were tied for third on SF rookie list, equalling Laskey (1982) and Ryan Jensen (2002)…Montefusco set mark with 15 wins in 1975, while Burkett is second with 14 in 1990.
- Posted the second-highest single season strikeout total by a SF rookie with 179…only Mathewson (221 in 1901) and Montefusco (215 in 1975) struck out more batters during their rookie campaign in franchise history…joined Monefusco (1975) and D'Acquisto (167 in 1974) as only SF hurlers to lead NL rookies in strikeouts.

- 2005: Earned his second consecutive USA Today Organizational Player of the Year honors for excellent work at triple-A Fresno, before bursting onto ML scene as SF made a late season run for the NL West flag.
- Had his contract purchased from Fresno Aug. 26, making big league debut Aug. 29.
- Posted incredible numbers as second-youngest player in the Majors over final months, behind only SEA's Felix Hernandez (19 years old)…overall, was the sixth youngest player to make his debut in big leagues during season.
- At 20 years and 332 days old when he took the mound on Aug. 29 vs. Colorado, became the youngest Giants pitcher in his first big league start since Mark Grant April 27, 1984 at Cincinnati (20 years, 185 days).
- Earned his first big league victory on Sept. 4 at Arizona, allowing one run over 7.0 innings to post a 3-2 victory…at 20 years and 319 days Sept. 4, became the fourth-youngest SF Giant to win a game and youngest since Mark Grant was 20.318 in 1984.
- 2004: Named USA Today Organizational Player of Year after going 13-5 with a 2.67 ERA (47er, 158.2ip) in 28 starts during dominating campaign with Class A Advanced San Jose and double-A Norwich.
- Was selected to participate in Futures Game as part of All-Star festivities in Houston.

POSTSEASON CAREER

- 2012: Started five games throughout the postseason, going 2-2 with a 3.60 ERA (12er, 30.0ip).
- Started Game 1 of the Division Series vs. Cincinnati just a few months after pitching a perfect game…became the fifth pitcher to appear in a postseason game after throwing a perfect game earlier that season…the first three were Sandy Koufax in 1965, David Wells in 1998 and David Cone in 1999…the fourth, Roy Halladay, followed up his 2010 perfecto by no-hitting the Reds in Game 1 of the DS.
- Earned the loss in Game 1 of the DS after allowing three runs on five hits in 5.0 innings…his scoreless inning streak to begin his postseason career ended at 23.1 innings, the second-longest in Giants franchise history and the fifth-longest in Major League history.
- Earned the win in Game 5 of SF's clinching series win against the Reds.
- Was the winning pitcher in Game 7 of the LCS vs. St. Louis…became the second pitcher to record a win in two winner-take-all games in one postseason, joining Chris Carpenter, who did it in 2011 for St. Louis.
- 2010: Was brilliant in the 2010 postseason, tossing 21.1 innings without allowing an earned run, which was the sixth-longest streak in Major League history, and second-longest in Giants history, trailing Christy Mathewson…overall, went 2-0 with a 0.00 ERA (0er, 21.1ip) in first three career postseason contests.
- Threw commanding 7.0-shutout innings in the Giants' Game 3 win over the Phillies in LCS on Oct. 19...became the first pitcher to not allow an earned run in either of his first two postseason starts since Steve Avery accomplished it in 1991.
- Pitched 7.0-shutout innings in the Giants' 9-0 Game 2 victory in the World Series vs. Texas on Oct. 28...marked the third postseason start of Cain's career in which he didn't allow an earned run…only three other pitchers began their postseason careers with three-straight games (all starts), in which they were not charged with an earned run: Christy Mathewson tossed three-straight shutouts for the Giants in the 1905 World Series; Waite Hoyt accomplished feat for Yankees in the 1921 World Series, allowing two unearned runs; and the Mets' Jon Matlack did not give up an earned run in his first three postseason starts in 1973 (three unearned runs).
- Joined Christy Mathewson as only Giants pitchers with three starts in the same postseason in which they allowed no ER.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Married (Chelsea Williams, November 2009)…daughters: Hartley Mae, Dec. 12, 2010 and Everly Bre, Oct. 29, 2013.
- Graduated from Houston (Germantown, TN) High School in 2002.
- Was named Tennessee's Gatorade High School Player of the Year after dominating senior year in which he posted a 7-3 record with a 1.02 ERA in 13 games.
- Received a key to the city from Mayor Ed Lee in a special pre-game ceremony on June 26, 2012, following his perfect game…Lee also declared June 13 "Matt Cain Day".
- Prior to his start on June 18 at Los Angeles-AL (his next start following his perfect game), Japanese sporting goods maker Mizuno gave him one of the most unique gifts he has ever received for a baseball achievement – a samurai sword…a traditional Japanese honor, the sword was given to Cain for making history while wearing a Mizuno glove.

Cain's Giants Gems

- Was always ahead of his peers, at least in baseball. At the age of 5 in T-ball, while the other kids are chasing butterflies and tossing clods of dirt at each other, Matt pulled off THREE unassisted triple plays during the seven-game season. He had already been playing ball with his brother's friends, who were three years older.
- Moved from Alabama to Memphis at age 10. Family lived on a 50-acre plot of land about 30 miles from the city. Had two horses. Lots of wildlife: wild turkeys, deer, rabbits, foxes. At one time, they raised goats but gave it up because the coyotes kept eating the babies.
- Likes hunting and fishing, skeet shooting and anything outdoors.
- Grandfather on his mother's side was big influence.
- His baseball idol growing up was Frank Thomas.
- Began getting attention from college scouts in his junior year. The pro scouts discovered him his senior year when they had come to watch a different pitcher, who was hurt and couldn't play. Suddenly there were scouts two or three times a week at the Cain household asking everything they could about Matt's family and friends, making sure they were making a wise investment.
- Began his pro career at the age of 17. Very homesick. A catcher took him under his wing – Brian Munhull – who roomed with Matt and taught him how to keep a checkbook, shop for groceries, etc.
- He was struck by the fast pace of San Francisco when he first came to the Giants. Why are people driving so fast? Why are people going from one appointment to the next to the next? "Always so much to do in one day," he says.
- Yet in 2008 he bought a hilltop home in Noe Valley with a floor-to-ceiling view of the city. (He already had bought a small home across the street from his high school in Tennessee.)
- From a 2009 story in the Chronicle: "He grew up on a 25-acre farm riding horses, driving pickups and dove hunting with his bird dog andsays he's the least likely guy to fall in love with the city. As a kid growing up in Alabama and Tennessee, he never lived in a town with more than 3,000 people. He liked baseball, but never followed it on TV - preferring instead to spend his days outdoors mountain biking with his older brother or "seeing what kind of trouble we could get into," like rolling down the hills in the horse's feed barrels.
- He met his future wife, Chelsea Williams, at a steakhouse in Arizona during spring training, where Williams, a sociology student at Arizona State, was waitressing. Cain needed the whole evening to work up the nerve to say hello.
- The two were married in fall 2009 and had their first child, daughter Hartley Mae, in December 2010 and then their second daughter, Everly Bre, in October 2013.
- His mother taught for 20 years; now she and her brother own and run a tuxedo rental store.
- His dad has worked for a window and door wholesaler since he was 20 in sales and management. Mom and Dad grew up in Memphis. But they moved from South Carolina, to Alabama to Tennessee for Tom's job.
- Loves to go duck and deer hunting from November to January.
- Also is a great golfer. Always wins the long-ball contest.
- From Lane McCarter, high school pitching coach who nicknamed Matt "Big Daddy Cain." He says Germantown is a big baseball area, but McCarter hadn't heard anything about Matt before he arrived in high school. He was more a position player than a pitcher, though he wanted to pitch. As soon as McCarter saw him throw, he began using him on the mound, as well in the infield. Though a great athlete, Matt never played football or basketball. Focused from early on baseball. Father watched every game from a lawn chair he set up behind the backstop. During Matt's senior year, 15 to 25 scouts came to every game he pitched. One month, McCarter got so many calls from scouts, his cell phone bill was $1600 – a huge chunk of money on a schoolteacher's salary.
- Pitched a perfect game June 13, 2012, the 22nd in ML history. His parents watched from Tennessee: "Well, you jump up when you realize he really did it, and you're watching it on TV, and it's far away and you wish you were there," Dolores Cain told the SF Chronicle. "But you jump up and down, and then you realize you're crying. Both of us were just crying and hugging each other, because he did it. And that was always his dream. It's a little boy's dream."
- He delivered the Top 10 list on Letterman the following week. Top 10 Things I Want to Achieve Now that I've Pitched a Perfect Game: 10. Throw a perfect game with my other arm. 9. Convert the mound into an organic vegetable garden. 8. Discover a cure for groin pulls. 7. Open my dream salon. 6. Catch a line drive with my mouth. 5. Fix the economy, just kidding, that's impossible. 4. Pitch an inning without my pants. 3. Appear on Jay Leno's "Ten at Ten." 2. Throw a hole in one. 1. Win the contest to replace Regis Philbin.

Casilla's Giants Gems

- From Palenque in the Dominican Republic, the same town as former teammate Juan Uribe, who is a year older and made it to the pros three years before Santiago. Santiago remembers once going to Uribe's house as a child and asking him for baseball socks (which Uribe gave him).
- Santiago's first gloves were homemade: thick cardboard into which he cut three holes for his ring, middle and index fingers. He received his first real glove in a community giveaway by late Giants shortstop Jose Uribe (Juan's uncle). He whittled bats from wood.
- Santiago is the seventh of 12 children to subsistence farmers.
- His brother Jose – nine years younger than Santiago – was a relief pitcher in the Giants farm system. The Giants signed him in 2006 when Santiago was with the A's. "Jose had a dream," Santiago told CSN Bay Area. "He said, `I see you and me playing together in San Francisco.' I said, `Really?' When they wanted to sign me, I knew this was the place. Jose already told me so."
- The Giants signed Santiago in 2009 as a minor league free agent coming off a poor season with the A's.
- In 2014, Jose was invited to Major League spring camp, so the brothers were in baseball together for the first time. (Jose was sent down after a few weeks.) "The dream is to be in the big leagues together," Jose has said.
- Santiago is called Willie back home in the Dominican.
- Santiago signed with the A's in 2000 as an amateur free agent. By 2004, he had not progressed beyond Single A. Then in 2004 he flew threw Single A, Double A, Triple A and ended the season by pitching four games with Oakland. Santiago says he had a dream that 2004 would be a magical year. "I saw two people who looked like angels and they said, 'You're going to the big leagues this year.' "He arrived in Oakland "and I saw Barry Zito, someone I'd seen on TV, and I thought, 'Oh my god.' "
- He pitched under the name Jairo Garcia from 2000 to 2005. He was told that American scouts like to sign young players from the Dominican, so he took a name and birth certificate from a friend who was three years younger. "That broke my heart (to use someone else's name)," he says. "I didn't want to play baseball like that. I feel bad because it was cheating." He constantly worried about being found out, either by baseball or by immigration.
- He came clean in 2006, revealing his real name and age (which is currently 34). Immigration is still an issue, however. He missed the first few weeks of spring training waiting for a visa.
- Signed a minor-league contract with the Giants before the 2010 season and joined the team May 21 when Brandon Medders went on the DL.
- He attributes his current success to adding a curve ball playing under general manager Moises Alou for Escogido in the Dominican league. The team won the Caribbean Series.
- Santiago is married and has a daughter and a son.

Crawford's Giants Gems

- Lived in Menlo Park until the age of 7, then moved to Pleasanton.
- Grew up a Giants fan because his father was a Giants fan and season-ticket holder at Candlestick (seats on the third-base side). His father took a 9-month-old Brandon to the 1987 playoffs and said his son wasn't bothered at all by the loud noise.
- There is a now-famous photo that a Chronicle photographer caught of a four-year-old Brandon utterly forlorn at what was thought to be the final series in 1992 before the Giants moved to Tampa.
- Brandon remembers as a fan getting to walk on the field at the 'Stick for the second-to-last game ever played there. Remembers being at the playoff game against the Mets in 2000 when JT Snow hit a home run. And went to one game of the 2002 WS.
- His favorite player was Royce Clayton because he played shortstop. Also liked Will Clark, Barry Bonds and Kirt Manwaring. But favorite player was Alex Rodriguez.
- Began playing baseball "as soon as I could walk." His father coached him through Little League.
- Father Michael works in the contracts department for Northrop Grumman, a global security company, in San Jose.
- His mother Lynn is a fifth-grade teacher at Vintage Hills Elementary in Pleasanton.
- Crawford starred at Foothill High in Pleasanton, where he batted .357 over a three-year varsity career. He also played quarterback and safety on the Foothill High football team
- Brandon majored in physiological science during his three years at UCLA.
- Was MVP of UCLA baseball team 2006 and 2007.
- Crawford faced Lincecum in college and struck out three times in Lincecum's 18-K two-hit, 5-0 complete-game victory on March 31, 2006.
- Broke his hand summer 2010 and missed eight weeks of the season with Double A Richmond.
- Hit a grand-slam in his big-league debut in May 2011in Milwaukee.
- Married to Jalynne Dantzscher, a former gymnast at UCLA. Jalynnes's sister Jamie was on the U.S. Olympic gymnastics team that won the bronze medal in Sydney in 2000. Jalynne also has a twin sister, Janelle, who also competed in gymnastics. For the 2012 season, Jamie and Janelle shared a three-bedroom rental house in Walnut Creek with Jalynne and Brandon. Janelle was teaching first grade in Pleasanton and Jamie was coaching gymnastics.
- More sports-in-the-family: Brandon's sister Amy – a former softball player at UCLA – is engaged to another former Bruin, Garrit Cole, the Pirates first-round pick in the 2011 draft, now a starter in the Majors.

- Became the first pitcher in Major League history, since 1900, to throw at least 7.0 innings while allowing five hits or fewer in each of his first nine appearances of the season...since the earned run became an official statistic (1912 in NL, 1913 in AL), through the first nine starts of a season no Major League pitcher ever produced an ERA and opponents' batting avearge as low as Cueto's totals (1.25, .135).
- From July 8-Aug. 15 produced a career-high seven-game winning streak that included a five-start winning streak from July 26-Aug. 15, which tied his career high (July 8-Aug. 2, 2012).
- Made only four spring training starts (1-1, 4.61) because of irritation in his right scapula.

- For the second straight season received the Johnny Vander Meer Award as the club's Most Outstanding Pitcher.
- Was part of a staff in which five pitchers started 161 of the club's 162 games (Bronson Arroyo, Homer Bailey, Mat Latos, Mike Leake)...the Reds became only the eighth team in Major League history to produce five pitchers with at least 30 starts each (1977 Dodgers, 1980 A's, 1993 Dodgers, 2003 Mariners, 2005 Cardinals, 2005 Indians, 2006 White Sox)...the Reds used six or fewer starting pitchers in a season for only the fourth time since 1900 (1900, 1942, 1951, 2012) and were the only team in the Major Leagues in 2012 to use as few as six starting pitchers.
- Individually he ranked among the NL leaders in wins (3rd), ERA (3rd), starts (T1st), innings pitched (5th), home ERA (2.79, 9th), road ERA (2.77, 3rd), day ERA (1.99, 2nd), fewest walks per 9ip (2.0, 9th), winning percentage (.679, 10th) and hit batsmen (12, 2nd).
- As a batter, tied Phillies OF Juan Pierre for the National League lead in sacrifice bunts (17).
- His 2.78 ERA was the lowest by a Reds pitcher since Jose Rijo's 2.48 in 1993 and his 19 wins were the most by a Reds pitcher since LHP Danny Jackson in 1988 (23-8, 2.73) and the most by a Reds RHP since Jack Billingham in 1974 (19-11, 3.94).
- Became the first Reds pitcher with at least 19 wins and an ERA below 3.00 since Jackson in '88 and the first right-hander since Jim Maloney in 1965 (20-9, 2.54).
- When he earned the 5-2 victory on Aug. 28 at Arizona he became the first Reds pitcher to become the Major Leagues' first 17-game winner since Ewell Blackwell in 1947.
- From June 12-July 22 threw 23.0 consecutive scoreless innings at home, the second-longest scoreless streak ever at GABP (Carlos Zambrano, 30ip, July 29, 2007-April 10, 2010).
- In the first Opening Day start of his career threw 7.0 shutout innings to earn the 4-0 win vs. Miami...was the first Reds homegrown pitcher to start Opening Day since Brett Tomko in 1999.
- 2011: Received the BBWAA's Johnny Vander Meer Award as the club's Most Outstanding Pitcher.
- Posted a sterling 2.31 ERA in 24 starts around injuries that began and ended his season.
- Began the year on the 15-day disabled list with irritation in his right biceps/triceps...following four rehab appearances for Louisville (April 16-May 1), made all 24 of his appearances for the Reds between May 8-Sept. 14 before he suffered a strained right latissimus dorsi muscle 46 pitches and 3.2 innings into his final start.

- Through his final appearance led the Majors in ERA but fell 6.0 innings shy of qualifying for the official title.
- Made four appearances in spring training before the onset of the biceps/triceps injury.
- 2010: Established career highs in victories (12) and innings pitched (185.2) and tied his career high with 31 starts...his .632 winning percentage was 10th-best in the National League...led the staff in strikeouts (138).
- From Aug. 13-20 was suspended for seven games for his participation in an on-field incident with St. Louis on Aug. 10 that led to the ejections of both managers and fines for four other players.
- 2009: Ranked second on the staff to Bronson Arroyo in victories (11), starts (30) and innings pitched (171.1ip) and second to Aaron Harang in strikeouts (132)...ranked second in the Major Leagues with a team-high 14 hit batsmen (Mil's Dave Bush, 15).
- From Aug. 20-31 was on the disabled list with inflammation in his right shoulder.
- Contended for a spot on the National League All-Star staff after going 8-4, 2.69 in his first 16 starts of the season but in his last two appearances prior to the break allowed 13 earned runs in 5.2 innings.
- Started the Dominican Republic's second game of the World Baseball Classic and threw 4.2 scoreless innings to earn the 9-0 win vs Panama in the San Juan bracket (4.2ip, 3h, 1bb, 5k).
- 2008: In his Major League debut went 9-14, 4.81 in 31 starts...led all National League rookie pitchers in strikeouts (158) and ranked among the NL rookie leaders in ERA (8th), starts (31, T1st), wins (9, T2nd), innings pitched (174.0, 4th) and opponents' BA (.264, 6th).
- Became the first Reds rookie to make 30 starts since Tom Browning in 1988 (38gs) and the first Reds rookie righthander to make 30 starts since Gary Nolan in 1967 (32gs).
- On Aug. 24 at Colorado left his start after 3.0 innings with a posterior strain in his right elbow...didn't pitch again until Sept. 6 but made four more starts to finish the season (1-2, 6.16).
- On April 3 vs. Arizona made his ML debut at 22 years, 48 days old and earned the 3-2 victory (7ip, 1h, 1er, 0bb, 10k)... became the first pitcher in modern Major League history to debut with at least 10 strikeouts and zero walks, the first Reds pitcher since 1900 to record 10 strikeouts in his ML debut and only the third pitcher to win his ML debut while allowing one hit and recording at least 10 strikeouts (Steve Woodard in 1997, Juan Marichal in 1960)...retired his first 15 batters and allowed only one baserunner overall, Justin Upton homered leading off the 6th.
- In his second start on April 8 at Milwaukee, had eight strikeouts without a walk in 6.1 innings...became the first pitcher since 1900 to record as many as 18 strikeouts without a walk in his first two career starts.
- 2007: For the second straight season was the organization's Minor League Pitcher of the Year...in 28 starts at 3 different levels combined to go 12-9, 3.07 with 170 strikeouts in 161.1 innings...led all Reds minor leaguers in ERA and strikeouts and ranked third in victories...was selected to play in the Florida State League All-Star Game.

2015 SEASON

- Established himself as one of the best all-around third basemen in the NL and one of the top rookies in the Majors...finished second in the NL Rookie of the Year race, falling to Chicago's Kris Byrant...received 70 points (22 second place votes and four third place votes) from the BWAA while Bryant was the unanimous winner with 150 points.
- Hit .295 with 77 runs, 28 doubles, 12 home runs, 77 RBI and 12 stolen bases in 149 games in his first full big league season...was anchored in the Giants' third slot in the lineup for most of the year.
- Duffy and RHP Chris Heston became the first set of teammates to lead MLB rookies in wins (12) and hits (169) since Chicago's (AL) Gary Peters (19 wins) and Pete Ward (177 hits) in 1963.
- The only Giants rookies since 1958 to drive in 70-or-more RBI in a season are: Orlando Cepeda, when he won the Rookie of the Year award in 1958 (96), Jim Ray Hart in 1964 (81), Chili Davis in 1982 (76) and Duffy in 2015 (77).
- Was the third Giants rookie with at least 70 runs, 70 RBI and 10 stolen bases (also: Orlando Cepeda (1958), Chili Davis (1982).
- His 46 extra base hits were the most by a Giants rookie since Chili Davis had 52 in 1982.
- Ranked second in the NL with a .366 batting average with runners in scoring position (COL's Nolan Arenado, .373).
- Also placed eighth among NL leaders with a .310 batting average against right-handed pitchers.
- Grounded into 22 double-plays, the fourth-most of any NL player.
- Started 138 games, making 129 starts at third base, seven at second, one at short and one at first.
- His 149 games played were the eighth-most by a Giants rookie all-time and the most since 1986 (Robby Thompson, 149).
- Ended the season having started 118 consecutive games, the third-longest such streak among active players behind Baltimore's Manny Machado (162) and Los Angeles' (AL) Kole Calhoun (153).
- Also started the Giants' last 79 games at third base, the longest start streak on the club.
- Had a 5.5 WAR, the second-highest among NL rookies behind Chicago's (NL) Kris Bryant (5.7).
- Had 91 hits following the All-Star break, the third-most in the NL behind CIN's Brandon Phillips (92) and ARI's A.J. Pollock (92).
- Was invited to his first spring training, where he hit .361 and earned the Barney Nugent Award, given to the player in his first Major League camp whose performance best exemplifies the spirit of the club.
- Made the team out of spring training as a utility infielder and took over the starting role at third base from Casey McGehee in mid-May after McGehee had been designated for assignment...had played just three games at third in three seasons in the minor leagues and grew into the position while demonstrating remarkable offensive consistency, batting over .300 in May, June, July and August.
- Hit his first Major League home run off Rockies' LHP Boone Logan on April 15 at AT&T Park.
- Recorded his first career game-ending hit May 10 (Mother's Day) off Marlins' RHP Steve Cishek...singled home Gregor Blanco in the 9th inning, giving the Giants a 3-2 win.
- Drove in a career-best five runs May 12 at Houston...became the first Giants' rookie to knock in five runs since Buster Posey in 2010...also became the sixth Giant the SF-era to drive in five runs from the number eight spot in the batting order, joining Edgar Renteria (2009), Yorvit Torrealba (2004), Tsuyoshi Shinjo (2002), Robby Thompson (1987) and Bob Heise (1970).

- Came short of hitting for the cycle on three different occasions: June 27 vs. COL, June 28 vs. COL and Aug. 14 vs. WAS.
- Became the first Giants rookie to win the Willie Mac award (since 1980), which is given to the Giants player who best exemplifies the inspiration, character and leadership that Willie Mac demonstrated during his playing days in San Francisco.

Duffy's Giants Gems

- Grew up in Lakewood in the Long Beach area, living in the same house since he was a year old. Dad Tom is a contractor. Mom Cathy is a travel agent. One sister, Erin, two years younger than Matt, attends UCLA.
- In 2002, Duffy attended San Francisco's Game 6 against the Angels at Edison Field (now Angel Stadium), a 30-minute drive from Lakewood.
- Began taking baseball seriously when he turned 13. His dad said, "One day someone is going to tell you you're not good enough." Matt decided he would prevent that from happening by committing himself fully and outworking everyone else. He started making daily lists of what he wanted to accomplish during his waking hours to improve as a player. And he gave up the one passion he had beside baseball — skiing. Fearing an injury that would affect baseball, he has not skied since his freshman year of high school.
- He practiced with his dad after school every day at a field a block and a half from their house. Matt, an Angels fan, had read somewhere that Angels infielder Brandon Wood took 200 grounders a day from his dad when he was a kid. So that's what Matt and his father did. Duffy says he was never the star, even though he felt he was better than a lot of kids who got the attention. "I had a little chip on my shoulder," he says.
- At the end of high school, he had not yet committed to a college program. USC and Cal State-Bakersfield had offered partial scholarships. Then on a bit of a fluke he was invited by a local coach to play on his team in the Tournament of Stars in North Carolina, which is a weeklong tryout of sorts for Team USA. "I figured they just needed an extra guy," Matt says. "The first guy I see when I walk off the plane in North Carolina is Bryce Harper and all these other guys I had read about in Baseball America." Suddenly he found himself hitting third on his team and performing well enough to catch the attention of coaches from Long Beach State, who offered him a scholarship. "I grew up watching Long Beach State and I had go across the country to get them to notice me," Matt says.
- His second big break came during the summer of 2011 between his sophomore and junior years at Long Beach. He desperately wanted to play in the Cape Cod summer league, but no team recruited him. He knew every team needed "temp" players to fill in for guys still competing in the College World Series. "Just get me there," Matt told his Long Beach coach, "and I'll take care of the rest." His coach got him a temp position. Lucky for Duffy, the guy he was filling for went all the way to the College WS championship game, giving Matt time to show what he had. By the time the other guy was ready to show up, Matt was leading the Cape Cod league in hitting. He not only was offered a contract for the rest of the summer, he was the starting shortstop in the All-Star Game. "It was the best summer of my life," he says.
- But before his junior season in college, he had surgery for a digestive disorder, lost weight, struggled to regain his strength and saw his draft stock plummet. He was selected 568th over all, but he vowed that none of the players taken before him would outwork him.
- When he struggled at the plate during his first spring training in 2013 (the Giants had drafted him the previous June in the 18th round), Matt called Benny Craig, who had been his hitting coach in the Cape Cod League. He urged him to read The Mental Keys to Hitting by sports psychologist Harvey Dorfman. Matt says the advice in the book changed everything. It taught him to be both relaxed and aggressive at the plate. Duffy says he has read the book, in his estimation, eight times. "I carry it with me," he says. It has notes in the margins and passages highlighted.
- He also has spent countless hours and dollars working with Rob Nelson, a speed coach, to make his base path sprints look natural. "Before, he was not running quietly," said Duffy's father, Tom. "His mechanics were a mess."
- Promoted to the Majors directly from Double A-Richmond 20 minutes after the trade deadline on July 31, 2014. When he and teammate Jarrett Parker were told not to get on the team bus to Altoona, PA., earlier that day, they both figured they were involved in a trade. They waited most of the day, speculating on where they would end up. Twenty minutes after the deadline, assistant GM Bobby Evans called. Duffy asked, "So am I driving myself to Altoona or am I traded?" Evans said, "Call your parents. You're going to the big leagues." Duffy cried on the phone with his dad.
- When he struggled during his first weeks with the Giants, he re-read the first three or four chapters of The Mental Keys to Hitting. "I was a little wide-eyed the first three weeks and needed to relax," he says. He went 6-for-15 as a pinch hitter.
- At 23 years old, he was the youngest player on the Giants roster for the 2014 World Series.
- His late grandmother (on his father's side) was an assistant to Pierre Salinger when he was campaign manager for Robert Kennedy. She was at the Ambassador Hotel in LA when RFK was assassinated.
- Nickname "Duffman," like the Simpsons mascot for Duff Beer. On the knobs of his bats, he has customized decals of Duffman holding a bat. Once thought about dressing as Duffman for Halloween but decided it was too much work.

2015 SEASON

- Made 31 starts with the Giants, going 12-11 with a 3.95 ERA (78er, 177.2ip) during his rookie campaign.
- His 12 victories were the most by a Giants rookie pitcher since Matt Cain had 13 in 2006 and his 141 strikeouts were the most since Tim Lincecum recorded 150 in 2007.
- Went 11-5 with a 3.24 ERA (47er, 130.2ip) and 101 strikeouts in his first 21 starts...however, was 1-6 with a 5.94 ERA (31er, 47.0ip) and 40 strikeouts in his final 10 outings.
- Allowed 4.29 walks per 9.0 innings (41 walks, 86.0ip) over his last 16 starts after giving up just 2.21 walks per 9.0 innings (21 walks in 85.2ip) in his first 15 outings.
- Posted the eighth-highest ground ball rate among NL starters at 53.3% and ranked second among NL pitchers for the most double-plays induced with 26 behind only John Lackey (29).
- Did not make the Opening Day roster, but started the third game of the season in place of Matt Cain, who was placed on the 15-day disabled list April 7 with a strained flexor tendon in his throwing arm.
- On April 13, became just the second rookie pitcher to start a Giants home opener…the only other pitcher to do so was Alan Fowlkes on April 13, 1982 vs. San Diego.
- Finished the month of April with a 2.77 ERA, becoming the fifth rookie in Giants' history to post a sub-3.00 ERA in the opening month of the season (min. 20ip).
- Threw a two-hitter without issuing a walk and struck out 10 batters May 12 at Houston…according to Elias, only two rookie pitchers over the last 25 seasons pitched a game like that (CG, 2 or fewer hits allowed, 0 BB, 10+ SO): Kerry Wood in his 20-strikeout game on May 6, 1998 and Shelby Miller on May 10, 2013...no other Giants rookie since 1900 had a game like this.
- Tossed the first no-hitter of the 2015 season, the 17th in Giants franchise history and the first by a Giants rookie in 103 years on June 9 at New York-NL in the Giants' 5-0 win...struck out a career-best 11 batters and allowed three baserunners, all coming via hit by pitch.
- Is the third Giants rookie to throw a no-hitter, joining Jeff Tesreau (Sept. 6, 1912 at PHI) and Christy Mathewson (July 15, 1901 vs. STL).
- According to the Elias Sports Bureau, Heston became the first pitcher to finish a no-hitter with three consecutive strikeouts since Sandy Koufax did so in his perfect game on Sept. 9, 1965 vs. Chicago-NL.
- Became the first rookie pitcher to strike out more than 10 batters without issuing a walk in a no-no...his three hit by pitches resulted in the only baserunners for the Mets - no other pitcher in ML history hit at least three opposing batters while completing a no-hitter.
- Was named NL Co-Player of the Week along with Miami's Giancarlo Stanton for the week of June 8-14.
- Posted a 1.57 ERA in July, the third-lowest figure by a Giants rookie in any given month since the team moved to SF in 1958.
- Spent nearly the entire season with the Giants before being optioned to triple-A Sacramento Aug. 21, as the team needed an open spot in their rotation for Mike Leake, who was coming off the DL...did not start any games for the River Cats after having been optioned and instead threw two bullpen sessions...was recalled from triple-A on Aug. 28, replacing Matt Cain in the rotation.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Heston's Giants Gems

- Grew up in Palm Bay, Florida, near Melbourne.
- Father, James "Bo" Heston, works as a painter.
- Mother, Teresa Thomas, is manager of a Dollar General store after getting laid off from the Harris Corporation.
- Has a sister Heather, three years younger who is in school to be a physical therapist.
- Bo Heston dropped out of high school to go to work and vowed his kids "would get an education and not have to struggle like I did." He says Chris was so passionate about baseball — "he's had baseball in his brain since five years old" — that the family scraped together whatever money was necessary to allow Chris to chase his dream. They found money for bats, gloves, uniforms, cleats, traveling teams and showcase tournaments that could cost $500 or more for a single game. Sometimes Bo's boss at the paint company helped out.
- Teresa says, "I remember him telling me, 'When I get to the big leagues I'm going to give you my first million dollars.' I joked with him, "By then you'll owe me a lot more than that!'"
- Teresa was diagnosed with rectal cancer when Chris was a junior in high school. "It was hard on him, for sure," his Bayside High School coach, Jason Burchfield, says. "They're really close."
- Teresa spent nearly three weeks at an Orlando hospital, 90 minutes from Palm Bay, so Chris and Heather didn't get to see her much. She underwent four surgeries over the course of a year, traveling back and forth to Orlando. Her best friend drove her so Bo could hold down the fort at home, making sure the two kids concentrated on their sports and their grades.
- Teresa's cancer reappeared while Chris was in college, and she was back in the hospital for more surgery, always downplaying the medical news.
- She says she is healthy now, though she goes to the doctor once a month for monitoring.
- For Christmas 2014, Chris had an idea. "They always gave my sister and me a good Christmas, and I was never able to do it for them. So I decided to change it up a little." He gave Teresa special gifts, including an Eternity of Love necklace. And for his father, he built by hand a wood and glass case in which he placed the jersey, hat, ball, glove and lineup from his first Major League start three months earlier (September 28, 2014).
- The Giants had flown Teresa and Bo to Detroit when Chris had been called up in 2014, but he didn't play during that series. They weren't there when he made his debut against the Dodgers September 13, 2014, pitching a scoreless ninth inning. But the Giants surprised them by flying them, plus Heather and her husband, to SF to watch Chris pitch the 2015 home opener. (Teresa had never been west of the Mississippi.)
- Chris was small for his age but could always throw hard. His father didn't realize how much his junior high school son had improved until one day he went into the backyard barefoot to catch his son's pitches. Chris threw a sinker so hard, it glanced off Bo's mitt and broke three toes. He wore shoes thereafter.
- As a high school freshman, he was just 5-foot-5 or so, Burchfield said. But he was talented and worked hard. "He comes from a blue-collar area. He wasn't a kid who could go to a thousand camps since he was 8 years old."
- During his junior year, Chris grew six inches. "It took a year for him to get into his body," Burchfield says. By the end of his junior year, he blossomed and had a great senior season.
- But as a late bloomer, he attracted little attention from four-year-schools. He went to Seminole Community College.
- A rep from Eastern Carolina University came to check out the community college's catcher and was impressed enough with Chris to offer him a spot on the ECU team. Chris majored in business/marketing.
- Was the 357th pick (12th round) of the 2009 draft.
- He was a big Chipper Jones fan growing up. Chris and his dad would travel the state to attend Braves games during spring training, where Chris got Chipper's autograph.
- Chris played one game of high school football. He hurt his knee when he was tackled and ended up at the emergency room. He loved baseball too much to risk an injury in football.
- On June 30, 2015, Palm Bay, Florida Mayor William Capote presented Heston with the keys to the city for his no-hitter in 2015. Heston grew up in Palm Bay, about a two and a half hour drive from Miami.

Kontos' Giants Gems

- Grew up in the Chicago area, lettering in baseball, basketball and golf in high school. He was Gatorade Player of the Year for Illinois in 2003.
- Majored in economics at Northwestern University before being drafted by the Yankees. George's younger brother Chris also played baseball at Northwestern and graduated in 2012.
- Little-known fact about Kontos: He has all ten seasons of "Friends" on DVDs and can quote nearly every line. His favorite episode is when Joey speaks French.
- Kontos is Greek on both sides of his family. His mother's family and father's family are both from a 2000-year-old town outside Sparta called Geraki. George's father Nicholas grew up in a house that was 200 years old. His parents immigrated to the States when they were children, so George is first-generation American.
- Quintessential immigrant's story: George's grandfather was a farmer who produced olives and olive oil. Gave that up for a better life for his children in the States. Arrived in the States during the 1960s with $250 in his pocket. Because his English was limited, he had few job prospects so he worked as a custodian at Northwestern from 3-11 p.m. His wife, George's grandmother, worked in a factory. One salary went for living expenses, the other into savings, which they eventually used to buy an apartment building that the family owns to this day.
- Their son, Nicholas (George's father) dropped out of college to start his own business distributing restaurant supplies because so many Greek families owned restaurants. He operated the business for 30 years, and like his father used his savings to buy real estate. He and his wife, Theodora, now own and operate convenience stores and gas stations in addition to the apartment building.
- Theodora's father owned and operated a well-known fast food stand in Chicago for 30 years called MIC Duck's.
- George, who is named after his paternal grandfather (the olive farmer and Northwestern custodian who died 10 days after George was born), was cared for by his grandparents -- one papou and two yia-yia's -- on the north side of Chicago because George's parents both worked. So George's first language was Greek. When his parents moved to the suburbs and placed him in a Montessori preschool, George couldn't understand any of the other children.
- Twice a week through his childhood, George attended Greek school for an hour and a half after regular school, plus Sunday school at the Greek Orthodox Church, where he was an altar boy. He still speaks, writes and reads Greek fluently.
- Nicholas knew nothing of baseball when he arrived in Chicago as a child but soon became a fan of the Cubs. He was an enthusiastic and knowledgeable supporter of both his sons when they played on Little League and travel-ball teams and through college and pros.
- George didn't distinguish himself until high school, when scouts began coming around his junior year. But George was also a good student, taking mostly AP classes, and accepted a scholarship to play baseball at Northwestern -- where his grandfather had been a custodian. The university is just 10 minutes from George's childhood home in Lincolnwood, Illinois, where his parents still live. (George's brother Chris also played baseball at Northwestern; he graduated in June 2012.)
- George was drafted by the Yankees in 2006 after his junior year of college. His climb through the farm system as a starting pitcher came to a halt in 2009 when he had Tommy John surgery. During his 10-month rehab back in Illinois, he took enough classes to earn his degree in finance from Northwestern. "That was a dream for all of us," Nicholas says.
- He is a workout fanatic. During the 2012 off season, in addition to lifting weights three times a week, yoga once a week and throwing, his workout included boxing twice a week and Muay Thai once a week.
- Muay Thai is a practice of martial arts that is known as "the art of eight weapons" because it is characterized by the combined use of fists, elbows, knees, shins and feet. Kontos says it helps open up hips and helps with flexibility.
- Boxing workout: jump rope, shadow boxing, push-ups, core work, heavy bag with 16-ounce gloves – similar motion to throwing a baseball. Helps endurance.

Law's Giants Gems

- Grew up and still makes his home in Pittsburgh, PA.
- Father is former right-handed pitcher Joe Law, who spent nine seasons in the A's farm system and four days on the Major League roster. From Andrew Baggarly, CSNBayArea: "On July 5, 1988, the Oakland Athletics had a doubleheader in Cleveland and called up a right-handed pitcher named Joe Law. He spent four days on the A's roster, all told. Once he even got the signal to start warming up. He sat back down. He never unbuttoned his satin jacket again – then, or ever."
- Mom, Tracey, is a registered nurse who runs a elder-care home on the upstairs floor of the family's large, 100-year-old house.
- Has one sibling, an autistic brother, Dustin, who is four years younger than Derek. "He knows when I leave it's for baseball, but he doesn't get what baseball is," Derek says. "He really looks up to me, but he can't really go to my games. He has his routines. He's in his own little world."
- Tracey, with her elder-care clients and Dustin, couldn't attend many of Derek's games. She has seen him in one professional game: When he was with Single A Augusta and the team played in Hagerstown, MD, which was close enough to drive.
- Derek spent every day with his dad. "We're like brothers more than father and son. We fight like brothers. We talk like brothers. We were together every day until I left for college." Joe took Derek to the batting cages, to the field, wherever they could play baseball. He built a mound for Derek on the side of the house, where Derek began pitching at 7 years old.
- Derek's delivery is similar to former pitching great Luis Tiant: He completely turns his back to the hitter.
- Joe was Derek's pitching coach at every level through high school (Seton LaSalle Catholic High School in Pittsburgh.) Derek was good enough to be drafted at the end of high school in 2009 (by the Texas Rangers in the 28th round), but he chose to go to Miami Dade College in Florida, which has a highly respected baseball program.
- After two years at Miami Dade, Derek signed with the Giants whey they drafted him in the ninth round in 2011.
- Joe says his son's growing success in baseball takes the sting out of falling short in his own career: "At the time I was bitter about it," he told Baggarly. "But as time goes by, you realize not too many people get the call to the big leagues. Not too many people get to put the big league uniform on. And I got that. With Derek so close [to making the Majors], that helps with the sting. But that was so long ago, and I'm happy with it. If it didn't happen that way, I wouldn't have gotten to spend as much time with Derek as I did."
- Had Tommy John surgery June 2014 and is expected to be ready to pitch in June 2015.
- In high school, he was voted Most Athletic and Best Dancer. "Only my good friends know I can dance," he says.
- He and his wife Chelsea Gielarowski have been together since high school. She works in public relations for a health care company in Pittsburgh.
- Derek loves baseball history with a particular interest in the Negro Leagues. He has been collecting baseball figurines since he was a kid. His most prized: Josh Gibson and Satchel Paige.

- Began the season on the disabled list due to a left calf injury, sustained on March 22 at the Charlotte Sports Complex... reinstated from the DL on April 23—one year and three days since his last minor league game, when he suffered a left knee injury April 20, 2013...the two injuries were unrelated.
- 2013: After just 15 games (14 starts) at shortstop for Durham, suffered torn ligaments in his left knee April 20 vs. Norfolk (Orioles) and was lost for the season...collided with Norfolk's Travis Ishikawa at second base while attempting to turn a double play on a ground ball hit by L.J. - Set Biscuits franchise records with a 21-game hitting streak (June 17–July 11) and a 46-game on-base streak (June 13–Aug 3)...the on-base streak broke the previous mark of 37 by Evan Longoria in 2007.
- Played for Phoenix of the Arizona Fall League, appearing in 20 games (16-SS, 4-DH)...started at SS for the West team in the AFL Rising Stars Game and went 1-for-3 with an RBI single.

- His 15 triples were 6th among all minor leaguers and most ever by a Rays farmhand...Kevin Kiermaier tied that mark in 2013.
- Started at SS for the World team in the Futures Game in June at Chase Field in Arizona, his second straight Futures Game selection.
- Tied for second in the FSL in triples (11), third in avg. (.318) and eighth in SB (28)...named the Most Exciting Player, Best Batting Prospect, Fastest Base Runner and Best Defensive Shortstop in the FSL by Baseball America.

- Played for the World team in the Futures Game at Angel Stadium during the All-Star break.
- Ranked as the No. 4 prospect in the Cubs system by Baseball America entering 2011 and the Best Hitter for Average in the system.

Lopez's Giants Gems

- Father a career FBI agent, beginning in his native Puerto Rico, then transferring to Washington, D.C., when Javier was 3 years old.
- Mother was a popular Spanish teacher at Javier's high school and is now an ESL teacher.
- Javier grew up outside of D.C., in Fairfax, VA.
- Javier has a degree in psychology from the University of Virginia. He finished his degree three years after he left school to play baseball. He had promised his fiancée's father that he would get the degree before he married fellow U.Va. student Renee Richards.
- He was drawn to psychology in trying to figure out how to stay consistent in baseball. He had always been very analytical and figured every problem he had in sports was about mechanics. Then he realized so much of baseball was mental. He didn't find much specific help in his coursework but stuck with psychology to earn his degree. He continued to develop psychological skills and seek advice to help him with his transition into the pros.
- Javier's wife, Renee, not only attended the same college but also attended the same high school in Fairfax, VA, as Javier (she was class president). She played soccer at both schools.
- Like Javier, she majored in psychology. She earned a doctorate in psychology from the University of Tennessee.
- They married in 2001 but didn't live together full time until she finished her coursework at Tennessee and internship in College Station, TX, in 2007. Meanwhile, Javier was bouncing among 12 different teams (four ML teams including the Giants, and eight minor-league teams) in 13 years. "We coordinated our schedules to meet up in different cities," Javier says.
- Javier and Renee have two children, Kylan (born March 19, 2010) and Christian (October 26, 2012). López was in the 2012 World Series when Christian was born, so he had to fly back home for the birth between Games 2 and 3.
- Renee eventually wants to work as a counselor on a college campus, where she could work with both the general population and athletes. She wrote her dissertation on depression in athletes. Javier says Renee "helped get my mental game right" and continues to do so.
- A self-described introvert, Javier also keeps a journal where he can unload negative thoughts. "I write down anything going on in my life that I don't want to put on anyone else," he says. "It's a release for me."
- When he was struggling to catch on in the major leagues, he made the difficult switch from an over-the-top style to a sidearm delivery in order become more effective against left-handed hitters.
- "Middle relief is not a career for the weak of heart," Renee says. "There's no stability in terms of where you're going to be from season to season. You're called into the game in pretty tough situations where you're probably facing somebody is one of the stronger batters. It's usually not a very pretty situation you're being called on to clean up. Maybe you're in there for only one batter. And nobody knows who you are. You might not even be mentioned in the game story the next day. It's not an easy life."
- Javier on making sure he's always ready as a middle reliever: "Every reliever has routines. You do the same thing every day. You make sure you're physically and mentally prepared. Make sure your mind is cleared. I look at video of opposing batters. Look at what I've done with them in the past."
- After the Giants clinched the division, Sabean and Bochy pointed to Lopez as a key acquisition during the 2010 season. "That was the guy, right there," Bochy said. "They all were huge for us, but when (lefthander Dan) Runzler went down and we didn't have that guy who we could fit in the late innings, Brian went out and got him and he was enormous. Of all of them, I have to say that was the one." Said Sabean, "It's hardest when you get guys who switch leagues," Sabean said, "but when we lost Runzler and (Jeremy) Affeldt, we had to get a lefthander we could count on or the rest of this doesn't happen. It just doesn't."

Osich's Giants Gems

- Grew up in Boise, Idaho, where his grandfather and father owned land at the base of the Boise foothills where they kept cattle and grew fruit and vegetables.
- Spent time hunting for duck and geese on Boise River, which was a minute from his house. Fished for trout, floated on the river in an inner tube large enough for three people that his father fashioned from an old tractor tire.
- Father is a mechanic. Mother is an office worker who has worked at a local school and the county sheriff's office.
- Parents Mike and Shawna were "super strict." Curfew of midnight during high school. He and his sister were expected to pay for everything beyond basics for school and sports. Josh began working at age 13 doing landscaping and construction.
- The family butchers a cow once or twice a year for meat. They used to do it in the middle of the pasture but stopped when the neighbors said it was disturbing to their children. Osich's family still ships Josh half a cow of meat. He keeps the 70 to 150 pounds in a big chest freezer.
- Osich comes from a large extended family that is part of the big Basque community in Boise, most of whom work in farming and ranching. Boise is home to the biggest basque community outside of Spain. There are Basque restaurants, a Basque center, Basque festival. His wedding reception was held at the Basque center. Basque men are known for being "crazy strong," Jessica says. Thanksgiving involves about 100 people and tables laden with Basque sausage, peppers, cow tongue, pigs feet, liver, lamb and of course turkey.
- Osich's father used to compete in the traditional Basque weightlifting competitions held every four years. Participants carry such things as stones and hay bales and toss kegs.
- Josh and Jessica live in a four-bedroom house in Gilbert, near Scottsdale. During spring training, teammates bunk in the extra rooms and help eat the meat in the freezer.
- Josh is still an avid gardener, growing grapes, peppers, strawberries, cauliflower, lettuce, cucumbers, green beans, two kinds of tomatoes, blueberries, carrots, asparagus and potatoes in the yard of their Arizona house.
- Josh loves classic cars, and in the off season, he works for a Los Angeles classic-car dealer, inspecting and writing up detailed reports on cars for sale in the Arizona area. He owns a 1972 Chevy Cheyenne Super 10 truck. His dad and grandfather have 1930 model A and a 1955 Pontiac Chieftain.
- Josh has been working on cars alongside his dad since he was 10 years old.
- Was a superstar athlete in HS, earning Most Athletic at Bishop Kelly High. Lettered three years in baseball (pitcher and center field), two in football (linebacker) and one in basketball. He never imagined he would be wracked by injuries as soon as he started college.
- Turning point in his baseball life: At Oregon State, he had ulnar nerve surgery his sophomore year then Tommy John surgery as a junior. He missed the whole season. Osich attended every practice and game, turning himself into a student of the game. He found himself mentoring and advising younger players, becoming a kind of junior coach.
- Despite his injury, the Angels drafted him in the seventh round in 2010, but he returned to OSU for his senior year in 2011 as a starting pitcher. He finished rehabbing his arm in February of that year and threw a no-hitter against UCLA in April, striking out 13. Then had shoulder issues.
- During college summers, Osich worked on the grounds crews for the Corvallis Knights in the wooden-bat West Coast League.
- Graduated in four years and earned a degree in sociology with a focus on criminal justice and expressed interest in being a park ranger if baseball didn't work out.
- His bad luck with injuries followed him into the minor leagues. He recounted the whole list of college and pro baseball maladies to the Chronicle's Scott Ostler: "Ulnar-nerve surgery, 2009, 2010 Tommy John (surgery), 2011 torn sub-scapula muscle in shoulder, 2012 impingement, 2013 radial-nerve injury, 2014 another impingement." Going into 2015, he said, he had one full season since freshman year in college without injury.
- When he was again sent to Double A out of the 2015 spring training, he and Jessica sat at their kitchen table, weighed the pros and cons and decided he'd give baseball everything he had for one more year. If he didn't progress, he'd retire.

* As the closer at Double-A Richmond in 2015, he had a 1.59 ERA and .185 opponent's average in 31 appearances with 34 strikeouts and 10 walks in 34 innings. He saved 19 out of 20. He was called up to Triple A in June. He made just two appearances there and was called up to the Majors.

- Made his ML debut against the Nationals on July 3, 2015, throwing a scoreless inning. Jessica, on break from her job as a fifth-grade teacher in Gilbert, flew to Washington. "Oh, my god, did I cry the whole weekend," Jessica says.
- Jessica teaches fifth grade while also working toward earning her doctorate through the University of New England. She's taking classes online then plans to spend two years on the university's campus in Maine to finish her dissertation. She wants to be a college professor in education with an emphasis on math.
- On their first date Jessica and Josh told each other what they wanted to be when they grew up: Josh said a baseball player. Jessica said a college professor. "I'm exactly where I want to be, and he's exactly where he wants to be," she says.
- They married Dec. 6, 2014, after 10 years of dating.

2015 SEASON

- Made his seventh Opening Day roster and fourth-consecutive in a Giants uniform.
- Hit .262 (134-for-512) with 27 extra base hits and a .303 on-base pct. in 133 games.
- Recorded just 27 extra base hits (107/134 hits were singles).
- Owned the ninth-highest avg. against left-handed pitching in the NL, hitting at a .318 clip.
- Hit .336 (45-for-134) with a .359 on-base pct. through the first 34 games of the season, but then fell into a slump and hit .235 (89-for-378) with a .284 on-base pct. in his final 99 games.
- Played with two sore knees for most of the season and was placed on the 15-day disabled list Aug. 11 (retroactive to Aug. 10) with right patella tendinitis...had a platelet-rich plasma injection and missed 20 games before being activated Sept. 1.
- Hit his first home run of the season Sept. 5 at Colorado, hitting a solo shot off RHP Chad Bettis…his home run ended a 697 at-bat drought without a homer, which had been the longest such active homerless streak in the big leagues.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- 2014: For the second straight season he missed a significant amount of time, missing 44 games with back inflammation from June 25-Aug. 7 that led to an epidural and weeks of rehab at the team's facility in Scottsdale, Arizona...inflamed the same nerve in his back in late September and missed an additional 13 games.
- With just six games remaining in the regular season it was announced that he'd have season-ending surgery on Sept. 25 in Los Angeles to repair a bulging disk in his back...Dr. Robert Watkins, a renowned spinal surgeon, performed the procedure, a discectomy to shave the herniated portion of the disc that was pinching a nerve and causing pain.
- Also missed three games with a sprained AC joint in his left shoulder after jamming it on May 17 while coming up short on a diving attempt.
- Was placed on the 15-day DL June 25 (retro to June 15) with a lower back strain...was diagnosed with a bulging disc and a narrowing of the nerve canal in his lower back...was expected to return to the lineup July 1, but suffered a setback while running and consulted with Dr. Robert Watkins in Los Angeles to determine a course of treatment.
- Had the ninth-highest avg. in the NL in the month of April, hitting .337 (32-for-95).
- Received his second career ejection on April 21 at Colorado (ejected by HP umpire Tumpane) for arguing a third called strike.
- Hit a pair of leadoff homers: April 29 vs. San Diego and May 2 at Atlanta.
- 2013: Missed a significant amount of time after injuring his left hamstring in late May.
- Played for Puerto Rico during the World Baseball Classic and was named to the 2013 MetLife All-World Baseball Classic Team after leading Puerto Rico with a .364 batting average (12-for-33), .485 slugging pct., and a .447 on-base pct. in nine games...his 12 hits set a Puerto Rican record for the Classic.

- Re-signed with the Giants in the offseason to a four-year contact.
- Hit a two-run, inside-the-park, walk-off home run off Colorado's Rafael Betancourt in the bottom of the 10th inning that gave the Giants a 6-5 comeback win on May 25, 2013...it marked Pagan's third career inside-the-park home run and the seventh inside-the-park homer in AT&T Park history (fifth by a Giants player)...it was also his second career walk-off homer.
- Prior to Pagan accomplishing the feat, the Majors' last walk-off homer that didn't leave the yard came June 11, 2004, when another Rockies pitcher, Shawn Chacon, was victimized by Tampa Bay's Rey Sanchez...however, it had been 24 years since the Majors' last walk-off inside-the-parker that erased a deficit...according to Elias, the last such blow had been hit by the Phillies' Bob Dernier, who wiped out a 2-0 Giants lead in the 12th inning with a three-run shot off Craig Lefferts on May 15, 1989.
- It had been 83 years since the last Giants' walk-off inside-the-park homer, hit by future Hall-of-Famer Bill Terry against the Cubs at the Polo Grounds on Aug. 24, 1931 in the New York Giants' 2-1 win.
- Prior to hitting the inside the park HR; had hurt his left hamstring in the 8th inning diving for a fly ball, but stayed in the game...he sat out the next 11 games before being placed on the 15-day disabled list on June 7, 2013 (retroactive to May 28) with a strained left hamstring.
- Suffered a setback in his first rehabilitation game on June 20, 2013...hit a ground ball to 2nd base in the 9th inning and pulled up lame three-quarters up the line...he started to jump up and down and couldn't make it any longer...never reached 1st base and was carted off the field.
- After having a second opinion it was determined that he needed surgery...underwent successful surgery on his left hamstring tendon (inside back of knee) on June 25, 2013 in Los Angeles by Dr. Neal El-Attrache at the Kerlan Jobe clinic.
- Missed a total of 82 games from May 26-Aug. 30, 2013…was reinstated from the 60-day DL on Aug. 30 and went 30-for-93 (.323) in 25 games following his return.
- 2012: His 15 3Bs not only led all of Major League Baseball, but also set a San Francisco-era record (since 1958) for a single season, surpassing Steve Finley (12 in 2006) and Willie Mays (12 in 1960).
- Posted the longest home hitting streak in franchise history (since 1900), hitting safely in 28 consecutive home games from April 14-June 4, 2012...it was the longest home hitting streak for any ML player since 2010, when Josh Hamilton hit safely in 29-straight home games at Rangers Ballpark.
- Hit safely in 20-straight games from April 14-May 6, 2012, tied for eighth-longest hit streak in SF-era history.
- Joined Pablo Sandoval and Marco Scutaro as the first trio of teammates to hit safely in 20+ games in the same season in Giants franchise history, dating all the way back to 1918.
- Became the first Giants player in the modern era (since 1900) to hit safely in 47 of 50 games in a single season (he accomplished this feat from April 14-June 9).
- 2011: Was placed on the 15-day disabled list April 22-May 27 with a strained left oblique that he hurt April 21 vs. Houston.
- Was one of two players in the Majors to have at least 30 2Bs, 10 HRs, 60 RBI and 30 stolen bases in 2010...other player was Tampa Bay's Carl Crawford (30 2Bs, 19 HRs, 90 RBI, 47 stolen bases).
- 2010: Finished second in the NL with 37 stolen bases...became the first Mets' outfielder to steal 30 bases since 1999 season (Roger Cedeno-66 steals, Rickey Henderson-37 steals).
- On May 19 at Washington he hit an inside-the-park home run (4th inning against Livan Hernandez) and started a triple play to become the first player to accomplish each of those feats in same game since Phillies shortstop Ted Kazinski did so against the Giants at the Polo Grounds on Sept. 25, 1955...Pagan caught Cristian Guzman's sinking line drive, threw to catcher Henry Blanco who threw to shortstop Jose Reyes to double off Hernandez at second base…Reyes then threw to Ike Davis to catch Nyjer Morgan at first base and complete triple play.
- On August 1, Carlos Beltran, Jesus Feliciano and Pagan, all natives of Puerto Rico, appeared in the outfield at the same time...according to the Baseball Hall of Fame, it marked only the seventh time an All Puerto Rican outfield played together in same game (previous time was June 6, 1981 when Cubs had Carlos Lezcano, Jerry Morales and Hector Cruz).
- 2009: Hit over .300 for the first time in his career, finishing campaign with a .306 avg. (105-for-343) in 88 games.
- Underwent surgery at Hospital for Special Surgery March 11 to remove a bone spur from his right elbow.
- His contract was selected on May 16 from Buffalo (AAA) of the International League.
- Left game May 31 vs. Florida with right groin discomfort...placed on 15-day disabled list June 1 with strain of his right groin…activated from disabled list July 10.
- 2008: Missed most of the season with a torn left labrum…appeared in just 31 games…injured his left shoulder while diving into stands for foul ball on May 7 at Los Angeles-NL.
- On July 29 had his torn left labrum repaired by Mets Medical Director Dr. David Altchek at Hospital for Special Surgery.
- 2007: Was placed on the 15-day disabled list on August 8 with colitis and missed remainder of the year.
- 2006: Made his Major League debut on April 3 with Chicago-NL…collected his first career hit and RBI in his first career at-bat off Cincinnati's Aaron Harang.
- Strained his left hamstring April 15 at Pittsburgh while running down the first base line...injury landed him on the 15-day DL from April 16-June 30.
- 2004: Was named Sterling Award recipient, emblematic of team's MVP at Binghamton (AA) of Eastern League…was also named to Eastern League All-Star team.

POSTSEASON CAREER

- 2012: On his first and only career postseason roster, Pagan hit .188 (13-for-69) with two home runs and six RBI in 16 games.
- Led off Game 4 of the 2012 NLDS at Cincinnati with a home run, the first leadoff homer in Giants postseason history (including New York-era).
- Led off Game 2 of the NLCS with another home run, his second leadoff homer in the postseason.
- Joined Jimmy Rollins (two leadoff homers in 2008 postseason with Philadelphia) as the only two players in MLB history with a pair of leadoff home runs in the same postseason.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

Pagan's Giants Gems

- Grew up in the drug- and gang-ridden projects on the north coast of Puerto Rico in a district of San Juan called Rio Piedras. Angel's parents – government workers -- were strict, and Angel's brother and sister – older by nine and six years, respectively -- kept Angel close, never allowing him to play outside by himself. The Pagans believed completely in the protective powers of two interconnected forces: family and baseball.
- Pagan's first baseball coach/manager when he was six years old was his mother, Gloria Figueroa. Pagan's father played amateur baseball as did Angel's brother, but Figueroa, an accomplished softball player who played in a men's league fast-pitch league, was the key figure in Angel's early baseball life. "She used to play with the men. That's how she got so good. She played with the best teams in Puerto Rico. She has baseball in her blood," Pagan says. "She still watches all my games and gives me feedback. Sometimes if I'm struggling, she'll just tell me, 'That's OK. Baseball is an up-and-down roller coaster. Be patient. Believe that you'll do it.' She's always supporting me."
- When Pagan was thirteen, he frequented a batting cage near a building where the great Puerto Rican welterweight boxing champion Felix "Tito" Trinidad trained. Through the gym's open door, Pagan studied the brutal regimen that allowed Trinidad to outlast any opponent. Pagan decided that training like a boxer would make him a better baseball player. Among other exercises, he ran sprints on the beach for an hour at a time, building his endurance. "That's the kind of stamina you need to play 162 games. To me it's very important to not get tired when everybody else gets tired. You want to have something left when everyone else is dragging." He soon joined the gym and worked the speed bag to build shoulder strength. "You hit so many baseballs – over 500 at-bats – your shoulders need to be in shape," he says. He even got into the ring. "I got my butt whupped a little bit," he says, laughing. "I was never going to be a boxer. I didn't want that. I always knew baseball was my sport, but I loved boxing and how boxers train. It's very intense. For me, that's what it's about, the intensity of the work. When you train for boxing, you push yourself to the limit."
- He is still a big boxing fan, naming Manny Pacquiao as his favorite fighter. He was a fan of the HBO reality series "24/7" when it profiled Pacquiao and other fighters.
- For Pagan, baseball is more than a way to support his wife and children. It's a way to honor his devoted and protective family, including his father, who died of complications from diabetes in 2005 -- a year before his son made his major-league debut with the New York Mets. "He was a great person," Pagan says. "He taught me how to be a gentleman. I know he'd be proud. Most of my friends from growing up are either dead or in jail. Without my family and without baseball, I don't know where I'd be."
- Daughter Briana had surgery on both eyes at the age of 2 in 2010 when Pagan was with the Mets. She has strabism, the inability to focus both eyes simultaneously.
- Pagan takes seriously his position as a role model, particularly in Puerto Rico. At his rigorous workouts at a public track in Dorado, young people show up to work out with him – young boxers, basketball players, runners, baseball players. Their trainer is Felix Molina, cousin of the catching Molina brothers. "I like to show how I work. There's no time to lollygag. If I give the wrong example, that's what they're going to learn. That's not the type of legacy I want to leave."
- Pagan is the unofficial translator for his Spanish-speaking teammates. Learning to speak English was always important to Angel. After being drafted by the Mets in the fourth round in 1999, he could have gone to Miami Dade College for a year, where he would have been surrounded by other Latinos and could continue in his home language. Instead he chose Indian River Community College in Fort Pierce, Fla., where he hung out with English speakers and honed his English skills.
- Pagan was the Mets' nominee in 2010 for Major League Baseball's humanitarian award, named after Roberto Clemente, one of Pagan's idols.
- An only-in-baseball factoid: Pagan is the first player in Major League history to hit his first two career home runs on his birthday. It happened with the Cubs on July 2, 2006 -- his 25th birthday -- against the Chicago White Sox.
- In Washington, D.C., on May 19, 2010, Pagan hit the first inside-the-park home run in Nationals Park history (which had been open for just three years). An inning later, playing center field for the Mets, he started a triple play with a shoestring catch. The runners on first and second, unaware he had caught the ball, ran. Pagan threw home. The catcher threw to second to double off one runner. The ball was relayed to first to complete the triple play. Pagan was the first player in 55 years to take part in a triple play and an inside-the-park HR in the same game.

- Hometown is Hopewell Junction, a small town of 2.8 square miles and fewer than 3,000 people in the Hudson Valley about an hour north of NYC.
- Father Paul works in insurance. Mother Natalie works at Target. Has an older brother Paul who was a catcher at Canisius College and now is an assistant coach there.
- Joe is known for his hustle and even demeanor. He is the same guy whether he goes 4x4 or 0x4.
- Graduated from John Jay High school with a 4.0 average. Favorite subjects were math and history. "My parents are very hardworking so I learned from them. You work first and have your fun later. You go to baseball practice, have dinner, do your schoolwork, and then you watch TV. I always was able to prioritize what was most important. If I knew I had a paper due, I'd get that done before I'd go to the movies or go out with friends."
- Voted Most Athletic in high school. Two-time baseball team captain. His name is the only entry under Distinguished Alumni on the school's Wikipedia page.
- Played on the high school varsity team while an eighth-grader at Van Wyck Junior High. Senior teammate Mike Carozza would drive to the Van Wyck to pick up Panik for games. Carozza, who lives in San Francisco, told the Poughkeepsie Journal on the day Panik was called up to the Majors (June 21, 2014): "Joe is the most humble guy you'd ever meet. His work ethic is unmatched. He's the hardest worker I've ever played with."
- Played shortstop through high school and college. He started every day at shortstop during his three years at St. John's. He hit .332 as a freshman.
- Maintained a 3.8 average at St. John's while majoring in financial management.
- Had shoulder trouble his freshman year.
- Giants' first-round pick in 2011.
- Favorite player growing up was Wade Boggs until Derek Jeter arrived at the Yankees.
- Father Paul grew up in the Bronx as a Yankees fan, so Joe and his brother were also Yankees fans.
- Likes watching comedy movies. Adam Sandler movies "Happy Gilmore" and "Billy Madison" are favorites.
- September 9, 2014, Joe became the first Giants rookie to have five hits in a game since Fred Lewis in 2007, going 5 for 5 against Arizona.

Parker's Giants Gems

- Parents are Greg and Deborah. They live in Stafford, Virginia, an hour north of Richmond. Both parents attended a lot of Jarrett's games when he played for the Flying Squirrels in 2013.
- Jarrett moved to Stafford in the 11th grade from Niceville, Florida, where his father was stationed at Eglin Air Force Base.
- Jarrett got his name from one of his grandfathers, Robie Jarrett.
- Went to University of Virginia. In fall ball of his freshman year he hit .100. He took a summer job working Virginia baseball camps at Davenport Field at UVA, supplemented with a slate of summer school classes and a regular date with the weights inside the team's clubhouse. He put on 20 pounds and found a way to let struggles roll off his back. He set the single-season runs record for UVA with 76 his sophomore year. "I can tell you in my years of coaching that I never had a player from one year to the next make as big a stride as he has in a one-year turnaround," Virginia coach Brian O'Connor said.
- Was drafted in the second round in 2010.
- On Sept. 26, 2015 in Oakland, he hit three home runs, including a grand slam while driving in seven RBI. He became the first Giant to hit at least three homers and drive in at least seven runs in a game since Willie May's four-homer game in 1961. Parker also became the first rookie in Giants' franchise history to hit three home runs in a game. There was a span where he hit five homers in nine at-bats.
- When he was called up from triple-A in June 2015, he went 1-for-9 with five strikeouts and wasn't included in the call-ups when the triple-A season ended Sept. 7. He was called up Sept. 11 to fill in for Gregor Blanco, who was suffering from concussion symptoms.
- His first trip to the big leagues came in 2014. He was called up from double-A along with Matt Duffy and joined the Giants on the road in New York. He was sent down to triple-A a day later without appearing in a game (he was replaced by Brandon Belt, who came off the DL after a concussion). That one day in the Majors though qualified him for a World Series ring.
- The day before his three-homer night he hit a 474-foot homer in the A's park, the second-longest of the MLB season.
- He backpacked through Europe during the 2014 offseason with Giants teammate Ryan Lollis. They went to London, Paris, Amsterdam, Munich, Prague, Vienna, Budapest, Dubrovnik, Rome, Barcelona and Dublin. He said the highlight was visiting Lokrum, an island in the Adriatic Sea. He told Andrew Baggarly: "Swimming in the Adriatic Sea is one of the most beautiful things I've ever seen. This island has 1,000 peacocks that live there, so you're just walking around this island with peacocks everywhere. It's down at the southern tip of Croatia, where they do a lot of filming for Game of Thrones."
- He plans to live in New York one day during the offseason just to experience it.

2015 SEASON

- Made 19 starts for the Giants and went 8-6 with a 3.58 ERA.
- Missed all of May and June because of lower back and hip discomfort...was dealing with a back strain, an injury he dealt with beginning April 1, when the Giants traveled from Arizona to San Francisco for the Bay Bridge exhibition games.
- Was scratched from his second start of the season in Arizona but was able to lobby his way out of the DL at that time and made two starts before having to be put on the DL April 18 as his lower back issue was far too significant to battle through.
- Underwent an MRI that showed iniflammation in the SI joint in his left hip and back area...also continued to have back spasms.
- Was reinstated off the 15-day DL on July 3 and went 8-4 with a 3.15 ERA (36er, 103.0ip) in his remaining 17 outings.
- Won his last five decisions and the Giants went 11-4 in his final 14 outings...his five game winning streak marked his longest single season win streak since 2007, when he won seven-consecutive decisions with the Padres.
- His 1.96 ERA after Sept. 1 was the seventh-lowest in the National League.
- Went 6-0 with a 2.76 ERA in his final eight starts at AT&T Park and the Giants won each of those outings...since his first start with SF on July 27, 2014, the club is 12-4 in his 16 home starts compared to 7-8 in his 15 road starts.
- Opponents hit .354 (34-for-96) against him the third time through lineup...in comparison, he held opponents to a .231 clip the first time through the lineup and a .175 mark the second time through.
- Hit the third home run of his career and his first since 2006 on Sept. 16 vs. Cincinnati…Peavy went 250 at-bats and 287 plate appearances between hitting home runs.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- 2014: Was acquired by SF from Boston in July, giving the Giants a much needed starter with Matt Cain out for the season... went 1-9 with a 4.72 ERA in 20 starts with the Red Sox, while going 6-4 with a 2.17 ERA in 12 starts for the Giants.
- His 2.17 ERA after joining SF was the lowest post-All-Star break ERA by a Giants pitcher since Scott Garrelts in 1989 (1.69).
- Beginning July 27 (his first start with the Giants), his 2.17 ERA ranked as the eighth-lowest in the NL.
- Combined for 32 starts, just two shy of matching his career-high for season (34 in 2007 with San Diego).
- Ranked 12th in the Majors for the lowest run support avg. (3.55), the lowest of his career...received two runs or fewer in 22 of 32 starts (received just 38 runs of support in 20 starts with the Red Sox and 42 runs in 12 starts with the Giants).
- Made his 11th career Opening Day roster and first as a member of the Red Sox.
- Had a career-long 12-game losing streak from May 1-Aug. 7 (nine of those losses came in a Red Sox uniform while three were as a Giant)...it was the longest single-season losing streak by a pitcher who previously won a Cy Young award (Elias).

- Reached the 2,000-inning plateau on May 24 at Tampa Bay.
- Was acquired by SF along with cash considerations from Boston on July 26 in exchange for minor league LHP Edwin Escobar, and RHP Heath Hembree.
- Made his Giants debut the day after (July 27) vs. LA on ESPN Sunday Night Baseball...tossed 6.0 innings and allowed four runs to suffer the loss.
- Snapped his career-long 12-game losing streak Aug. 13 vs. Chicago-AL, allowing one run in 7.0 innings of a 7-1 victory.
- With that Aug. 13 win, he also ended a streak of 18-consecutive winless starts...the only other pitcher in Major League history who had a longer winless start streak after already having won 100 games was Fernando Valenzuela, who did not record a win in 19-straight from 1988-1989.
- Tossed 7.2-scoreless innings with eight strikeouts on Aug. 30 vs. Milwaukee...his only hit allowed came with one out in the 8th inning, a single to Mark Reynolds...it marked the deepest he had gone into a game in his career without surrendering a hit (previous: 6.1 innings on Aug. 2, 2014 at New York-NL)...also registered his 2,000th career strikeout, fanning Aramis Ramirez in the 2nd inning.
- 2013: Went 12-5 with a 4.17 ERA and 121 strikeouts in 23 starts between Chicago (AL) and Boston.
- Was 8-4 with a 4.28 ERA and 76 strikeouts in 13 outings with the White Sox before being acquired by Boston on July 30…went 4-1 with a 4.04 ERA in 10 starts with Boston.
- Ranked fifth in the AL with a .706 win percentage (12-5)...his 12 wins were his most as an American Leaguer and most overall since tallying 19 in 2007 with SD.
- Was scratched from scheduled starts on May 2 at Texas and May 6 at Kansas City due to back spasms.
- Left his start on June 4 at Seattle after 2.1 innings pitched due to a fracture of the left 4th anterior rib...was placed on the DL on June 5…activated from the DL on July 19.
- Acquired by the Red Sox on July 30 and added to the active ML roster on Aug. 1.
- 2012: Surpassed 30 starts and 200.0 innings for the White Sox…was the fourth time in his career reaching those marks and the first since his Cy Young season in 2007.
- Won his first AL Rawlings Gold Glove Award…became just the third White Sox pitcher to earn the award, joining Jim Kaat (1974-75) and Mark Buehrle (2009-11).
- Selected to his third career All-Star team and first in the AL on July 8, replacing LAA's C.J. Wilson, but did not pitch.
- Named AL Pitcher of the Month for April after going 3-1 with a 1.67 ERA (7er, 37.2ip), two complete games, one shutout, 33 strikeouts and a .162 (21-130) average against in five starts…was his fifth career league monthly honor and first since September 2007 with San Diego.
- 2011: Began the season on the DL while recovering from right shoulder surgery performed in July of 2010…made five rehab starts between double-A Birmingham and triple-A Charlotte.
- Was removed after 15 pitches for Birmingham on April 18 vs. Mississippi (3er, 0.2ip) after experiencing discomfort in his right shoulder…did not pitch in another rehab game until April 29 for Charlotte…was returned from his rehab assignment and reinstated from the DL on May 11.

- Earned the win in his first ML relief appearance on June 25 vs. Washington (4.0ip, 0r, 7so)…the seven strikeouts were the most by a CWS reliever since Brandon McCarthy on Sept. 11, 2005 vs. Los Angeles-AL (8so in 5.2ip).
- Did not pitch for the remainder of the season due to a tired right arm.
- 2010: Limited to just 17 starts for the White Sox due to a season-ending shoulder injury suffered in July.
- Suffered a detached latissimus dorsi muscle in his right posterior shoulder during his start, July 6 vs. Los Angeles-AL and missed the remainder of the season.
- Underwent surgery to repair a detached latissimus dorsi muscle in his right posterior shoulder on July 14…the surgery was performed at Rush University Medical Center by Dr. Tony Romeo, Dr. Greg Nicholson, and Dr. Charles, Bush Joseph.
- 2009: Was traded to the White Sox from the Padres at the trade deadline in exchange for four pitchers…only made 16 starts due to a strained tendon in his right ankle...was on the DL with a right ankle injury from June 13-Sept. 18.

- Received NL Pitcher of the Month honors three times, in each May, August, and September.

- Was on the 15-day DL with a strained right forearm, May 20-July 2.

- Became the first Giant to have over 700 plate appearances in a season since Brett Butler in 1990 (732)...in fact, became just the fifth Giant in SF-era history with over 700 plate appearances in a season, joining Willie Mays (706 - 1962), Bobby Bonds (3 times - 1969 - 720, 1970 - 745, 1973 - 738), Tito Fuentes (1973 - 731), and Chili Davis (1982 - 701).

- Had his 331 consecutive games starts streak end on the second-to-last-day of the season (Sept. 27) to rest...Pence's streak began Sept. 25, 2012 and had been the longest active streak in the bigs.

- Was named the NL Player of the Week for Sept. 9-15, 2013 after hitting .448 with one double, six home runs and 19 RBI...marked the third time in his career that he won this award, also winning it in 2010 (Aug. 30-Sept. 5) and 2007 (May 14-20).

- Hunter moved around a lot as a child, mostly in Texas with a stop in Colorado before landing in Arlington for high school.
- His father, Howard, was in the cattle business in Texas, mostly in advertising and sales. Had a printing business. He was in the oil business when the industry crashed in the 80s. He became a self-employed entrepreneur.
- His mother Gail, now divorced from Hunter's father, was a stay-at-home mom most of his childhood. Spent two years commuting to JFK to work as a passenger service manager for American. Was at JFK on 9-11 and quit soon after.
- Hunter competed in power tumbling from ages 5 to 10 – becoming the Texas state power-tumbling champion at the age of 9 -- following his sister Stacy into the sport. She competed in the World Championships in Portugal when she was 18. (The family was so involved in the sport that mom Gail became an international judge.) Says Hunter: "I built a lot of flexibility and strength in flipping and jumping. I'm glad I did it. When you're in a kid, it helps you learn to control your body. Baseball is body control."
- He would occasionally do handsprings on his way out to play shortstop; there was a photo in the newspaper of Hunter completely upside-down in mid-flip with the headline "Handspring Hunter." The story said he wore number 8 because it looks the same right-side up and upside down. During pep rallies, cheerleaders got him to do back handsprings. Mom Gail says he can still do a standing handspring.
- Always a fierce competitor and pushes himself hard. Hunter was a small skinny kid who didn't have a growth spurt until his junior year of high school. No matter. "In football, he didn't care how big the other guy was, he'd hit him," Hunter's father Howard said. Howard made him quit so he wouldn't ruin his body.
- Hunter would try to keep up with his brother Howie, who is almost four years older "We competed constantly," Hunter says. "I loved to compete, so we competed constantly. We'd compete in everything – basketball, wiffle ball, whatever. We'd compete to see who could eat their cereal faster in the morning."
- "He has another gear that the rest of us don't have," Howie says. "He can take more pain than the rest of us. If you line up 20 people and make them hold a plank for as long as they can, he'd be shaking and sweating and holding the plank until everyone else collapsed."
- His unconventional throwing motion began when he was about 12 and had a sore shoulder.
- He decided between his junior and senior years that he loved baseball and wanted to play as long as he could, he set about figuring out how to make himself the best player he could. He completely transformed his diet and training. He began lifting weights.
- "I would read magazines and books, talk to people at the weight room, continually take in information. I gave up soda and didn't drink any for like seven years. I had a goal to be as fast as I could and drinking soda didn't make you any faster; it was like a random belief. I drank water instead. I learned to eat cleaner foods. Nothing fried. A lot of times it was just about eating enough calories to fuel my body. I used to try to eat lots of fruits and veggies, what I call live foods." Then he followed the Paleo diet (fish, grass-fed pasture raised meats, vegetables, fruit, fungi, roots and nuts; no grains, legumes, dairy products, processed oils, salt and refined sugar.)
- Stopped Paleo in 2013 when his body fat percentage dropped too low.
- He works just as hard on his mind as on his body. "Baseball is such a game of the mind," he says. "If you can get a strong mind, it helps you in many ways." So he reads books on psychology, philosophy and spirituality. "It started as a way to get better at baseball and it still kind of is. But it's also about being a better person." Some of his favorites: "The Book of the Five Rings," a book on the martial arts written in 1645 by swordsman Miyamoto Musashi; The Dialogues of Plato; and the Bible. "Focusing your mind is a skill you have to practice.. You want to actually focus instead of being on autopilot. You're widening the mind and also emptying it so you focus on what you want to focus on."
- Played ball at Texarkana Junior College then moved on to the University of Texas-Arlington after Don Werner, a minor-league coach whose son played with Hunter convinced the coach at UTA to give Pence a shot. In his sophomore year, he hit .400 toward the end of the season, did the same in a summer league and was told, for the first time, that he might just have a future in baseball. In 2004, the Astros didn't have a first-round pick, but they selected Pence in the next round, taking other teams by surprise.
- Big fan of video games -- says it helps him in baseball.
- His closest friends are guys he played baseball with in high school and who now run the Hunter Pence Baseball Academy in Houston.
- Began a trend among Giants players of riding motorized scooters to the park instead of driving. The scooters are custom decorated by Joe, the Giants' chef.

- Reached base safely via hit, walk or hit by pitch in a career-best 27 games from April 25-May 27.

- Hit his fourth career grand slam June 24 off San Diego's RHP Ian Kennedy…it was his second grand slam in a five game span...according to Elias, the last Giants player to hit two grand slams in a period of five games or fewer was Chris Speier, who hit two in five games from May 5-9, 1987.
- Hit his 100th career home run Sept. 6 at Colorado off LHP Yohan Flande…joined Tom Haller (107) as the only catchers in Giants franchise history to hit at least 100 home runs.

- Led the Majors with a .348 batting average on the road... Barry Bonds was the last Giants player to pace the big leagues in road batting average when he hit .386 in 2002.
- His production at home suffered from the spacious dimensions and cool nights at AT&T Park, where he sported a .764 OPS, compared to his .941 figure on the road.

- Started 141 games for the Giants, 109 at catcher, 30 at first base and two as the designated hitter.
- Threw out 17-of-76 (22.4%) of attempted basestealers and finished seventh in the NL with a 3.39 catcher's ERA.
- Had some back issues that led to fatigue in his legs earlier in the season and hit .259 with seven HRs, 25 RBI in April-May.
- However, had the highest batting avg. in the Majors after the All-Star break, hitting .354 with 12 HRs, 43 RBI in 62 games.
- Ranked third among all ML players with a .393 clip in Sept. (LAD's Carl Crawford, .448; CLE's Michael Brantley, .416).

- Won title after a recent rule change making the final sentence of Rule 10.22(a) inapplicable to Melky Cabrera, who finished one plate appearance shy of qualifying due to his suspension (the stricken sentence would have allowed Cabrera, because of the size of his lead over his nearest competitor, to win the title though finishing with fewer than the requisite 502 PAs.

- His 21-game hit streak marked the second-longest hit streak by a rookie in SF-era history, behind Hall of Famer Willie McCovey's 22-game hit streak in 1959.
- Became the seventh player in SF-era history to have a hit streak of 20-or-more games and his 21-gamer tied Robby Thompson for the fifth-longest in SF history...also became just the 21st Major League catcher to post a hit streak of 20+ and only the second to accomplish the feat as a rookie, joining Benito Santiago (34-straight games in 1987).
- Was named NL Player of the Month, NL Rookie of the Month and was named winner of "Major League Baseball's Clutch Performer of the Month", all for July 2010...finished with a NL-leading 43 hits and ranked third with a .417 avg., tied for third with 24 RBI, fourth with a .466 on-base pct. and fifth in the league with a .699 slugging mark.
- Became the first Giants player with at least 40-or-more hits in a single month since Randy Winn had 46 in August of 2008... his 43 hits in July were the most in one calendar month by a Giants rookie, surpassing Jim Ray Hart, who had 42 in July 1964...his seven HRs were also most in one calendar month by a Giants rookie since Jack Clark hit seven in 1977.
- Began the year at triple-A Fresno to catch more innings and get consistent at-bats...with injuries to Mark DeRosa and Edgar Renteria, a window of opportunity opened for Posey to get at-bats at the Major-League level and he was called up to the big leagues on May 29.
- Played the majority of his games at first base (23 starts at first in 26 games), pushing Aubrey Huff to outfield, however, the trade of Bengie Molina to Texas on July 1 cleared an everyday catching job...at time of trade, Molina was hitting just .257 with a .312 on-base pct. and had been battling a sore left elbow.
- Hit his first big league homer off Reds pitcher Aaron Harang at Great American Ball Park on June 9.
- Hit his first career grand slam and posted his first multi-homer contest on July 7 at Milwaukee…hit a two-run home run off Chris Narveson in the first inning, capping frame that included three home runs by Giants (also Andres Torres and Aubrey Huff)…Posey's grand slam came in SF's seven-run 4th inning and came against LHP Chris Capuano…became the first Giants rookie to have at least four hits, two homers and six RBI in a game since Willard Marshall on May 15, 1942 vs. Cincinnati (4-for-5, two HRs, six RBI).
- 2009: One of San Francisco's prized young players, Posey made quick strides in just his two minor league seasons, finishing the year with San Francisco.
- Had his contract purchased from triple-A Fresno on Sept. 2 and appeared in seven games for the Giants, going 2-for-17 (.118)…made four starts, all at catcher and caught 40.0 innings overall.
- Upon hearing of his call-up to the Majors, caught an early flight at dawn out of Las Vegas with teammate Dan Runzler and landed in Philadelphia at 3 p.m. local time on Sept. 2…his call-up was somewhat of a surprise, however, with catcher Bengie Molina missing time with a strained upper right quad, the Giants had no choice but to add Posey to the big league roster as an insurance option.
- After hitting a combined .325 with 18 HRs and 80 RBI in his first full season between Class A Advanced San Jose and triple-A Fresno, Posey finally got his first Major League at-bat on Sept. 11 in a 10-3 loss to the Dodgers in Los Angeles, when he entered the game as a late defensive insertion and struck out in his lone plate appearance against Hiroki Kuroda.
- Collected his first ML hit in his third career at-bat on Sept. 19 at Los Angeles-NL, with a bloop single to RF off Jeff Weaver.
- Caught Randy Johnson Sept. 25, 2009 vs. Chicago-NL, which was largest age difference between a pitcher and catcher since Jesse Orosco and Rob Bowen threw together Sept. 27, 2003 (23 years and 309 days)…the age difference between Posey and Johnson was 23 years and 198 days (Sports Features Group).
- Prior to his promotion to the big league club, spilt year between Class A Advanced San Jose and triple-A Fresno…began year at SJ, hitting .326 with 23 2Bs, 13 HRs and 58 RBI in 80 contests, helping the Giants win the first half title in the CAL North Division with a 42-28 (.600) record…the Giants later went on to win the California League Championship.

- After earning CAL mid-season All-Star honors, Posey skipped double-A and made the jump to triple-A, being promoted July 14.
- Was scheduled to be promoted, however was hit in the head with a pitch by Stockton's Craig Italinao on June 26, and missed five games.
- 2008: Following the season, played for the Waikiki Beach Boys, where he was named to the HWB postseason All-Star team… helped Beach Boys win their first Hawaii Winter League Baseball championship, batting .338 with 15 RBI.

POSTSEASON CAREER

- Has already won three titles in his first six big league seasons with the Giants (2010, 2012, 2014).

- Joined Will Clark (Game 1 of 1989 NLCS) and Chuck Hiller (Game 4 of 1962 WS) as only Giants with grand slams in the postseason (Brandon Crawford then hit one in the wild-card game at Pittsburgh on Oct. 1, 2014).

- Became the first rookie catcher in Major League history to bat cleanup in a postseason game, batting fourth in Game 1 of the 2010 Division Series vs. Atlanta on Oct. 7 (Elias).

Posey's Giants Gems

- Oldest of four – two brothers and a sister.
- Mike Martin, his coach at FSU, says he never saw Buster lose control of his emotions. During a fracas after a game against rival U of Miami, Buster was the one with his palms down trying to get everyone to calm down.
- Another example of his even temper and discipline: In his last bat as a Seminole, in the College World Series, he came up to bat in the ninth with two outs, bases loaded and FSU down by three runs to U of Miami. Posey didn't chase a single pitch, his coach says. He drew a walk rather than try to be the big hero. (The next batter hit a tough grounder and the game was over.)
- The FSU fans sang a song when Buster came to bat: Hail to the Buster – he singles, he doubles, he triples, he homers – Hail to the Buster.
- He's considered a born leader – which is why Martin switched him from shortstop – where he was an All-American – to catcher. When he took over as catcher, everything for the team changed. "Best leader I've ever had," Martin says. "Treated everyone with respect but if someone needed to be dealt with, Buster dealt with them. We would have never gone to the World Series without him."
- Very competitive and takes the game seriously. After one tough loss, as the team was on the bus back to Tallahassee, a couple of freshmen were joking and laughing. Buster stood up and faced them. "I don't know about any of you, but I'm not real happy right now and I don't want to hear any laughing."
- Martin suspected he would be a good catcher because Buster is smart and very tough and knows pitching. "I thought when he put the gear on for the first time, he'd walk like a duck," Martin says. He didn't. "After three pitches, I said, you got to be kidding me. He looked as if he had been catching all his life – the way he could frame a pitch, the way his mitt looked like a pillow, the fact he didn't snatch at the ball. He looked very polished."
- Still, Martin used him seven or eight times as a closer. He pitched in the College World Series after eight innings of catching.
- Posey led the NCAA in 2008 in average (.467), slugging percentage (.864) and on-base percentage (.567) while still learning to master catching.
- Played all nine positions during one game vs. Savannah State. Also hit a grand slam in the second inning. He used four different gloves.
- Great student: ranked fourth in his high school graduating class of 302 students. "I'm not as smart as the other kids," Buster told his mother at the time. "I just work hard."
- Almost straight A's in college. A finance major, he was named to the President's List in spring 2007 for his 4.0 GPA, and made the Dean's List in the fall of 2005 and 2007. Had briefly considered becoming a pediatrician if baseball didn't work out. Loves working with kids.
- Posey's full name is Gerald Dempsey Posey III. His father, known as Demp, was nicknamed Buster as a kid and passed it on to his son.
- Dad a vice president for ACC, a wholesale food distributor. Mother is a teacher at an alternative school for kids in trouble. They met while students at Berry College in Rome, GA. Both were athletes. Traci played softball and tennis, Demp played basketball and baseball.
- Father grew up on a farm. His father – Buster's grandfather – grew peanuts and soybeans and raised animals.
- Buster grew up on a 50-acre plot of land in Georgia with a front yard so big it became a makeshift ball field. Demp erected a backstop and occasionally used the yard for Little League practice when no other fields were available. Buster was out there all the time. His grandparents live two miles away, his other set of grandparents live just 30 minutes away.
- Buster married his high school sweetheart, Kristen, in January 2009 in their hometown of Leesburg, Georgia. "I think everybody in Leesburg was there," FSU coach Mark Martin says. About 500 people. His mother's brother, a minister, performed the ceremony. The recessional song? "Take Me Out to the Ballgame."
- He and Kristen have known each other most of their lives. Grew up in the same church, Leesburg United Methodist, and went to the same schools. Their mothers worked at the same middle school – Buster's mother as a sixth-grade science teacher and Kristin's mother as a counselor. Buster and Kristin didn't start dating until she was a senior and he was a junior, and they went to Kristin's senior prom together. She went away to Auburn then transferred to Valdosta State, which was closer to Tallahassee, where Buster was. She graduated in 2008 with a degree in organizational communications.
- When he switched to catching, Kristen remembers, he would watch TV in a catcher's crouch to get his legs accustomed to the position.
- Kristen gave birth to twins, Lee and Addison (a boy and a girl), August 14, 2011.
- Loves to golf, hunt and fish.

- Surrendered nine HRs, the most he's allowed in a full season in his career and tied for the fifth-most among NL relievers.

- 2013: Named a 2013 All-Star...his 38 saves were a career-high and tied for the third-most in the NL.

- Registered at least one strikeout in 48 of 65 games...his strikeout to walk ratio of 14-to-1 was the highest in SF-era history (min. 45.0ip) and the highest in the Majors since Dennis Eckersley posted a 18.25-to-1 mark in 1990.
- Became the fifth reliever in ML history since 1919 to throw what amounted to a perfect game, retiring 31 consecutive batters faced over a 15 game stretch from July 4-Aug. 6, 2011...his streak ended on Aug. 9 as he allowed a leadoff double to PIT's Andrew McCutchen in the 8th inning...was 10 shy of matching the NL record, set by former Giant Jim Barr in 1972.

- Was on the 15-day disabled list from Aug. 16-28 with inflammation in his right elbow...missed 16 games with the injury.
- Had the longest scoreless streak of his career and ninth longest in the National League from June 30-Sept. 23, logging 21.2-scoreless innings...his streak was snapped in his second-to-last appearance of the season vs. Colorado.
- His 0.48 ERA following the All-Star break was the second-lowest figure in the NL (min. of 15.0ip).
- 2010: Was one of Bruce Bochy's most often used relievers, working a career-high 68 games (2nd-most on Giants), 62.0 innings and logging impressive 5.00 strikeout-walk ratio, which ranked sixth-best among NL relievers.
- 2009: Missed first two months with a right elbow sprain suffered in Spring Training…appeared in just one spring contest before being placed on DL March 26.

Romo's Giants Gems

- Sergio's father, Francisco – or Frank – was born to a Mexican farm laborer who immigrated to the U.S. when Frank was a baby and followed the crops. (Frank's father loved baseball and almost signed with the Mexico City Diablos but he had to work the farms.) Frank worked the fields, too, when he was growing up. The family would drive to Stockton and Salinas to pick lettuce, tomatoes, grapes. One year Frank attended five different schools. Once in 1969 when the family was living in the Bay Area, Frank's summer school class went to Candlestick to a game and he saw Willie Mays, Bobby Bonds, Chris Speier, and Tito Fuentes. Fell in love with the Giants. He joined the Navy and got married to Leticia. Spent four years active duty and two years in the reserves. Now he's a generator mechanic for CalEnergy.
- Frank played semi-pro ball (first base) in Mexicali, Mexico, not far from the family's home in Brawley. Brawley is a rural town with fields of sugar beets, alfalfa, melons. As soon as he was out of diapers, Sergio accompanied his father to games, running around the bases, playing catch. Frank says Sergio grew up with a glove on his hand. Bought him his first glove when he was 2, which Sergio still has. He kept it with him through high school and college.
- Sergio began pitching when he was 8.
- When Sergio was 15 and a sophomore in high school, he rode BMX bikes. He had saved up $400 from his paper route to buy the bike. One day during the baseball season – during which he pitched a no-hitter and a one-hitter – he came out of a flip on his bike and landed on his head. He had a bad concussion and broke his collar bone. He was airlifted to a trauma center, where doctors at first thought he was paralyzed. For five days he was in and out of consciousness. He recovered but couldn't play the rest of the season.
- After high school, he received no offers from four-year schools. His size at the time – 5 feet 7 – scared coaches off.
- His father was worried enough about Sergio's maturity and focus that he urged him to join the Navy after high school. Sergio took the entrance test and had the enlistment papers in front of him, but he couldn't sign. He convinced his father to let him try a year at community college.
- Sergio had a complicated college experience: He first went to Orange Coast Community College in Costa Mesa, but the team was loaded with pitchers and Sergio quickly realized he wouldn't get playing time. Carranza helped him transfer to Arizona Western junior college in Yuma. Pitched well. Then he transferred to the University of Northern Alabama in Florence. He put up great numbers but his horsing around and showboating led to a prickly relationship with his coach. The coach ended up yanking him from a game in the middle of an inning so he couldn't get the school record for strikeouts ("You don't deserve it," the coach told him), then declined to renew Sergio's scholarship.
- Then he went to Mesa State in Grand Junction, CO, and went 14-1. Broke six school records.
- His breakout minor-league season in '07 (6-2, 9 saves, 1.36 ERA, more than 100 Ks) began with an extended spring training because he missed curfew (during regular spring training) going to a cousin's wedding when he was told he couldn't go.
- Has worked to control his impulsivity. He missed much of his sophomore year in college with a broken hand (from getting into a fight with a guy breaking into his car). He missed games in Single-A Augusta in '06 when he broke his hand again punching a wall in anger.
- He recognizes his shortcomings, evidenced by the elaborate tattoo on his right bicep of monster faces that captures different sides of his personality. The largest image is his inner demon, the one that fuels his intensity on and off the field. Another image is a melting face; it represents the fear that he might let his life melt way and that it's up to him alone to make sure he makes something of himself. Other images represent the joker inside him, his fear of failure, his innermost secrets and his stupid mistakes.
- Below the elaborate tattoo is a newer one: large praying hands with his son's name, Rilen, on them: He says they represent his son praying for him to walk the straight and narrow, to be a good father.
- Rilen was born in 2006; Ryder was born in 2011.
- Pedro Carranza, Sergio's high school coach, says Sergio was motivated more by baseball than academics. He says Sergio's biggest challenges were his focus and tendency to talk before thinking. Carranza remembers kicking him out of practice at least twice for making inappropriate comments.
- But he says Sergio worked harder than just about anyone on the team. He wanted Carranza to work with him on Sunday, and Carranza had to tell him it was against the rules. But, Carranza said, if you hire me as your private "tutor," he could do it. He had Sergio pay him a quarter for each Sunday workout.
- Even as an adult, Carranza says, Sergio can be playful and vocal to the point of rubbing some people the wrong way. So when Sergio called him in June 2008 and said, "Coach, you're never going to believe this," Carranza thought, "Oh, what did you do? Did you go off on a coach?" Of course, he was phoning to say he had been called up. Carranza flew to Cleveland to watch Sergio's first ML start. He struck out two batters in an inning of work.

Samardzija Giants Gems

- Grew up in a mostly blue-collar neighborhood in Valparaiso, Indiana, about 45 minutes from Chicago. Has one brother, Sam, older by four years. The two are very close. Sam works for the agency that represents Jeff.
- Jeff's mother, Debora, died when he was a sophomore in high school. She had been diagnosed with a serious respiratory condition but her death was sudden and unexpected.
- Father, Sam, is a plant supervisor for a public energy supplier. He coached Jeff in Little League. Their Valparaiso team fell one game short of qualifying for the Little League World Series when Jeff was 12.
- All-around athlete who excelled in football (WR and DB), basketball (forward) and baseball in high school. Also wrestled and ran track.
- Played football and baseball at Notre Dame. Was a finalist for the Fred Biletnikoff Award, given annually to the nation's top wide receiver. Set Notre Dame's single-season records for yards receiving (1,249) and touchdown catches (15).
- Picked up the nickname The Shark because teammates thought he looked like the shark in Finding Nemo.
- Jeff's father says he was shocked when Jeff chose baseball over football to play professionally. At Notre Dame, student athletes were allotted 20 hours each week for sports. Samardzija spent 16 hours on football and four on baseball. "What?" his father said when Jeff told him. "You're a thrower, not a pitcher. You're going to have to learn how to pitch." Father says Jeff would have been a first-round draft pick in the NFL, probably by the New England Patriots.
- Jeff's brother, Sam, helped him make the decision. He visited Jeff in South Bend in December 2006, toting a white-board on which he drew a line down the middle, with FOOTBALL on one side and BASEBALL on the other. The "pros" for baseball included longevity, playing every day instead of spending so many days in meetings and practice and being able to play at Wrigley Field, baseball heaven for a kid from Indiana.
- Jeff told a reporter a few years ago: "Early in my career, I had to battle too many emotions and having that [football] mentality. To kind of suppress that for a while and learn how to pitch as a pitcher helped a lot. There are certain times when you need that—you need that little extra energy, extra fire to get through tough situations. But everything has to be in check and under control."
- Lives in Arizona in the off-season. Likes classic rock, the outdoors, surfing, Oakland Raiders.
- Met his wife Andrea backstage at a Pink Floyd concert in 2012. (She worked for the band.) He got only her first name, so he had his brother, Sam, do some sleuthing to find out who she was and how he could contact her. A week later Sam had a name and address. Jeff sent her a handwritten letter with his phone number. She called and they "dated" over the phone for two or three weeks before meeting in person in Chicago. They married February 13, 2015, near their home in Paradise Valley, Arizona, with just 12 guests.
- Their first child, a boy, is due the first week in February 2016.
- Andrea studied art history and architecture at Columbia in New York. Jeff is a history buff. In the offseason, they travel all over the world. They've went on a gorilla trek in Rwanda and on safari in the Serengeti in Tanzania. Andrea showed him the art and architecture of Venice, Florence, Tuscany and Rome. In October 2015, they took a delayed honeymoon to the Maldives, an archipelago in the Indian Ocean southwest of India.
- Jeff's surname is Serbian. His grandparents emigrated from Europe in the 1940s. He can't speak Serbian but understands a little from his grandmother.
- Jeff was in a unique position for the 2014 All-Star Game. He was traded by the Cubs to Oakland just two days before his NL All-Star selection was announced. At the All-Star Game he wore a generic NL jersey for the ceremony, while six of his new A's teammates looked on from the other side. Then he exchanged his NL jersey for an A's cap and pullover and took his spot in the AL dugout. He wasn't allowed to participate in the Game for either side because of his unique status.

Strickland's Giants Gems

- Grew up (and parents still live) in Zebulon, Georgia, (population 1181 in 2000 census). It is the county seat of Pike County, about an hour south of Atlanta. There is one stop light, a courthouse (built in 1895) and a Dairy Queen.
- Hunter is the fourth of seven children (five boys, two girls) who shared one bathroom. Dad Ken was a left-handed pitcher who, like Hunter, threw 99 mph. He reached Triple A with the Detroit Tigers. Has a house-framing company, Strickland Construction. Mom, Maggie, worked as a secretary at the high school and now works as a nanny.
- The kids spent most of their time outdoors playing sports, hunting, swimming, fishing. "They hunted anything that breathed that wasn't human," jokes Hunter's wife, Shelley.
- Married Shelley in 2011. They have known each other since kindergarten and began dating in eighth grade. She is a nurse.
- Always wanted to be a pro baseball player. The brothers nailed a plywood square to a tree in the backyard and threw against it until they'd worn a hole in it, then nailed another board. They'd practice rundowns with two brothers tossing the ball and a third running.
- The boys played on the top baseball traveling teams, with high expectations from their old-school strict father. Once, after his father had berated 12-year-old Hunter for not playing well, he woke his son the next morning at sunrise. He took Hunter to the baseball field and apologized. "I know you're going to make varsity in ninth grade and I know you're going to play professional ball," he said.
- In high school, Hunter was the star pitcher on the baseball team, star quarterback on the football team, homecoming king and vice president of his senior class. (In total, three Strickland boys were homecoming kings and another was in the homecoming court.)
- All the boys worked with their dad. "We always knew (through seven lean years in the minor leagues) Hunter had a fall-back job. He could build a house any day of the week — even though he has said he will never build another house again," Shelley says.
- Drafted out of high school in 2007 by the Red Sox in the 18th round. When he got the call from his agent that the Sox were interested, he was up on a roof framing a house with his dad. After the most exciting news of his life, he simply worked the rest of the day. Several years later, after he was traded to the Pirates, he was up on a roof again with his dad when he got the good news that the Pirates had added him to their 40-man roster.
- To save money when he was in low-A for the Pirates in West Virginia, he and two teammates slept most of the season in the clubhouse: one on a couch, two on blow-up mattresses that they deflated every morning and pushed to the side. They hit golf balls on the field at night.
- Rotator cuff surgery with Pirates 2011, then shortly after being claimed off waivers by the Giants in 2013, he had Tommy John surgery. Was throwing in low 90's before rotator cuff and his speed jumped a little after. It jumped a little more after Tommy John. "It was tough at the time but I wouldn't trade it," Hunter says of the injuries. "I feel like that's made me who I am as a person." He now throws up to 100 mph.
- He, his brother Rhett (two years older) and several friends from the minor leagues are taping a hunting/baseball show they hope to sell to a TV station. Their company is called Spread Crushers. Several episodes focus on hosting a hunt for people with disabilities. Hunter and Rhett took out a man in wheelchair suffering from ALS and helped him shoot two deer.
- Hunter and Shelley have bought a home in Phoenix.
- On July 4, 2014, Hunter memorably entered double-A Richmond's game in front of a capacity crowd wearing an American flag vest...he promptly retired the side in order to preserve the Richmond win and earn the save.
- Keeps a picture of his surgically repaired elbow taped above his locker, and had written in sharpie on the photo "Pain is weakness leaving the body".
- Is an avid fisherman and outdoorsman.

Susac's Giants Gems

- Grew up in Roseville, CA, near Sacramento, the grandson of immigrants from the former Yugoslavia. Grandfather Yanko Susac escaped into Austria then to America, where he met Jana, whose family found its way to Stockton. Yanko built up an electrical business; Jana worked as a seamstress. They emphasized hard work. "Everything was school, school, school," says Andrew's father, Nick. "He thought athletic games were a waste of time."
- But Yanko and Jana's sons, Nick and John, fell in love with baseball, and they passed it on to their own children. They coached Nick's three sons from the time the boys could walk.
- Andrew is the oldest of the sons. He has two brothers: Matt, two years younger, and Daniel, 11 years younger. Matt played baseball at the University of Nevada-Reno, and Daniel, 14, is one of three players from Woodcreek Little Leabue to win all three NorCal championships. (Andrew's 2004 Junior all-stars from Woodcreek reached the Western Regionals bracket of the Little League World Series.)
- Andrew could speak a little Croatian as a kid. His father would call pitches from the dugout in Croatian. He'd say in Croatian, "Your cousin Rachel just showed up." Nick explains: "His cousin Rachel is fast, so that meant a fastball. If I said 'Grandma just showed up,' well, Grandma is slow and crookedy, so that meant a curveball. It drove the opposing players crazy."
- Andrew is also compassionate. Nick tells the story of a mentally handicapped kid sitting the stands a few days in a row watching Andrew's team practice at Jesuit High School in Carmichael, CA. One day, Andrew went into the stands and sat for a while and talked with kid. Then he came back and gave him a ball. Some weeks later, Nick met a local baseball legend named Doc Smith. When Smith found out Andrew was Nick's son, his face lit up. It turned out the mentally handicapped boy was Smith's son. "Your kid will walk on water forever in my book," Smith told Nick, "because the world doesn't care about my son."
- At Jesuit High School, in addition to baseball, Andrew played three years of varsity football (tight end and linebacker).
- Very hyperactive and distracted kid. One of his coaches once said, "Andrew put the A in ADD." Schoolwork could be difficult at times. "He had to work twice as hard to get the grades," Nick said. He drank Pepsi to calm his hyperactivity.
- He likes catching in part because there was so much to do and to think about.
- Uncle John devised a "Rambo" workout for Andrew to improve his "pop time," the time to catch the pitch and throw to second. He wore weights on his ankles for 50 simulated throws, then 50 times without the weights and back and forth until he had his pop time in high school was 1.76 seconds — almost unheard of for his age. Uncle John also filled an aluminum bat with sand and had Andrew and his brother Matt hit a boxer's punching bag to develop strength in forearms and wrists. Also jumped rope. Then when their father came home from work, the boys might do a complementary workout with him.
- The summer before he entered Oregon State, he watched video of the previous season's games for four hours a day. Watched each video twice — once to watch his own pitchers, once to watch opposing hitters. Took detailed notes that he kept in a binder.
- Giants' second-round pick in 2011 draft.
- Called up to Major Leagues July 26, 2014, after backup catcher Hector Sanchez suffered a concussion.
- Nickname: Suze.
- Father Nick is a contract and home builder. Mother Shawnna is a patient advocate at Mercy Hospital in Roseville, CA.
- Andrew, and both his brothers have always worn Number 10 because when their father was a kid he met Larry Bowa, a Major League infielder who was also a Sacramento native. Bowa wore Number 10.

Tomlinson's Giants Gems

- Grew up in Elgin, a small rural town of a few thousand people in southern Oklahoma near the historic Fort Sill Army base. Elgin got its first traffic light in 2014. It has one grocery store, a Dollar General, a Family Dollar, a Sonic and a McDonald's.
- Kelby's father Chris works at the Goodyear plant in nearby Lawton, OK. His mother Fern works as an assistant teacher at HeadStart in Lawton.
- Kelby was small for his age but had a growth spurt between his sophomore and junior year of high school. And he was always thin.
- Kelby has an older sister and two younger brothers: Krysten (28), Kameron (23), and Kollin (21). His mother stuck with K names after naming her oldest daughter. She came across the name Shelby and turned it into Kelby.
- Closest Major League team to Elgin is the Texas Rangers, 3 1/2 hours away. He went there with his brother and a friend (and his parents) as a gift for his 10th birthday.
- His parents were divorced for eight years then remarried. During the time apart, Kelby's mom worked two jobs, and money was tight. To pay for summer ball on the competitive teams, the family went without internet or cable TV.
- No college recruited him out of high school. His uncle, Ricky Burns, called and emailed one junior college after another "begging for a tryout for him," Burns said. He ended up at Seward Community College in Liberal, Kansas, only because the shortstop who had committed to the school backed out. Seward was a six-hour drive from Elgin. Kelby is the first player from Seward Community College to reach the Majors.
- He was a gym rat at Seward. His coach would see the lights on in the batting cage at 10 o'clock at night and knew Kelby had talked somebody into throwing to him.
- After two years at Seward, he went to Texas Tech.
- Drafted in the 12th round in 2011. It was a bittersweet day for the family. Kelby was very close to his grandmother, who took care of him and his siblings when his mom was at work and who attended every one of his junior high and high school games. She was his biggest fan. Kelby's parents were at the grandmother's house on the second day of the draft, June 7, when the doctor told them she wouldn't make it much longer. Her kidneys had failed. "She got to hear Kelby's name announced on the computer that he got drafted," Kelby's mother said. She died four days later at age 68. Kelby left for rookie ball soon afterward.
- Proposed to his future wife, Tiffany, who he met at Seward CC, on his high school baseball field in Elgin on New Year's Eve 2011. They married October 26, 2012. They live in Liberal in the off-season in Tiffany's parents' basement in Seward.
- Closest city to Seward is Amarillo, Texas, 3 1/2 hours away or Oklahoma City, 4 1/2 hours away.
- On their first date, Tiffany said she was so nervous because Kelby was so quiet she was afraid he wouldn't talk. Tiffany knew nothing about baseball. He bought her "Baseball For Dummies" for her birthday.
- In the off-season, Kelby had been substitute teaching PE classes three or four days a week at Liberal High and junior high.
- Called up to the Majors August 3, 2015 to fill in for second-baseman Joe Panik, on the disabled list with back soreness. Got a hit in his first at-bat that night as a pinch-hitter.
- In his first start, on August 6 in Chicago, he drove in three runs in his first two at-bats. His parents were there that night to watch him.
- Hit a grand slam August 27, 2015, at AT&T Park against the Cubs for his first Major League home run.
- Tomlinson and Matt Duffy, to whom he is most often compared, were roommates in 2014 when both played for the Giants' Double-A Richmond affiliate. They rented a place with minor league catcher Myles Schroder. Tomlinson's wife, Tiffany, lived there, too, along with their dog.
- He stole 49 bags over a full season in Double-A and once recorded five steals in a single game with the Flying Squirrels.
- He wears glasses on the field though he has around 20/30 vision in both eyes. But he feels the glasses provide extra sharpness in night games and now he's accustomed to wearing them even in day games..
- Kelby is a devout Christian. His wife Tiffany's father is a Baptist minister at Fellowship Baptist Church in Liberal. In the off season, Kelby and Tiffany attend church Sunday morning, Sunday night and Wednesday night.
- Tiffany works in an optical shop and was the one who encouraged him to consider glasses "when his night driving got questionable" and made the lenses herself at the optical shop.
- They have a rescue dog, a lab mix named Tilly Mae. They are both huge fans of Cesar Millan, the Dog Whisperer. They went to Cesar Millan LIVE for Valentine's Day.
- Tilly Mae is staying with Kelby's host family from his Single A days in San Jose.
- Kelby doesn't drink alcohol, eat sweets, drink tea, coffee or sodas, except for a couple times a year. "A big deal for him is having a Dr. Pepper," Tiffany says. He drinks a lot of Muscle Milk Gainer shakes to try to gain weight.

30th Major League Baseball All-Star Game

Tuesday, July 11, 1961 at Candlestick Park (San Francisco, CA)

In just its second year of existence, Candlestick Park—the majors' first all-concrete stadium—played host to the first of two Major League Baseball All-Star Games played in 1961. Long before the days of the Home Run Derby and All-Star Gala, the game itself provided plenty of excitement, with a quartet of Hall of Famers leading the National League to a come-from-behind, 5-4 victory in 10 innings. Trailing the American League 4-3 entering the bottom of the 10th frame, the senior circuit received a single from Hank Aaron, a run-scoring double by Willie Mays, a walk by Orlando Cepeda and the game-winning single from Roberto Clemente—all off fellow Cooperstown resident Hoyt Wilhelm.

However, those last at-bat heroics were almost not needed, as they became necessitated by one of the more bizarre and memorable moments in All-Star Game history. With the National Leaguers clinging to a 3-2, ninth-inning lead and a runner on third, a gust of wind knocked Giants' pitcher Stu Miller from his set position on the mound, resulting in a balk that allowed the tying run to score.

A capacity crowd of 44,115 filled the 'Stick for a contest that featured four San Francisco Giants (Mays, Cepeda, Miller and Mike McCormick) and a combined 18 players who would later be enshrined in the Hall of Fame.

55th Major League Baseball All-Star Game

Tuesday, July 10, 1984 at Candlestick Park (San Francisco, CA)

After a 33-year absence, the Major League Baseball All-Star Game returned to the Bay Area with the 1984 Midsummer Classic at Candlestick Park. Proving well worth the wait, 57,756 fans were treated to fourteen future Hall of Famers and another who will be enshrined in Cooperstown (Rickey Henderson).

Pitching dominated this contest, with the National League batterymates for the fourth and fifth innings stealing the headlines in a 3-1 senior circuit victory. On the 50th anniversary of the Giants' Carl Hubbell striking out five consecutive batters, the duo of Fernando Valenzuela and Dwight Gooden did "King Carl" one better. Valenzuela fanned all three American League hitters he faced in the fourth inning; then, the youngest player in All-Star Game history—a 19-year-old Gooden—whiffed all three batters in the fifth. Gary Carter, who caught both frames, also broke a 1-1 tie with a solo homer in the second en route to MVP honors.

Oakland's Bill Caudill, making his only All-Star appearance, also posted a perfect inning via strikeout, doing so in his lone frame (seventh). Fittingly, in a game that featured a combined 21 strikeouts, the tight contest ended when Goose Gossage fanned Henderson with a runner on base in the ninth.

78th Major League Baseball All-Star Game

Tuesday, July 10, 2007 at AT&T Park (San Francisco, CA)

The first All-Star Game at AT&T Park lived up to its billing, with the best of baseball turning in a thrilling contest in front of 43,965 fans. Most importantly, the game was San Francisco in all of its essence — beginning with an emotional pre-game tribute to Hall of Famer Willie Mays, the greatest Giant of them all.

True to Mays' greatness, the Midsummer Classic featured a little bit of everything – including the first inside-the-park home run in All-Star Game history, hit by Ichiro Suzuki en route to Most Valuable Player honors. In the end, the American League captured a 5-4 victory after withstanding the National League's furious two-out, ninth-inning rally.

Flexing its muscle and speed, the junior circuit jumped out to a 5-2 lead on the strength of three home runs. The most memorable – and uniquely San Francisco – was Ichiro's two-run shot in the fifth that put the AL ahead 2-1. With a runner on first and one out, the Seattle star drove the first pitch he saw deep to right field – where it hit off the asymmetrical wall and caromed towards the 421-foot sign in right-center. By the time right fielder Ken Griffey, Jr. could relay the ball to the infield, Ichiro had scampered around the bases and set All-Star Game history.

Following Carl Crawford's solo home run in the sixth and Victor Martinez' two-run clout in the eighth, the AL gave a three-run lead to closer J.J. Putz in the ninth. After the first two National League hitters were retired, Dmitri Young singled and Alfonso Soriano hammered a two-run homer of his own to bring the senior circuit within 5-4. Three walks followed to load the bases – including two off new pitcher Francisco Rodriguez – but Rodriguez got Aaron Rowand to fly out and end the game.

Retired Uniform Numbers

In the storied 133-year history of Giants baseball, 11 former players or managers have enjoyed careers worthy of their jersey numbers being retired by the club. Only the New York Yankees (21) have retired more numbers. The 11 Giant greats are honored at AT&T Park with their names and retired uniform numbers displayed atop the Giants dugout and along the left field suite level facade.

Christy Mathewson and John McGraw, who both predated the use of numbers on jerseys, are recognized along with fellow New York Giants Bill Terry (#3), Mel Ott (#4), Carl Hubbell (#11) and Monte Irvin (#20). Willie Mays (#24), who played for the club on both coasts, joins former San Francisco stars Juan Marichal (#27), Orlando Cepeda (#30), Gaylord Perry (#36) and Willie McCovey (#44) in this select group.

The Giants also honor Jackie Robinson, whose uniform number (42) was retired throughout Major League Baseball in 1997 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of his arrival in the big leagues.

In 2004, the Giants commemorated two of baseball's greatest broadcasters with disks honoring Russ Hodges and Lon Simmons.

The Giants recognize the following individuals, who have been honored by the National Baseball Hall of Fame for their contributions to the game: Lindsey Nelson (Ford C. Frick Award, 1988), Leonard Koppett (J.G. Taylor Spink Award, 1992), Bob Stevens (J.G. Taylor Spink Award, 1998), Nick Peters (J.G. Giants Wall of Fame

On September 23, 2008, the San Francisco Giants unveiled the team's Wall of Fame, which serves as a living tribute to the organization's greatest players. It recognizes retired players whose records stand highest among their teammates on the basis of longevity and achievements. Those honored have played a minimum of nine seasons for the San Francisco Giants, or five seasons with at least one All-Star selection as a Giant.

46 Giants legends have qualified for this distinction. Bronze plaques honoring these players and their baseball contributions line the wall of AT&T Park along King Street for all baseball fans to enjoy. As present and future generations of Giants players meet the criteria, plaques celebrating their careers will join the Wall of Fame upon their retirement.

Giants All-Time Post Season Results

National League Wild Card

2014 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. PITTSBURGH PIRATES

(Giants win series, 1 game to 0)

The Giants defeated the Pirates, 8-0, in the National League wild-card game backed on the arm of Madison Bumgarner and the bat of Brandon Crawford. Bumgarner threw a four-hitter while striking out 10 batters and Crawford hit a grand slam in the 4th inning off Edinson Volquez, sending the Giants from a winner-take-all wild-card game to a National League Division Series matchup with the Washington Nationals.

With the bases loaded in the 4th inning and nobody out in a scoreless game, Crawford turned on Volquez's hanging breaking ball and sent it to right field, landing a few rows deep and giving the Giants a 4-0 lead while silencing a PNC Park crowd of 40,629. Crawford became the first shortstop to hit a grand slam in postseason history and he joined Chuck Hiller (1962 World Series), Will Clark (1989 National League Championship Series) and Buster Posey (2012 NLDS) as the only Giants to hit a grand slam in postseason play.

Bumgarner, meanwhile, dominated one of the NL's best lineups, walking one and allowing just four singles on 109 pitches, 79 for strikes. Moments after finishing his shutout, Bumgarner found himself surrounded by teammates in the middle of the diamond celebrating a playoff victory.

2014	Date	Site	W/L	Score	Winner	Loser	Save	Attendance
1	10/1	at Pittsburgh	W	8-0	BUMGARNER	Volquez		40,629

National League Division Series

1997 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. FLORIDA MARLINS

(Marlins win series, 3 games to 0)

San Francisco won its first National League West title since 1989 to become only the fourth team during the 20th century to win its division after finishing in last place the previous season.

The Giants outdueled the Dodgers in a classic pennant race for the N.L. West flag. Perhaps the crowning moment of San Francisco's magical ride came Sept. 18 when catcher Brian Johnson led off the 12th inning with a game-winning clout off Los Angeles' Mark Guthrie to put the Giants in a first place tie with nine games remaining.

New General Manager Brian Sabean revamped the Giants roster, bringing in 15 players who were not in the organization at the end of the 1996 campaign. He shocked the baseball world by acquiring All-Star pitchers Wilson Alvarez and Roberto Hernandez and 18-year Major League veteran pitcher Danny Darwin from the Chicago White Sox in exchange for six minor leaguers at the July 31 trading deadline.

The renewed Giants made their first post season appearance in eight years when they faced National League wild card entry Florida Marlins in the Division Series. Despite losing all three games of the series, San Francisco gave Florida its toughest test en route to its first World Championship.

Both Games #1 and #2 came down to the last at-bat, with Florida taking advantage of being the home club and posting 2-1 and 7-6 victories, respectively.

Despite two solo home runs by Giants' second baseman Jeff Kent in Game #3, the Marlins finished off the sweep on the strength of Devon White's sixth inning grand slam off Alvarez.

1997	Date	Site	W/L	Score	Winner	Loser	Save	Attendance
1	9/30	at Florida	L	1-2	Cook	Tavarez		42,167
2	10/1	at Florida	L	6-7	Nen	R. Hernandez		41,283
3	10/3	at San Francisco	L	2-6	Fernandez	Alvarez		57,188

2000 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. NEW YORK METS

(Mets win series, 3 games to 1)

San Francisco won its second National League West title in four years as the club posted a Major League-best 97-65 mark, only to see its October run stopped short by the Wild Card New York Mets, a club that would eventually win the NL flag.

The Giants enjoyed a truly magical regular season, its first in its new jewel of a home, AT&T Park. Playing in front of 81 straight sellouts that accounted for a franchise-record 3,244,320 fans, San Francisco rattled off a 55-26 ledger, matching the Mets for the best home mark in the majors.

Dusty Baker won his third NL Manager of the Year award after guiding his troops to a Major League-best 51-26 record after the All-Star Break, resulting in an 11-game cushion, the Giants' largest winning margin since 1913.

San Francisco produced its most prolific offensive attack in 70 years, led by National League Most Valuable Player Jeff Kent. Teammate Barry Bonds, who finished second in the MVP voting, clubbed 49 clouts.

The Giants jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the NLDS with a 5-1 victory in front of a raucous Game #1 crowd at AT&T Park. Livan Hernandez held New York to one run over 7.2 innings while Ellis Burks clubbed a three-run, third-inning homer off the left field foul pole.

J.T. Snow's dramatic three-run, pinch homer in the bottom of the ninth tied Game #2 4-4, but the Mets would rally to win 5-4 in 10 innings and even the series at a game apiece.

Unfortunately for San Francisco, its offense went south when the club went east, as the Giants could manage only two runs in 22 innings at Shea Stadium. New York's Benny Agbayani gave the Mets a 3-2 victory in Game #3 with a 13th inning solo home run, and Bobby Jones hurled a one-hit shutout for a 4-0 win in the Game #4 clincher.

2002 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. ATLANTA BRAVES

(Giants win series, 3 games to 2)

Following a 3-0 loss at Florida on August 18th, a stagnant San Francisco club stood at 66-56, four games behind Los Angeles in the NL Wild Card chase. From then on, the Giants would play like champions, going 29-10 down the stretch to capture the league's fourth playoff spot by three and a half contests over the Dodgers.

Despite a 95-win campaign that tied for the fourth-most victories in San Francisco history, the Giants entered the NLDS as heavy underdogs to the Atlanta Braves, who captured their 11th-consecutive division crown by an astounding 19.0-game margin.

Undaunted by their opponents and buoyed by the right arm of starter Russ Ortiz, the Giants stormed into Turner Field and won the series opener by an 8-5 count as Rich Aurilia, Benito Santiago and J.T. Snow all collected two RBI apiece.

Yet, the hope of Game #1 quickly turned into despair, as Atlanta backed the stout pitching of Kevin Millwood and Greg Maddux, respectively, with 17 combined runs in a pair of routs to take a 2-1 series lead.

Facing the prospect of a long winter, San Francisco turned to past playoff hero Livan Hernandez to work his magic once again in Game #4 at AT&T Park. The big right-hander responded by hurling 8.1-strong innings, while Aurilia finished 3-for-4 with a homer and four RBI as the Giants won 8-3 to force a return trip to Atlanta.

In the decisive Game #5, Barry Bonds exorcised his demons of post season past, singling and scoring the Giants' first run in the second and clubbing an opposite-field, solo homer in the fourth that gave SF a 2-0 lead. Ortiz became the first Giants pitcher to win two games in the same post season series since Carl Hubbell went 2-0 in the 1933 World Series, yet San Francisco's 3-1 victory was in doubt until the end. With two men on and none out in the ninth, closer Robb Nen struck out Gary Sheffield then induced Chipper Jones to ground into a series-ending double play.

2003 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. FLORIDA MARLINS

(Marlins win series, 3 games to 1)

For the first time since 1936-37, the Giants earned consecutive appearances in post season play, as the club won its third National League West title in seven years and became only the second team in franchise history to go wire-to-wire with an overall finish of 100-61.

A flurry of offseason moves brought new faces to San Francisco as the team introduced first year manager Felipe Alou and four new starters to the lineup. The revamped club breezed by their opposition, ending their campaign 15.5 games ahead of the Dodgers for the Giants' largest advantage in 91 years.

General Manager Brian Sabean garnered Executive of the Year accolades for constructing the team with the third best record in baseball and Barry Bonds earned his unprecedented 6th National League Most Valuable Player Award.

Headed into Game #1 of the NLDS rested and primed for success, pitching ace Jason Schmidt thrived in the intense atmosphere at AT&T Park, tossing a complete-game three-hitter as the Giants blanked the visiting Marlins 2-0.

A sudden turn of events plagued the Giants in Game #2, as San Francisco saw their 4-1 lead quickly vanish as Gold Glovers made costly miscues and the Marlins escaped AT&T Park with a 9-5 win.

Knotted up at 1-1, both teams headed to South Florida, but the Giants' run of bad luck seemed to follow. After taking a 3-2 advantage in the 11th inning of Game #3, SF let the Marlins slip back into the contest after a dropped fly ball by Jose Cruz, Jr. allowed the tying run on base. With 2 out, the bases loaded and a 1-2 count on Ivan Rodriguez, Tim Worrell's next pitch was drilled into right field for a game-winning, 2-run single.

In Game #4, San Francisco's furious comeback in the 9th fell short as J.T. Snow was thrown out at the plate on Jeffrey Hammonds' 2-out single to left, giving the Marlins a 7-6 victory and ending the Giants' hopes for another playoff run.

2010 -- SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. ATLANTA BRAVES

(Giants win series, 3 games to 1)

After clinching the 2010 NL West Crown in the final game of the regular season, the Giants entered the NL Division Series at home vs. the Atlanta Braves. In order to get there, Giants' General Manager Brian Sabean had built a pitching staff that led the Majors in ERA with a 3.36 figure, while also revamping his offense throughout the season by acquiring difference making outfielders Pat Burrell and Cody Ross as well as bringing up eventual 2010 NL Rookie of the Year Buster Posey from the minor leagues in late May.

San Francisco made a push for the 2010 NL West Title on August 27. Entering that day, SF was 6.0 games back of the San Diego Padres, however the Giants were red hot in the season's final month, posting an 18-8 record, which was the second best winning percentage in baseball.

The Giants would win the NLDS over the Braves 3-games-to-1 behind their stalwart pitching as all four games in the series were decided by a one-run margin, which marked the first time in postseason history in which every game was decided by one run. The pitching staff posted a 1.66 ERA as Tim Lincecum was dominant in his postseason debut, tossing a two-hit, 14-strikeout shutout during the Giants' 1-0 win in Game #1.

San Francisco lost Game #2 as the Braves' Rick Ankiel hit a splash hit home run in the top of the 11th frame to help Atlanta pull ahead 5-4.

The next two games were won in dramatic fashion as SF rallied past the Braves 3-2 in Game #3, thanks in part to three fielding errors by Atlanta second baseman Brooks Conrad.

Madison Bumgarner came up aces in Game #4 as he held Atlanta to two runs in 6.0 innings in his postseason debut. However, it was Cody Ross who played hero in the clinching game as he homered in the sixth inning to break up Derek Lowe's no-hit bid, while also driving in the go-ahead run in the seventh inning as SF won 3-2 and clinched their first Division series since 2002.

2012 -- SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. CINCINNATI REDS

(Giants win series, 3 games to 2)

The 2012 edition of the Giants won the division title despite crushing injuries and unexpected slumps. All-Star closer Brian Wilson was lost for the year after a second Tommy John surgery, Freddy Sanchez never returned after battling back and shoulder issues, Melky Cabrera, acquired in the offseason, was lost in mid-August after testing positive for testosterone and two-time Cy Young award winner Tim Lincecum was having the worst season of his career.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers, with an influx of cash, shook the baseball world with a nine player trade with the Red Sox, centered around slugger Adrian Gonzalez going back to the West Coast.

However, All-Star catcher and 2012 MVP Buster Posey, along with mid-season acquisitions Marco Scutaro and Hunter Pence, ignited the Giants and after trailing the Dodgers by 7.5 games as late as May 28, they slowly chipped away and ended up winning the West by a whopping 8.0 games, their second division title in the last three seasons.

Their first round opponent in the playoffs, the Cincinnati Reds, led by Joey Votto and Brandon Phillips, stormed into San Francisco and took the first two games from the Giants, winning by scores of 5-2 and 9-0. Facing the daunting task of being down 2-0 in the best-of-five division series, the Giants now had to win three consecutive games on the road, something that had never been accomplished in baseball postseason history.

With all the local and national media counting the Giants out, Hunter Pence stood up and fired up his teammates with a football-like huddle and rallying speech in the dugout prior to Game #3, a game in which SF won 2-1, avoiding a sweep.

In Game #4, Angel Pagan hit the first leadoff home run in Giants posteason history, and Gregor Blanco and Pablo Sandoval connected later for an 8-3 victory that evened the series at 2-2.

Not just any comeback would get SF back to playing for a pennant. It would take one of Giant proportions and Buster Posey helped make it happen as he hit the third grand slam in Giants' postseason history and San Francisco pulled off an unprecedented revival, moving to the LCS with a 6-4 victory over the Reds in the deciding Game #5.

2014 – SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS VS. WASHINGTON NATIONALS

(Giants win series, 3 game to 1)

San Francisco defeated the heavily favored Washington Nationals, three-games-to-one in the National League Division Series.

Jake Peavy pitched no-hit ball for 4.0 innings and didn't allow a run in his 5.2-inning outing in Game #1. Hunter Strickland bailed Peavy out of a bases-loaded jam in the sixth by striking out Ian Desmond. Bryce Harper and Asdrubal Cabrera each hit solo homers off Strickland in the seventh as the Nationals cut a 3-0 deficit to 3-2. Sergio Romo worked out of a jam in the eighth and Santiago Casilla retired all three hitters in the ninth for the save.

What became the longest-ever postseason game in terms of time (6:23) and tied for the longest in terms of innings had seemed headed for a conclusion in the ninth in Game #2. Washington's Jordan Zimmermann had a 1-0 lead, was working on a three-hitter and had retired 20 consecutive batters before walking Joe Panik with two outs in the final frame. Manager Matt Williams then brought in Drew Storen to face Buster Posey, who hit a first-pitch single, and then Pablo Sandoval tied the game by slicing a double into the left-field corner to bring home Panik. The Nats' relay was just in time to cut down Posey at the plate. The game soon spun into extra innings. Yusmeiro Petit threw 6.0-shutout innings, during which he allowed one hit and struck out seven. Leading off the 18th, Brandon Belt drove a Tanner Roark pitch over the right-field wall to put the Giants in front. Hunter Strickland preserved the edge in the bottom of the inning to pick up the save.

The Giants' 10-game postseason winning streak ended with an error in Game #3. Madison Bumgarner and Doug Fister were locked in a scoreless matchup in the seventh before the San Francisco ace inaccurately —threw to 3rd after fielding Wilson Ramos' sacrifice bunt. Two runs scored on the errant throw.

A bases-loaded walk to Gregor Blanco and an RBI groundout by Joe Panik gave the Giants a 2-0 lead in the second inning of Game #4. Hunter Pence made one of the Giants' top defensive plays of the postseason in the sixth when he banged into the right-field wall as he tracked down Jayson Werth's drive. However, Bryce Harper homered off Hunter Strickland in the following inning to tie the game at 2-2. The Giants regained the lead for good in the bottom of the inning on Aaron Barrett's wild pitch on which Panik came home. With two outs and the bases empty in the ninth, Santiago Casilla walked Harper before getting Wilson Ramos on a grounder to Panik at second. The Giants soon would spray Champagne and prepare to meet the Cardinals in the NLCS.

1971 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. PITTSBURGH PIRATES

(Pirates win series, 3 games to 1)

After winning its first National League West crown, San Francisco entered the National League Championship Series as the favorite against Eastern Division titlists Pittsburgh. The Giants had posted nine wins in 12 contests vs. the Pirates during the regular season.

However, the Giants ran into the hot hitting of Pirates' first baseman Bob Robertson, who clubbed four home runs to lead Pittsburgh to a three games-to-one series victory.

Since staff ace Juan Marichal pitched San Francisco to the NL West flag in its season finale at San Diego, future Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry got the call in Game #1. The right-hander scattered four runs (three earned) and nine hits over his complete game effort as Willie McCovey and Tito Fuentes each delivered two-run home runs in the fourth inning to power SF to a 5-4 victory.

Then Robertson took over. He clubbed a NLCS record three home runs in Game #2 to lead the Pirates to a 9-4 triumph. The first baseman finished 4-for-4 with four runs scored and five RBI as Pittsburgh's victory ended a six-game losing streak at Candlestick Park.

Marichal pitched a four-hitter when the playoffs shifted to Three Rivers Stadium for Game #3, but home runs by Robertson and Richie Hebner gave the Pirates a 2-1 victory behind Bob Johnson and Dave Guisti.

The Bucs advanced to the World Series when they tattooed Perry for seven runs and 10 hits over 5.2 innings in the fourth and final game of the series.

1987 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

(Cardinals win series, 4 games to 3)

The Giants became only the fourth team in Major League history since 1900 to finish first within two years of a 100-loss disaster. SF rattled off a 90-72 mark to win the 1987 National League West crown after going 62-100 in 1985.

San Francisco battled back from a five-game deficit on Aug. 7 and went 37-17 the rest of the way to capture its first NL West title in 16 years.

Jeffrey Leonard, whose "one-flap-down" home run trot was the story of the series, became the first player on a losing team to capture the NLCS MVP honor when he hit .417 with four home runs and five RBI despite the Giants falling to the Cardinals in seven games.

San Francisco split the first two games of the series in St. Louis, with Dave Dravecky-who was acquired from the San Diego Padres in a seven-player deal on July 4-shutting out the Cardinals on two hits in Game #2.

When the series moved to Candlestick Park, the Giants took a 4-0, fifth inning advantage in Game #3 but the Cardinals roared back to post a 6-5 victory and take a 2-1 lead in the series.

Leonard responded by crushing a two-run clout in the fifth inning of the fourth game to push San Francisco to a series-evening 4-2 triumph. His four homers in four games tied the Championship Series record for a league playoff of any duration.

The Giants took a three games-to-two series advantage back to St. Louis after posting a 6-3 victory in the fifth contest. However, San Francisco didn't score a run in either of the last two games.

1989 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. CHICAGO CUBS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 1)

Will Clark carried the Giants to their first NL pennant in 27 years when San Francisco defeated the Chicago Cubs in five games.

Clark provided offensive bookends in the series, starting with six RBI in the opener and ending with a two-out, bases-loaded, series-winning two-run single in the eighth inning of Game #5. "Will the Thrill" established new NLCS standards for average (.650), hits (13), runs (eight), total bases (24) and slugging percentage (1.200).

Included in those opening-game six RBI for Clark was his fourth-inning grand slam off Cubs' starter Greg Maddux, which gave San Francisco an 8-3 lead. The Giants' first baseman finished the contest 4-for-4 with four runs scored, a double and two home runs.

The Cubs claimed victory in Game #2, so the series headed to San Francisco tied a game apiece. However, Robby Thompson clubbed a two-run, seventh-inning homer off Les Lancaster to give the Giants a 5-4 victory in the third game.

In one of the most intense at-bats in Giants' post season history in Game #4, Matt Williams locked up with lefty Steve Wilson in a 12-pitch plate appearance that resulted in a two-run blast which propelled San Francisco to a 6-4 victory.

As broadcaster Hank Greenwald said, "27 years of waiting have come to an end" when the Giants posted a 3-2 come-from-behind victory in Game #5. Clark once again delivered the game-winner, a two-run single up the spine of the infield off Mitch "Wild Thing" Williams.

Under manager Roger Craig, the Giants won their first National League pennant since 1962 by defeating the Chicago Cubs in five games in the 1989 NLCS.

2002 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 1)

Following a furious late-season run to capture the Wild Card berth and a stirring five-game NLDS victory over Atlanta, the Giants provided the only truly fitting encore—they won the club's first NL pennant in 13 years by defeating the St. Louis Cardinals in a scintillating and highly competitive five-contest NLCS.

San Francisco began its run to the Fall Classic by winning each of the first two contests in St. Louis. The Giants pounded Cardinals ace Matt Morris early and often en route to a 9-6 victory in Game #1, while Jason Schmidt turned in a dominating Game #2 performance. The right-hander struck out eight and carried a shutout into the eighth inning, while Rich Aurilia's two-homer, three-RBI effort spurred a 4-1 triumph.

Despite Barry Bonds' dramatic three-run, fifth-inning homer into McCovey Cove that briefly tied Game #3 at AT&T Park, a solo clout by St. Louis' Eli Marrero and stingy pitching by the Cardinal bullpen gave the visitors a 5-4 win and renewed hope.

St. Louis jumped out to a 2-0, first-inning lead in Game #4 and appeared on its way to evening the series until a pair of Giants veterans turned the tide. In the sixth, J.T. Snow delivered a two-out, two-run double that knotted the contest. Following a two-out intentional walk to Bonds in the eighth, Benito Santiago cemented his series MVP honors by clubbing a full-count offering from Rick White into the left field bleachers for a 4-2 lead. Robb Nen struck out the final two hitters in the ninth to strand the tying run at third and close out a 4-3 SF victory.

Giants' lefty Kirk Rueter and Morris engaged in a classic October pitchers' duel in a Game #5 that was scoreless until St. Louis broke through with a run in the seventh. Bonds tied the contest 1-1 with an eighth-inning sacrifice fly, thus setting the stage for one of the most dramatic moments in San Francisco history.

Morris retired the first two Giants hitters in the bottom of the ninth inning, but was chased by consecutive singles from David Bell and Shawon Dunston. St. Louis turned to reliever Steve Kline, and Kenny Lofton greeted the southpaw by lining his first pitch into right-center field for a single that scored a sliding Bell as the jubilant NL champion Giants poured onto the field.

2010 -- SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. PHILADELPHIA PHILLIES

(Giants win series, 4 games to 2)

The Giants again relied upon the strength of their pitching in the League Championship Series as they went on to win the best-of-seven LCS from the Phillies to clinch their 18th National League Pennant and fourth while in San Francisco.

Tim Lincecum outdueled Roy Halladay in Game #1 as Cody Ross hit a pair of solo home runs off of the eventual 2010 NL Cy Young award winner to help the Giants defeat the Phillies 4-3 in the opener.

Game #2 did not go as scripted for San Francisco as the Phillies' Roy Oswalt allowed just one run in 8.0 innings and Jimmy Rollins drove in four runs as the Phillies won 6-1. Cody Ross was the lone bright spot for Giants' offense as he connected for his third home run of the series, which tied the game at one apiece in the fifth inning.

San Francisco grabbed a 2-1 edge in Game #3 with a 3-0 shutout behind Matt Cain, who stymied the Phillies in 7.0 innings, allowing just two hits. The Giants scored in the fourth as once again it was Ross who delivered a run-scoring single, which helped cement his status as the NLCS MVP.

Juan Uribe delivered a walk-off sacrifice fly off Roy Oswalt with one out in the ninth inning as SF took Game #4 by a 6-5 count. Buster Posey also contributed offensively going 4-for-4 and becoming the first rookie in the San Francisco era and second in club history to record four hits in a postseason game.

The Giants entered Game #5 just one win away from clinching their 18th NL Pennant and had their ace on the mound with Lincecum. However, the Phillies countered with Roy Halladay, who was pitching with an injured right groin. The injury did not deter him as the Phillies won 4-2, which sent the series back to Philadelphia.

Early during Game #6 it appeared as if the series would go to 7 games, as Giants' starter Jonathan Sanchez worked just 2.0 innings, allowing a pair of runs. However, the bullpen was stellar, combining for 7.0-scoreless innings to keep the Giants in the game. Juan Uribe hit an opposite-field home run that barely cleared the right-field wall in the eighth inning, sending the Giants' dugout into a frenzy. Brian Wilson was called upon after Tim Lincecum, pitching in relief for the first time in his career, allowed consecutive one-out singles in the eighth. Wilson got Carlos Ruiz to lineout into a double-play to escape the frame. The Giants' closer then made things interesting in the ninth, issuing walks to Jimmy Rollins and Chase Utley, before striking out Ryan Howard looking to end the game.

2012 -- SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 3)

After a historic win over the Cincinnati Reds in the Division Series, the Giants faced the St. Louis Cardinals in the League Championship Series for the third time in postseason history. It marked the first time in LCS history that the previous two World Series winners had met.

The clubs split the first two games in San Francisco, with Carlos Beltran and David Freese each hitting two-run home runs to lift the Cardinals to a 6-4 victory in Game #1. In Game #2, Marco Scutaro hit a two-run single in San Francisco's four run fourth inning before leaving with a hip injury and the Giants received their first home win in the postseason, with a 7-1 victory to even the LCS at one game apiece.

The series shifted to St. Louis and the Cards took advantage of the home field as Matt Carpenter hit a two-run home run after subbing for Carlos Beltran, and the Cardinals chased Matt Cain before a three and a half hour rain delay in the seventh inning of a 3-1 Red Bird Game #3 win.

The Giants were routed 8-3 in Game #4. Adam Wainwright threw 7.0 innings of four-hit ball and St. Louis' offense roughed up Tim Lincecum and the Giants' bullpen.

Facing elimination for the fourth time in the 2012 postseason, the Giants' sent Barry Zito to the mound in Game #5 and the soft-tossing lefty was at his best, pitching San Francisco back into the series with a 5-0 win that narrowed SF's deficit to 3-2. Zito resembled the same guy who won the 2002 AL Cy Young Award with the A's, as he retired 11 consecutive batters in one stretch while striking out six in 7.2 innings.

Back in San Francisco for a Game #6, the Giants chased opposing starter Chris Carpenter to an early exit in their 6-1 victory that forced the series to a decisive Game #7. Ryan Vogelsong finished with nine strikeouts, a career-high for any game.

Hunter Pence got the Giants going with a weird double, Matt Cain pitched his second clincher of the postseason and the Giants closed out Game #7 of the LCS in a rainstorm, routing the Cardinals 9-0 to advance to the World Series for the 19th time in franchise history, the fifth time since moving to San Francisco and for the second time in the last three seasons.

San Francisco won its record-tying sixth elimination game of the postseason, completing a lopsided rally from a 3-1 deficit. Marco Scutaro recorded his sixth multi-hit game of the series and matched an LCS record with 14 hits and Pablo Sandoval drove in a run for his fifth straight game. After falling behind in the series 3-games-to-1, the Giants outscored the Cardinals 20-1 over the final three games behind stellar pitching performances from Barry Zito, Ryan Vogelsong and Matt Cain.

2014 – SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS VS. ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

(Giants win series, 4 game to 1)

The underdog Giants beat the Cardinals four-games-to-one in the National League Championship Series.

In Game #1, Madison Bumgarner (named the NLCS MVP) threw 7.2 innings, extending his road postseason scoreless streak to a major-league-record 26.2 innings. He allowed four hits, struck out seven and walked one. Sergio Romo and Santiago Casilla retired the final four St. Louis hitters in order.

Game #2 was one of the Giants' best postseason games in 2014. St. Louis led 2-0 before the Giants scored single runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings to go in front 3-2. Cardinals rookie Oscar Taveras hit a pinch-hit homer off Jean Machi in the bottom of the seventh to tie the game. In the following frame, Matt Adams homered off Hunter Strickland to make it 4-3, Cardinals. With men at first and second and two outs in the ninth, Trevor Rosenthal uncorked a wild pitch on a 3-2 delivery to Joe Panik. Going on the pitch, pinch-runner Matt Duffy motored home for a 4-4 game. The tie didn't last long though, as Kolten Wong led off the bottom of the ninth inning by hitting an 0-1 pitch from Sergio Romo into the right field seats, giving the Cardinals a 5-4 win.

The Giants won Game #3, 5-4 in 10 innings. Tim Hudson had a 4-0 lead before the Cardinals would whittle the margin to 4-3 and tie the game on Hudson's final pitch. Brandon Crawford opened the bottom of the 10th inning by drawing a walk from lefty Randy Choate. Juan Perez then lined a single to left before Gregor Blanco followed by dropping down a bunt between the mound and the third-base line. Choate grabbed it and made an errant throw to first base allowing Crawford to score the winning run.

After St. Louis built a 4-1 lead in the third off Ryan Vogelsong in Game #4, the Giants answered with two in the bottom of the inning, getting two-out RBI singles from Buster Posey and Hunter Pence. Yusmeiro Petit blanked the Cardinals over the next three innings to pick up the win.

Game #5 was perhaps one of the most memorable postseason games in Giants history. Joe Panik put SF up 2-1 in the third inning after hitting a two-run homer off Adam Wainwright. However, Matt Adams and Tony Cruz hit solo HRs off Madison Bumgarner in the fourth, giving the Cards a 3-2 lead. Bumgarner did not allow a baserunner after Cruz's homer, setting down the final 13 men he faced. Wainwright had retired 10 straight through the seventh, but Pat Neshek replaced him to begin the eighth. Pinch-hitter Michael Morse greeted Neshek with a drive over the wall in left to tie the game and send the AT&T Park crowd into a frenzy. The Cardinals sent Michael Wacha to the mound in the 9th. Pablo Sandoval opened the inning with a single, and Joaquin Arias pinch-ran for him. With one out, Wacha lost all contact with the strike zone, throwing four consecutive balls to Brandon Belt and falling behind Travis Ishikawa 2-0. Ishikawa proceeded to etch his name next to Bobby Thomson's for hitting a home run that propelled the Giants to the World Series.

1905 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 1)

The Fall Classic returned after a year's hiatus and Hall of Famer Christy Mathewson made it his showcase, leading the Giants to their first World Championship with three shutout victories.

The 25-year-old right-hander, who had 32 victories in 1905 to register his third straight 30-win season, shut down the Philadelphia Athletics in New York's five-game victory. In the space of six days, he pitched three shutouts and permitted just 14 hits overall.

Mathewson even played a part in the Giants' offense during a 3-0 Game #1 victory in Philadelphia. He ignited a two-run rally in the fifth inning to break open a scoreless contest, then went on to shut out the Athletics on four hits.

New York skipper John McGraw, who boycotted the 1904 World Series vs. the Boston Red Sox, didn't have to rely solely on Mathewson to get him the title. He also had Red Ames and Joe McGinnity, who won 22 and 21 games during the regular season, respectively, in his rotation.

Those two hurlers worked in Game #2, but McGinnity was ticketed with the defeat after surrendering three unearned runs in a 3-0 defeat.

Mathewson was staked to a 2-0, 1st inning lead in Game #3 and responded by blanking Philadelphia on four hits. First baseman Dan McGann was the Giants' big gun in the 9-0 romp, collecting two singles and a double while driving in four runs.

But it was Mathewson who got to finish off the job he started when he blanked the Athletics 2-0 in the fifth and deciding game.

1911 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS

(Athletics win series, 4 games to 2)

The "running" Giants, who established a league record with 347 stolen bases, perservered through the rebuilding of the Polo Grounds and posted 99 victories to capture the National League pennant. New York had to play its home games through early June at the park of the American League's New York Highlanders (later the Yankees) after the Polo Grounds burned to the ground in April.

However, New York's offense was limited to only four stolen bases in its six-game World Series defeat to the Philadelphia Athletics.

1905 Series hero Christy Mathewson still anchored John McGraw's pitching staff, going 26-13 during the regular season. The Hall of Famer got New York off to a great start vs. Philadelphia in Game #1 of the Fall Classic, tossing a six-hitter in the 2-1 triumph.

The Athletics rebounded to take Games #2 and #3 with Frank "Home Run" Baker clubbing dramatic home runs in both outings.

Then the rains came. The World Series was put on hold for six days due to Mother Nature.

When the Fall Classic resumed exactly a week after Game #3 had been played, Mathewson was outdueled by Chief Bender in a 4-2 decision that gave the Athletics a three-games-to-one advantage.

The Giants escaped the inevitable in Game #5 by scoring a 4-3 triumph in 10 innings before getting clobbered 13-2 in the series' sixth and final game.

1912 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. BOSTON RED SOX

(Red Sox win series, 4 games to 3 - 1 tie)

The Giants, bolstered by lefty Rube Marquard's modern Major League record 19-game winning streak, lived a storybook 1912 campaign. That's until the 10th inning of the final game of the World Series, when usually-reliable center fielder Fred Snodgrass dropped a fly ball that opened the door for a two-run Boston rally that gave the Red Sox the title.

New York, which featured two 20-game winners in Marquard (26) and Christy Mathewson (23), posted 103 victories during the regular season and coasted to the pennant with a ten-game cushion.

Newcomer Jeff Tesreau, who won 17 games for the Giants, got the nod in Game #1 but suffered a 4-3 defeat to the Red Sox.

Despite a see-saw contest that saw four lead changes, Game #2 was a wash as it was called due to darkness, thus making the 1912 World Series an eight-game affair.

The Giants evened the score in Game #3, posting a 2-1 victory behind Marquard before the Red Sox got the better of Tesreau again in the fourth contest, this time by a 3-1 count.

Trailing two-games-to-one, the Giants posted 5-2 and 11-4 wins, respectively, in Games #6 and #7.

The Series came down to the 10th inning of the eighth and final game, as the Giants and Red Sox were deadlocked at 1-1 after nine innings. New York took a 2-1 lead in the top half of the 10th before the wheels fell off in the bottom half. Boston pinch hitter Clyde Engle opened the frame with a routine fly ball that Snodgrass was camped under and then dropped.

Boston eventually won the game 3-2 on a sacrifice fly in the 10th and ruined New York's magical season.

1913 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS

(Athletics win series, 4 games to 1)

New York won its third straight National League flag, but couldn't get over the hump in the World Series for the third consecutive year, falling four-games-to-one to the Philadelphia Athletics.

After winning the pennant with a twelve-game cushion, the Giants were beset by injuries during the Fall Classic. First baseman Fred Merkle was limited to 13 at-bats due to a bad leg. Center fielder Fred Snodgrass played in only two games and made three trips to the plate after suffering from a severe charley horse. Chief Meyers, the Giants' catcher, was shelved for the Series after suffering a fractured finger in practice preceeding Game #2.

The Athletics jumped out to a 1-0 series advantage after shelling Rube Marquard for five runs and eight hits in five innings for a 6-4 victory in the opener.

Once again, Christy Mathewson provided New York with a fine post season performance when he tossed a 3-0, 10-inning shutout in Game #2. He even drove in the game-winning run with his single in the 10th.

That was last highlight for the Giants as the Athletics rolled to the World Championship by posting victories in each of the last three contests.

Mathewson, pitching in what would be his final World Series, wound up with a 5-5 lifetime mark in the Fall Classic—he was 4-0 at one point—after splitting two decisions in 1913.

Skipper John McGraw was determined to restore his club to World Series glory. However, it would be another four years until the Giants would take the field again in the championship series.

1917 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. CHICAGO WHITE SOX

The Giants' run of bad luck continued in their fourth straight World Series defeat as they fell to the Chicago White Sox in six games.

In the sixth and deciding game, New York was in a scoreless deadlock with Chicago heading into the fourth inning. That's when the Giants' penchant for mistakes at inopportune times reared its ugly head once again. This time, Chicago second baseman Eddie Collins led off the frame with a grounder to New York third baseman Heinie Zimmerman, who made a two-base throwing error on the play. Joe Jackson's ensuing fly ball was dropped by right fielder Dave Robertson, positioning White Sox at the corners.

Chicago center fielder Happy Felsch then grounded back to the pitcher, Rube Benton, who saw Collins break from third and threw to Zimmerman in an attempt to get Collins hung up. Zimmerman ran Collins toward the plate, but the runner bounded past catcher Bill Rariden to make it a Zimmerman-Collins race to the plate. The White Sox second baseman won the footrace and distracted the Giants' defense enough to allow the baserunners to advance to second and third. Both Chicago runners would score on an ensuing base hit. That's all the White Sox would need to salt away the World Championship as they went on to win Game #6 by a 4-2 count.

Famed Olympian and footballer Jim Thorpe was on the 1917 Giants' club, but made only one "appearance" during the World Series in Game #5. He was slated to start in right field, but never took the field. The right-handed hitting Thorpe was removed for a left-handed pinch hitter after the White Sox lifted lefty hurler Reb Russell in favor of right-hander Eddie Cicotte.

(Giants win series, 5 games to 3)

The Giants snapped a four-World Series losing streak when they outdueled the rival Yankees in a thrilling eight-game series. With both clubs playing their home contests at the Polo Grounds, it was the first Fall Classic to be played in its entirety at one stadium.

The National League champions were headlined by third baseman Frankie Frisch, right fielder Ross Youngs, first baseman George Kelly and left fielder Irish Meusel, while Babe Ruth and his 59 home runs was the sparkplug for the Yankees.

The American Leaguers jumped out to a two games-to-none lead after posting consecutive 3-0 victories. The Giants battled back from a 2-0, 2nd inning deficit in Game #3 to post a 13-5 victory. John McGraw's club knotted the Fall Classic at two games apiece when it logged a 4-2 triumph in the fourth game, despite Ruth's first World Series home run.

Ruth, hobbled by knee and arm aliments, spirited the Yankees to a 3-1 victory in Game #5 when he started the go-ahead rally with a bunt base hit.

However, the Bambino couldn't continue and the Giants took advantage of the situation to run off three straight victories and give the franchise its first World Championship since 1905. Art Nehf got the National Leaguers over the top with his four-hit, 1-0 victory in Game #8.

1922 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. NEW YORK YANKEES

(Giants win series, 4 games to 0 - 1 tie)

The Giants, playing the second of four consecutive World Series, earned their berth by taking the National League pennant with a seven-game cushion.

John McGraw's club brought home its second straight title after defeating its fellow Polo Grounds tenants, the Yankees, in a four-victory sweep that actually took five games to complete due to a tie.

Third baseman Heinie Groh, who was acquired from Cincinnati the previous winter, led the Giants to a 3-2 triumph in the opener after logging a 3-for-3 showing. The National League entrant had been shut out by Joe Bush through seven innings, before it stormed back from a two-run deficit on Irish Meusel's two-run single and Ross Youngs' sacrifice fly.

Meusel got back in the act quickly in Game #2, drilling a three-run home run off Bob Shawkey in the first inning. However, the Yankees battled back to tie the contest at 3-3 and it was inexplicably called because of "darkness" after the 10th inning by umpire George Hildebrand, despite at least a half-hour of daylight remaining.

Jack Scott, who went 8-2 in just 17 games for the Giants, tossed a four-hitter at the Yankees in Game #3 and led the National Leaguers to a 3-0 victory.

The Giants managed to post 4-3 and 5-3 victories in the fourth and fifth games, respectively, to advance to their second straight title. It also helped that the Giants' pitchers shut down Babe Ruth over the final three outings, holding him 0-for-9.

The 1922 World Championship would prove to be the third and final one in the illustrious career of the Giants' winningest skipper, John McGraw.

(Yankees win series, 4 games to 2)

It was an all-New York World Series for the third straight year, but there were a few changes. First, the Yankees moved into their own ballpark, Yankee Stadium. Second and most importantly, the American League entrant ended the Giants' two-year reign as World Champions.

The man who proved to be a thorn in the side of the Yankees was a Giants' outfielder who would later become synonymous with the club from the Bronx—Casey Stengel.

The 34-year-old outfielder christened World Series play in Yankee Stadium when he lined a ninth inning Joe Bush offering into left-center field that got between the outfielders for an inside-the-park home run, breaking a 4-4 draw and giving the Giants a 5-4 triumph in Game #1.

The Yankees, who had not defeated the Giants in their last nine World Series meetings (eight defeats, one tie), finally broke through in Game #2 when Babe Ruth clubbed two home runs in the 4-2 victory.

When the Series returned to Yankee Stadium for Game #3, Stengel shared the stage with pitcher Art Nehf. The outfielder broke open a scoreless duel with a home run into the right field stands. Nehf finished off the American Leaguers after allowing five singles and a double in the 1-0 win.

That was all she wrote for the Giants as the Yankees rattled off three consecutive victories to win their first World Championship. The American Leaguers coasted to 8-4 and 8-1 victories in Games #4 and #5, respectively.

In the sixth and final contest, Ruth got the Yanks off to a great start with his first inning, upper deck blast. But the A.L. entrant would need a five-run eighth inning to post the 6-4 decider.

1924 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. WASHINGTON SENATORS

(Senators win series, 4 games to 3)

The Giants made their fourth straight appearance in the Fall Classic, but they faced someone other than the Yankees for the first time during that span when they squared off with the Washington Senators.

New York was the National League representative in the World Series for the eighth time in 14 years, but it had to scramble to win the flag by one-and-a-half games over Brooklyn.

With the World Series tied at three games apiece, horrored leagacies of Merkle, Snodgrass and Zimmerman returned to longtime Giants' fans. Despite making three errors in the final contest, New York was done in twice by the infield at Washington's Griffith Stadium.

New York took a 3-1 advantage into the eighth inning of that final contest. With two outs and the bases-loaded, Senators' second baseman/manager Bucky Harris hit a grounder that skipped over the head of 18-year-old third baseman Freddie Lindstrom. Two runs scored on the bad-hop single to tie the game.

The contest remained deadlocked until the bottom of the 12th inning, when Giants' catcher Hank Gowdy tripped over his mask and dropped a Muddy Ruel pop. The Washington catcher responded with a double down the third base line. One batter later with runners on first and second, center fielder Earl McNeely grounded to third. But once again, the ball skipped over Lindstrom's head and Ruel came around to score the winning tally.

This would prove to be the final World Series appearance for Giants manager John McGraw. Although he owned a 3-6 lifetime mark in the Fall Classic, only one other manager appeared in more series—Casey Stengel with 10 trips.

1933 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. WASHINGTON SENATORS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 1)

New York, in its first full season under new manager Bill Terry, won the National League pennant on the strong pitching of Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher.

The Giants entered the World Series as the underdog to the high-powered offense of the Washington Senators. However, the New Yorkers tacked up a 1.53 ERA (8er, 47.0ip) en route to their four games-to-one series victory.

Hubbell and Schumacher, who had combined for 17 shutouts during the regular season, were selected to start the first two contests vs. the Senators.

Hubbell, the second winningest pitcher in Giants history, struck out 10 and didn't allow an earned run in the 4-2 victory. Outfielder Mel Ott accounted for three of New York's four runs, with his two-run home run and RBI single. Schumacher followed Hubbell's lead and allowed only a solo home run in the Giants' 6-1 Game #2 victory.

The good pitching turned on the Giants in Game #3 as Washington's Earl Whitehill tossed a five-hit shutout to give the Senators a 4-0 triumph.

Hubbell, who led the National League with 23 wins, carried a 1-1 game into the 10th inning in Game #4 when the Giants edged ahead on third baseman Travis Jackson's bunt single, a sacrifice and shortstop Blondy Ryan's single. King Carl escaped a one-out, bases-loaded jam in the bottom half of the inning with a double play to preserve New York's 2-1 victory.

Schumacher helped himself offensively in the decisive Game #5 with his two-run single in the second inning. Then 43-year-old reliever Dolph Luque took over a 3-3 game and worked the final four-and-one-third innings to get the Giants in position to win. Ott took care of the offense when he drilled a solo blast into the center field stands at Griffith Stadium in the top of the 10th inning to give New York a 4-3 victory.

(Yankees win series, 4 games to 2)

The Giants locked horns with their cross-town rivals, the Yankees, in the Fall Classic for the fifth time after winning the National League flag by a five-game margin.

The Yankees, who were without Babe Ruth but had Joe DiMaggio, captured the Series in six games to start a run that saw them win 16 of the next 27 World Championships.

The National Leaguers rode the arm of Hall of Famer Carl Hubbell to their 11th World Series. The 33-year-old left-hander won his last 16 decisions of the regular season to finish with a 26-6 ledger that included a 2.31 ERA.

King Carl was on the mound for the Giants in Game #1 and got the National Leaguers a 6-1 victory after allowing just seven hits, including a third inning home run by George Selkirk. Trailing 1-0 in the fifth inning, shortstop Dick Bartell launched a solo blast of his own before the Giants added another run in the sixth and four more in the eighth.

The Yankees went on to win each of the next three games, outscoring the Giants by a cumulative 25-7 count.

Staving off elimination, the Giants scored a 5-4, 10-inning victory in Game #5. Manager Bill Terry, playing in the next-to-last game of his playing career, drove in the game-winner with a sacrifice fly.

The American Leaguers finished off the Polo Grounds tenants in Game #6 as they pounded out 17 hits en route to their series-clinching 13-5 victory.

1937 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. NEW YORK YANKEES

(Yankees win series, 4 games to 1)

The two New York teams squared off once again in the Fall Classic, but the Yankees' offensive firepower proved to be too much for the Giants as the American League entrants took home the title in a five-game series.

The Giants, who boasted two 20-game winners in Carl Hubbell and rookie Cliff Melton, only had one big bat to combat the Yankee arsenal. Mel Ott clubbed 31 home runs and drove in 95 runs.

However, that was no match for the Yankees' lineup that had five different 100-RBI men in Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio, Tony Lazzeri, Bill Dickey and George Selkirk.

Hubbell was once again the Giants' Game #1 starter and was coasting along with a 1-0 lead into the bottom of the sixth. Then the Yankees produced one of their vaunted big-run innings, posting a six-run frame. The American Leaguers went on to post the 8-1 victory.

It was much of the same in Games #2 and #3 as the Yankees posted 8-1 and 5-1 triumphs, respectively.

The Giants turned the tables in Game #4 as they plated six runs in the second inning, with the big blows coming from center fielder Hank Leiber. He opened the frame with a single and scored before capping off the rally with a two-run single. The National Leaguers had Hubbell on the hill and he shut down the Yankees on six hits for the 7-3 victory.

(Yankees win series, 4 games to 2)

The 1951 World Series was overshadowed by an event that took place the day before it began — "The Shot Heard 'Round the World."

Bobby Thomson's three-run, ninth-inning homer off the Dodgers' Ralph Branca in the National League-deciding playoff game put an exclamation on one of the greatest stretch drives in the history of baseball.

Manager Leo Durocher's club trailed Brooklyn by 13-and-a-half games on Aug. 11. Then the Giants rattled off 16-straight victories and won 37 of their last 44 regular-season games to force a best-of-three playoff series with the Dodgers for the National League pennant.

The momentum seemed to carry over to the next day for the opener of the World Series as Monte Irvin stole home in the first inning to register the first swipe of home since the Yankees' Bob Meusel did it in 1928. The Giants' left fielder finished the contest 4-for-5 and spearheaded a 5-1 victory.

Irvin would once again lead the National Leaguers' offense in Game #2, but his three hits weren't enough to overcome the Yankees in a 3-1 defeat.

Shortstop Eddie Stanky inspired a five-run, fifth-inning rally in Game #3 when he kicked the ball out of Phil Rizzuto's glove on a failed stolen base attempt and scrambled to third. The Giants would move on to a 6-2 triumph at the Polo Grounds.

Despite holding a two-games-to-one series lead, the Giants couldn't finish off the Yankees as the American Leaguers ran off three straight victories to claim the title.

1954 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. CLEVELAND INDIANS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 0)

Willie Mays got the National League champion Giants off to a great start in the 1954 World Series when he made perhaps the greatest defensive play in baseball history.

With New York and Cleveland tied 2-2 in the eighth inning of Game #1 at the Polo Grounds and two Indian runners on base, the Hall of Fame center fielder made an over-the-shoulder catch of a 460-foot smash off the bat of the Indians' Vic Wertz.

The Giants went on to win 5-2 when pinch-hitter Dusty Rhodes hit a three-run, 10th-inning home run off Indians' starter Bob Lemon. Ironically, the game-winning clout went only 260 feet.

The Giants would go on to sweep the Indians in four games to register their last World Championship in an upset over the highly-touted American League champs.

Rhodes, who hit .341 in part-time duty and as a pinch-hitter deluxe during the regular season, also delivered the game-winning hits in both Games #2 and #3. However, his services weren't needed in the fourth and final contest as New York jumped out to a 7-0 advantage and coasted to the 7-4 championship-clinching victory.

New York was the surprise National League champion. After finishing fifth in 1953, the Giants were led by Mays, who won the N.L. batting title with a .345 mark that included 41 home runs and 110 RBI. The center fielder had returned to the Giants after missing the 1953 campaign due to military service.

Johnny Antonelli, another newcomer who was acquired from Milwaukee in exchange for Bobby Thomson in the off-season, won 21 games to help New York to the N.L. flag.

1962 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. NEW YORK YANKEES

(Yankees win series, 4 games to 3)

A matter of inches was the difference between the Giants bringing a World Championship to San Francisco for the first time or losing to the New York Yankees in the Fall Classic for the fifth time.

With the Giants trailing 1-0 with two outs and runners on second and third in the bottom of the ninth inning of Game #7, San Francisco's clean-up hitter Willie McCovey stepped in to face Ralph Terry. The Giants' Hall of Famer lined a one-ball, one-strike pitch toward right field, but Yankees' second baseman Bobby Richardson moved slightly to his left and threw up his glove to register the final out and the Yankees' 20th World Series crown.

San Francisco captured the National League flag by posting a late-season rally to catch Los Angeles and force a three-game playoff, which the Giants won 2-1.

The Giants carried a 2-2 tie into the seventh inning of Game #1 at Candlestick Park until Clete Boyer drilled a solo home run to spur the Yankees onto a 6-2 triumph.

Jack Sanford fired a three-hit shutout to even the Series at one-game apiece in San Francisco's 2-0 Game #2 victory. In a see-saw World Series, the Yankees would log a 3-2 Game #3 win before Giants' second baseman Chuck Hiller drilled a grand slam in the seventh inning of the fourth game to propel San Francisco to a 7-3 victory. It was the first bases-loaded clout by a National League player in World Series history.

Despite Sanford's 10-strikeout effort in seven-and-a-third innings, the Yankees posted a 5-3 win in Game #5.

As the Series moved back to San Francisco, there was a five-day delay due to a travel day and three rainouts. Once play resumed, Billy Pierce pitched a three-hitter and Orlando Cepeda posted three hits and two RBI to force a seventh game with a 5-2 Game #6 win.

1989 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. OAKLAND ATHLETICS

(Athletics win series, 4 games to 0)

The Bay Bridge Series, which pitted the Giants against their local rival, the Oakland Athletics, will always be remembered more for the Loma Prieta earthquake than the four-game brooming by the American Leaguers.

That might be a good thing for the Giants, as they were outclassed in almost every phase of the game by the Athletics—as was evidenced by the 32-14 cumulative run total.

A's Game #1 starter Dave Stewart set the tone for this Fall Classic when he hurled a five-hit shuout at the Giants. He was backed by solo home runs from Dave Parker and Walt Weiss off San Francisco starter Scott Garrelts.

In much the same fashion, Oakland rolled to a 5-1 victory in Game #2 behind the pitching of Mike Moore.

Then it happened. Something that would make this four-game Series sweep stand out in history. At 5:04 p.m. on Oct. 17, an earthquake with a 7.1-Richter scale reading rocked the Bay Area and the 60,000 fans at Candlestick Park. With reports of damage throughout the Bay Area, the ballpark was evacuated and the game was cancelled.

Finally, 10 days later, the Athletics picked up where they had left off, as they drilled five home runs on their way to a 13-7 rout in the rescheduled Game #3. The five-homer effort, two by Dave Henderson along with single clouts from Jose Canseco, Carney Lansford and Tony Phillips, tied a Series record set by the 1928 Yankees.

The A's never trailed in the series as Rickey Henderson opened Game #4 with a home run off Giants' starter Don Robinson. The Giants would close it to 8-6 in the seventh, but that was as close they would get in the 9-6 finale.

2002 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. ANAHEIM ANGELS

(Angels win series, 4 games to 3)

In the first World Series between two Wild Card teams, the Giants and Anaheim Angels lived up to the moniker, combining to set numerous offensive records in a memorable seven-game Fall Classic.

Anaheim emerged from the fireworks with it's first World Championship in franchise history, while San Francisco was saddled with heartbreak after seeing a title slip away just five outs from the pinnacle.

The clubs split the first two contests in Anaheim, with Barry Bonds grabbing the spotlight in his first appearance on the World Series stage. San Francisco's left fielder clubbed a solo homer in his first at-bat to spark a 4-3 Giants win in Game #1, then connected for a mammoth ninth-inning shot in Game #2. Not to be outdone, the Angels' Tim Salmon homered twice as Anaheim won an 11-10 slugfest to even the series.

When the scene shifted north, the Angels seemed to take control with a convincing 10-4 win in Game #3. As they had all season, the Giants battled back in Game #4, rallying from a 3-0 deficit to earn a 4-3 victory on David Bell's two-out, RBI-single in the eighth inning.

Game #5 belonged to San Francisco, as the home club delighted the 42,713 fans at AT&T Park with a 16-4 rout. Jeff Kent tied Giants World Series records with four runs, two homers and four RBI, Rich Aurilia drove in three runs to establish a franchise playoff mark with 17 RBI overall, and J.T. Snow had two of his series-high 11 hits.

The Giants were eight outs from their first World Series title since 1954, as Shawon Dunston's two-run homer, Bonds' record eighth post season clout (fourth of Series), and Kent's RBI-single propelled SF to a 5-0 lead in Game #6. But the ultimate prize was wrested away as Scott Spezio's three-run, seventh-inning homer and series MVP Troy Glaus' two-run, eighth-inning double highlighted Anaheim's rally to a 6-5 victory.

San Francisco scored first in Game #7, but ultimately could not overcome the pitching of John Lackey and the bat of Garret Anderson, who delivered the deciding three-run, third-inning double in Anaheim's 4-1 triumph.

2010 -- SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. TEXAS RANGERS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 1)

It was a different story for the San Francisco Giants during the World Series as the club was bolstered by their offense and pitching to win their 6th World Championship and 1st since they moved from New York to San Francisco in 1958 to capture the 106th Fall Classic, 4 games to 1 over the Texas Rangers. It marked the club's 1st World Series win since 1954, ending the Majors' 3rd-longest drought without a Championship at that time, behind the Cubs (102 years) and Indians (62 years) as the top 2 teams at the time.

The Giants' bats were on fire as they battered Cliff Lee and the Rangers' bullpen with an 11-7 victory in the opening game of the 2010 World Series. What was originally penned as a pitchers' duel between Lee and Tim Lincecum turned out to be an offensive outburst by both teams. Freddy Sanchez finished with 4 of the Giants' 14 hits as Aubrey Huff went 3-for-4 with an RBI and Juan Uribe capped a 6-run fifth inning with a 3-run home run, which set off the fog horn and blasts from water cannons out in right field. San Francisco took a commanding two game lead after Matt Cain held the Rangers' bats at bay in a 9-0 shutout in Game #2. Cain tossed 7.2-scoreless frames to extend his postseason scoreless innings total to 21.1 frames, while Edgar Renteria led the offense as he homered and drove in three runs.

The only mishap for the Giants was during Game #3 as they fell to the Rangers 2-4 at Texas. However, the team resorted back to their pitching heavy strategy in Game #4 as rookie Madison Bumgarner took to the mound and fired off 8.0-shutout innings as the Giants shut out the Rangers 4-0 on Halloween night. Aubrey Huff (2-run home run) and Buster Posey (solo home run) supplied the club with enough offense as the team was one game away from winning their 1st Championship in over 54 years.

Tim Lincecum and World Series MVP Edgar Renteria helped deliver the title in Game #5 as Lincecum outdueled Cliff Lee in a game that was scoreless until Renteria hit a 3-run home run with 2 outs in the seventh inning. Lincecum defeated Lee for the 2nd time in a week, allowing just 3 hits over 8.0 innings while recording 10 strikeouts. The game was scoreless until Cody Ross and Juan Uribe both singled to open the seventh inning before Aubrey Huff layed down the 1st sacrifice bunt of his career to move the runners. Renteria stepped to the plate and sent a 2-0 pitch over the left-center field wall silencing a sold out crowd of 52,045. Brian Wilson was summoned for the ninth and retired Josh Hamilton on a called 3rd strike, getting Vladimir Guerrero on a grounder to shortstop and then struck out Nelson Cruz to cap the best season in San Francisco Giants history.

2012 -- SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. DETROIT TIGERS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 0)

Playing in the World Series for the 19th time in franchise history and the fifth time since moving to San Francisco in 1958, the Giants were set to face the Detroit Tigers, the first time these two storied franchises had ever met in a postseason series.

Pablo Sandoval and Barry Zito both shined for the Giants in Game #1 as Sandoval hit three home runs, and joined Reggie Jackson, Babe Ruth and Albert Pujols as the only players to accomplish that in the Fall Classic, and Zito outdueled Justin Verlander, the reigning Cy Young winner, as the Giants won 8-3. Sandoval homered in his first three at-bats, hitting a solo shot in the first inning, a two-run blast in the third that set off the fog horns and capped it with yet another solo shot to center that sent the festive AT&T Park crowd into a frenzy.

In Game #2, Madison Bumgarner tossed 7.0-scoreless innings, then the Giants took advantage of a bunt that stayed fair to scratch out the go-ahead run in a 2-0 win for a 2-0 advantage in the Series.

The Giants took a commanding 3-0 lead in the Fall Classic with a 2-0 win on a chilly night in Detroit in Game #3. SF won their franchise-record sixth straight postseason game as Ryan Vogelsong blanked the Tigers for 5.2 innings and Gregor Blanco hit an RBI triple and Brandon Crawford drove him home with a single in the second inning. The Giants became the eighth team to post consecutive World Series shutouts and the first to accomplish the feat since the 1966 Baltimore Orioles.

Nearly knocked out in the playoffs time and time again, the Giants completed a four game sweep of the Tigers to win their second title in three seasons. Marco Scutaro's go-ahead single with two outs in the 10th inning lifted the Giants to a 4-3, 10-inning victory. Sergio Romo got Triple Crown winner Miguel Cabrera to look at strike three for the final out and the Giants finished the month of October with seven straight wins and their seventh World Series championship.

2014 – SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS VS. KANSAS CITY ROYALS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 3)

Backed by the eventual World Series MVP Madison Bumgarner, the Giants beat the Kansas City Royals in 7 games to capture their third championship in five years.

Kansas City hadn't lost in this postseason before the Series, but the Giants ended that streak at eight games with a 7-1 win in Game #1. SF scored three times in the first inning off James Shields; Pablo Sandoval hit an RBI double and Hunter Pence crushed a two-run homer to right-center. Madison Bumgarner carried a shutout into the seventh before Salvador Perez homered, ending Bumgarner's World Series scoreless-innings streak at 21 and his road postseason scoreless-innings streak at 32.2. His three-hit, seven-inning performance gave the Giants the jump in the Series.

Gregor Blanco opened Game #2 by jumping on a 3-2 pitch from Yordano Ventura and jolting it over the wall in right. That lead was short-lived as the Royals scored single runs in the first and second innings off Jake Peavy. The game was 2-2 in the sixth when the Royals put a five-spot on the board and finished it off with a 7-2 win.

Tim Hudson, made his first World Series appearance in Game #3 and retired 12 in a row in one stretch — but took the loss. The Royals scratched out a run in the first and added two in the sixth, the final run scoring on Eric Hosmer's single off Javier Lopez. Michael Morse's pinch-hit RBI double keyed the Giants' two-run sixth, but that would be the extent of SF's offense. Kansas City relievers Kelvin Herrera, Brandon Finnegan, Wade Davis and Greg Holland combined for four hitless innings.

Ineffective pitching by Ryan Vogelsong and bad defense by the Giants allowed the Royals to score four two-out runs in the third to grab a 4-1 edge in Game #4. However, another three shutout innings from Yusmeiro Petit, enabled the Giants to mount their comeback. The Giants scored one in the third and two in the fifth to tie the game. Joe Panik's two-run double highlighted a four-run seventh, and helped the Giants secure an 11-4 win.

The Giants' final home game of the postseason was highlighted by Madison Bumgarner, who threw another four-hit shutout to become the Giants' first pitcher since 1962 to throw a complete game (Billy Pierce) and shutout (Jack Sanford) in the World Series.

In Game #6, the Royals scored seven runs in the second inning to put the game away early. Yordano Ventura held the Giants to three hits in seven innings, setting up Game7.

Pablo Sandoval went 3-for-3 and scored twice, Michael Morse drove in two runs and Jeremy Affeldt earned the win with 2.1 innings of shutout relief. However, it was Madison Bumgarner who stole the show for the Giants and helped the team win its eighth championship. On just two days' rest, he entered the game in the fifth inning. After allowing a single to Omar Infante, the first batter he faced, Bumgarner retired the next 14 hitters. With two outs in the ninth, Alex Gordon lifted a single into left-center that Gregor Blanco misplayed. Gordon wound up at third, 90 feet from tying the game. On a 2-2 pitch, Bumgarner got Salvador Perez on a foul pop clutched by Pablo Sandoval, who then collapsed in joy. Bumgarner, who had been the NLCS MVP, was the only choice for Series MVP. He went 2-0 with a save and gave up all of one run and nine hits in 21 innings.

Giants Statue Dedications

Since the opening of AT&T Park in the 2000 season, the San Francisco Giants have dedicated four statues of their greatest players donning a Giants uniform. Sculptures of Hall of Famers Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Juan Marichal and Orlando Cepeda have been created by well-known American sculptor William Behrends and have been placed outside of AT&T Park for everyone to enjoy.

Behrends' portrait sculptures have been widely praised for their likeness, quality of detail and sensitive evocation of character. Unlike many other sculptors, Mr. Behrends was personally involved in every phase of the creation of the four bronze sculptures, including research, molding and bronzing.

Behrends divides his time between home and studio in Tyron, North Carolina, bronze foundries in Colorado and New York and a marble studio in Pietrasanta, Italy. He studied architecture at North Carolina State University and fine arts and sculpture at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, including anatomy training at the medical school. He has subsequently studied and worked in Italy, principally with Swietlan Kraczyna and Enzo Pasquini. He is the twice recipient of the Richard Portrait Prize by the National Sculpture Society and is a fellow board member of the National Sculpture Society.

March 31, 2000 – The Giants unveiled a nine-foot bronze sculpture of Hall of Fame outfielder Willie Mays, located at the corner of Third and King Streets. The statue depicts Mays in the graceful conclusion of his powerful swing. The sculpture was developed over a 12-month period.

May 4, 2003 – A nine-foot tall bronze statue of Giants Hall of Fame first baseman Willie McCovey was unveiled. The statue is prominently featured at the northeast portion of AT&T Park, which was officially designated as McCovey Point by the San Francisco Port Commission. The statue of Willie McCovey pays tribute to a man who exemplifies the spirit and leadership shown by many of those who have worn the Giants uniform.

May 21, 2005 – Former Giants great and Hall of Fame pitcher Juan Marichal had his statue dedicated in 2005. The nine-foot bronze statue is located at AT&T Park's Lefty O'Doul Plaza and features Marichal's famous high-leg kick.

September 6, 2008 – The Giants dedicated a bronze statue in honor of Hall of Fame first baseman Orlando Cepeda. The statue, which stands at nine feet tall on a five foot base, is located at the Second Street entrance to AT&T Park. The sculpture portrays a youthful, smiling Cepeda.

AT&T Park Attendance Highlights

- The Giants enter the 2016 campaign with a sellout streak of 408 regular season dates, plus 23 dates in the post-season, for a total of 431. The Giants sellout streak is the longest consecutive regular season home sellout streak in the National League history and is currently the longest active one in the Majors. The old National League sellout streak record was 257 regular season games, plus 16 in the postseason, for a total of 273, by Philadelphia from 2009 to August, 2012. The Boston Red Sox hold the Major League record of 820-straight sellouts (794 regular season, 26 post-season) from 2003 through Opening Day 2013.
- 855 of the 1,296 (65.9%) regular season dates at AT&T Park have been sellouts.

- In 16 years at AT&T Park, the Giants have averaged 39,716 per date, which is 94.8% of capacity.
- Of all teams that have moved into a new ballpark in the last 40 years, the Giants are the only team whose attendance has been higher every single year in their current park, than it ever was in their former park.
- Largest regular season crowd at AT&T Park was 43,503 vs. the Yankees on June 24, 2007. The biggest post-season crowd was 44,046 on October 8, 2010 for a National League Division Series game against Atlanta.
- The smallest crowd was 23,934 on May 11, 2009 vs. Washington. The only games that drew less than 30,000 at AT&T Park were in 2009 (12 dates) and in 2010 (5 dates).

The only teams with an equal or longer streak of 3 million seasons are the Dodgers (1996-2010), Yankees (2000-2015), Angels (2003-2015), Cardinals (2004-2015), Rockies (1993-2001) and Cubs (2004-2011).
- The Giants have topped 3 million in 14 seasons. The only teams to draw 3 million more often than the Giants are the Dodgers (29 times), the Cardinals (19), and the Yankees (17).
- The Giants welcomed their 50 millionth fan to AT&T Park on July 11, 2015. The Giants became the first MLB team to reach 50 million in attendance in the fewest number of seasons in MLB history - doing so in just 16 seasons, surpassing the Baltimore Orioles who did so in their 17th season at Oriole Park at Camden Yards.

Miller was thrilled to broadcast his 16th World Series in 2014 as the Giants won it all for the third time in five years. Miller was named as one of seven inductees into the National Radio Hall of Fame in 2014 in recognition of Miller's contribution to the development of the radio medium throughout its history in the United States. The year 2014 also marked the 40th anniversary of Miller's first Major League baseball broadcast. An award-winning broadcast veteran of more than 40 years, Miller worked 21 seasons as the play-by-play commentator on the ESPN Sunday Night Baseball game of the week. Miller, noted for his eloquent game description, golden voice and marvelous sense of humor, spent 14 years with the Baltimore Orioles before coming to San Francisco. Prior to joining Baltimore in 1983, the talented broadcaster spent two seasons with the Texas Rangers (1978-79) and three seasons with the Boston Red Sox (1980-82). After a four-year stint at NBC-TV from 1986-89, where he announced an occasional NBC Game of the Week with either Tony Kubek or Joe Garagiola, Miller matriculated to ESPN. During his tenure at ESPN, he was nominated twice for a national Emmy Award in 1995 and 1996, and broadcast 13 consecutive World Series on ESPN Radio. He was also nominated six times for an "ACE" award, emblematic of cable television excellence, and won the award in 1991 and 1996 for his play-by-play work. Miller was named National Sportscaster of the Year by the Association Sportscasters Association in 1998 and was inducted into the Hall of Fame of the National Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association of America the same year. - Youth Recreation & Fitness
- Health
- Violence Prevention
- Education/Literacy

THE GIANTS MEDIA RELATIONS OFFICE: Located on the second level at AT&T Park behind the press box, the Giants' media relations department can be reached via the media elevator or adjacent stairs from the Field Club (service) level walkway.

ENTRY TO AT&T PARK: Credentialed media must enter the ballpark through the Media Entrance near O'Doul Gate (next to the Giants Dugout Store) off Third Street, or at the Command Center at 2nd and King Streets.

CREDENTIALS: Credentials will be issued only to legitimate media. Season credentials will be issued only to those news agencies that cover the Giants on a daily basis. All requests for regular season media and photo credentials must be submitted on Major League Baseball's online credential site: https://credentials.mlb.com. Media that do not receive full-season Giants credentials may obtain single credentials. Media will need to apply on the website 48 hours in advance of each game requested. Daily media credentials are subject to availability. All daily media credentials can be picked up at the credential distribution center located at the Lefty O'Doul ticket windows (adjacent to the Dignity Health Center). Credentials must be visibly worn at all times.

BOB STEVENS PRESS BOX: The Bob Stevens Press Box is located on the Lower Box level of AT&T Park, directly above Sections 113-117 of the lower bowl seating in the ballpark. The entrance to the press box, situated one level above street level, can be accessed via the media elevator or adjacent stairwell from the Field Club (service) level walkway. The press box is a working area for the news media and no cheering or other distracting noise is permitted at any time. Anyone violating this policy will be asked to leave the premises. Persons without credentials will not be admitted.

HODGES-SIMMONS BROADCAST CENTER: All broadcast booths for live game coverage are located at the Hodges-Simmons Broadcast Center on the Club Level of AT&T Park (one level above the Press Box). From the Field (service) level walkway, take the media elevator or adjacent stairwell to the Club Level to access the broadcast booths. Persons without credentials will not be admitted.

CLUBHOUSES: Both clubhouses are located on the Field Club (service) level of AT&T Park. The Giants' clubhouse is on the third base side, while the visitor's clubhouse is on the first base side. Only credentialed media with clubhouse access will be admitted. TV and still photographers are not allowed in the clubhouse prior to the game, while only TV cameras are permitted in the clubhouse during post-game (no still photographers). Training and weight rooms, as well as the club dining areas, are closed to everyone except players and club officials. The Giants clubhouse is open beginning three-and-a-half hours prior to game time, and will re-open 10 minutes following the conclusion of the game. Media may NOT return to the home or visitors clubhouse once the Clubs have taken batting practice. Please do not lounge in the manager's office or clubhouse during the pre-game period. If you have specific interview requests for a player or coach, we encourage you to contact a member of the Giants' media relations staff, who will try to accommodate your needs.

FIELD ACCESS: Only credentialed media with field access will be allowed onto the field prior to the game. Due to AT&T Park having the smallest foul territory behind home plate in Major League Baseball, we kindly ask all video and still photographers to stay on the warning track when shooting. All media must clear the field 45 minutes prior to game time. Access to the field is available on the Field Club (service) level only by one of three tunnels: the Giants' dugout, the visitors' dugout, or the media tunnel directly behind home plate.

NICK PETERS MEDIA INTERVIEW ROOM: The Nick Peters Media Interview Room is located adjacent to the Giants clubhouse on the Field Club (service) level of the ballpark. The room will be used for media conferences and other special interviews.

POST-GAME PROCEDURES: Manager Bruce Bochy will be available to the media immediately after the game in the Nick Peters Media Interview Room. Please ask any questions of the manager related to the game during this post-game session. Post-game interviews with the manager and players are conducted by media with deadlines and should be limited to game comments. Please do not lounge in the manager's office or clubhouse, or attempt to conduct feature-length interviews after a game.

SOCIAL MEDIA: In accordance with Major League Baseball guidelines, media are not permitted to use cellular phones, laptops, texting devices or similar portable equipment for Tweeting or transmitting via other social media networks in group settings in clubhouses, dugouts or manager's office at any time. Digital photography, without the permission of the club media relations director, is prohibited in the clubhouse at all times.

MEDIA DRESS GUIDELINES: MLB and the BBWAA agreed to a set of dress guidelines for members of the media. The guidelines, which emphasize professionalism, will be in effect for the 2016 season. The guidelines will be posted in all media areas.

LIVE SHOTS: Due to our downtown location, we do not have any ENG truck parking. If your organization plans to transmit ANY live shots from inside AT&T Park, please contact MediaOne Services, which serves as the official broadcast services provider for the Giants and AT&T Park. Please direct your inquiry to Michael Ciabattari via e-mail at michael@m1sf.com or via telephone at (415) 939-1572.

SAM SKINNER MEDIA LOUNGE: The Sam Skinner Media Lounge is located directly behind the broadcast booths on Club Level. Those media members located in the press box that wish to dine can access the Sam Skinner Media Lounge by taking one flight of stairs up one level. The lounge is open for pre-game meal service beginning two hours prior to game time to accredited media members. Meal service concludes one hour after first pitch. There will be a nominal charge for meals.

LIVE GAME-IN-PROGRESS BROADCASTS: Please be advised that no radio entity is allowed to file live in-game reports from AT&T Park when the Giants host a game in which MLB's national radio rightsholder, ESPN Radio, is broadcasting. The ESPN Radio window of exclusivity begins 15 minutes prior to first pitch and concludes 15 minutes after the game or when ESPN Radio completes its broadcast, whichever comes first. Live broadcasts by non-rights holders during a game are permitted for the purpose of non play-by-play reporting of scores and game highlights, under the following guidelines: Reports must be confined to between-innings only, limited to 60 seconds in length, and limited to six per game. Radio and TV stringers must notify the Giants media relations department of their plans for such reports. A violation of the above Major League Baseball guidelines may result in the revocation of media credentials.

TELEPHONES: Media wishing to order temporary telephone lines must contact Lena Boswell, Giants telecommunications administrator at (415) 972-1711 or via e-mail at lboswell@sfgiants.com.

FREELANCE WRITERS AND PHOTOGRAPHERS: Freelance writers and photographers may not request their own credentials. The sports editor or managing editor of a publication employing the freelancer must provide a written credential request on official company letterhead for specific games at least 48 hours in advance of that game.

WEBSITES: Due to the growth of on-line services and our limited number of press box seats, the Giants will only issue daily credentials to those website personnel affiliated with a major news gathering organization.

MEDIA INFORMATION SITE: All Giants' game day information (lineups, game notes, stats, releases, etc.) audio/video interviews (English and Spanish) and press box information will be available on the Giants' press box information site. Please see a media relations staffer for website and login information.

NO AUTOGRAPHS: Media are not allowed to ask for autographs of uniformed personnel at AT&T Park. Anyone violating this policy will be asked to leave the premises and will have their credential revoked.

El Palco de Prensa es un área de trabajo para los periodistas y no se permiten las porras, vítores, aplausos o cualquier otro ruido que distraiga o impida a los periodistas ejercer su trabajo. Se puede llegar al Centro de Transmisión Hodges-Simmons por el ascensor o las escaleras que están por el túnel de servicio en el nivel Field Club. Las personas sin credenciales no serán admitidas a esta área del estadio.

Acceso a los Vestidores: Ambos vestidores están localizados en el nivel Field Club de AT&T Park. El vestidor de los Gigantes se encuentra en el lado de la tercera base y el del equipo visitante está en el lado de la primera base. El acceso a los vestidores será permitido sólo a periodistas con la acreditación apropiada. Cámaras de televisión y fotógrafos no son permitidos en el clubhouse antes de los partidos. Se les permite acceso a los vestidores a cámaras de televisión después de los partidos, pero nunca a fotógrafos. El cuarto médico y de entrenamiento así como el comedor de los jugadores son áreas que están cerradas para todos, excepto a los jugadores y empleados del club. El vestidor de los Gigantes estará abierto tres horas y media antes de cada partido y reabrirá 10 minutos después del juego. Los periodistas no pueden regresar al vestidor de los Gigantes o al del equipo visitante una vez que los equipos hayan salido a tomar práctica de bateo. Acceso al Campo/Terreno de Juego: El acceso al terreno de juego será permitido sólo a periodistas con la acreditación oficial antes de los partidos. Debido a que AT&T Park tiene la área más pequeña detrás del home en las Grandes Ligas, se le pide a las cámaras de televisión y fotógrafos que permanezcan en la pista de advertencia o zona de seguridad cuando estén filmando. Todos los miembros de los medios necesitan desalojar el campo 45 minutos antes del comienzo del partido. Se puede llegar al campo por el nivel Field Club solamente por uno de tres túneles: por el dugout de los Gigantes o el del equipo visitante y por el túnel que está directamente detrás del home.

Sala de Entrevistas Nick Peters: La Sala de Entrevistas Nick Peters está localizada en el nivel Field Club del estadio, entre home y el vestidor de los Gigantes. Esta Sala de Entrevistas será usada para Conferencias de Prensa y otras entrevistas especiales.

Procedimiento después del Partido: El piloto Bruce Bochy estará disponible inmediatamente después de cada partido en la Sala de Entrevistas Nick Peters. Esta es su oportunidad de hacer preguntas con respecto al juego de ese día o noche. Las entrevistas con el manager y los peloteros deben de ser llevadas a cabo por reporteros que tienen que respetar un plazo de tiempo para ejecutar sus funciones. Por favor no se quede en la oficina del manager o el vestidor y no trate de hacer entrevistas largas después del juego.

Medios Sociales: Conforme a las reglas de Major League Baseball, no se le permite el uso de teléfonos móviles, laptop, equipos para escribir texto o usar aparatos similares para enviar tweets o transmitir a otros medios sociales mientras esté el vestidor, clubhouse o en la oficina del manager. Las fotos digitales sin el permiso de un miembro de Relaciones para los Medios están completamente prohibidas en el Clubhouse o vestidor.

Código de Vestimenta: MLB y BBWAA se han puesto de acuerdo en un Código de Vestimenta para todos los miembros de prensa. La directriz, la cual enfatiza el profesionalismo, fue puesta en vigor desde la temporada 2016. Las reglas al respecto están delineadas y a la vista de todos en las áreas para los miembros de prensa.

Cuarto Oscuro, lugar para los Fotógrafos: El cuarto oscuro y la oficina del fotógrafo del equipo de los Gigantes está localizada en el Field Club en el nivel de servicio entre los vestidores de los equipos. Además, hay otro cuarto auxiliar de trabajo para enviar fotografías vía teléfono que se encuentra a un lado del cuarto de los árbitros en el nivel de servicio. Hay espacio para un número limitado de áreas para fotógrafos en el terreno de juego, así como en la caseta de televisión que se encuentra en el lado de la tercera base en el Club Level. Todas las ubicaciones para fotógrafos están reservadas y si desea una de estas áreas comuníquese con el Departamento de Fotografía de los Gigantes. El Departamento de Relaciones para Medios de los Gigantes le pide a todos los fotógrafos con acreditación de temporada que respeten las reglas propias de su profesión cuando hagan uso de las mismas y se les pide que sólo la usen cuando estén ejerciendo el trabajo para un medio debidamente acreditado.

Tomas en Vivo: Debido a que el estadio se encuentra en el centro de la ciudad, no tenemos estacionamiento para los camiones con satélite. Si su organización tiene planes de hacer una transmisión en directo adentro de AT&T Park, por favor comuníquese con MediaOne Services, proveedor oficial para transmisiones en vivo de los Gigantes en AT&T Park. El comedor estará abierto dos horas antes de cada partido. El comedor cierra una hora después del primer lanzamiento. Hay un cobro mínimo especificado por la comida.

Transmisiones en Vivo: Se advierte que ninguna radio está permitida a hacer reportajes en vivo durante los juegos en AT&T Park cuando los Gigantes sean anfitriones y el partido sea transmitido nacionalmente por la cadena ESPN. La ventana de exclusividad para la cadena ESPN comienza 15 minutos antes del primer lanzamiento y concluye 15 minutos después que termine el juego o cuando ESPN concluya su transmisión. Reportes en vivo de estaciones de radio sin derechos de exclusividad están permitidos sólo para informar del marcador o jugadas relevantes y no para describir la acción bajo las siguientes reglas: los reportajes deben hacerse sólo entre innings, limitados a 60 segundos y seis por juego. Los reporteros de radio y televisión tienen que informarle de antemano al Departamento de Relaciones para Medios sobre sus planes para dichos reportes. La violación a esta regla de MLB puede resultar en la suspensión de la respectiva credencial.

El Director de Deportes o el gerente de la publicación a la cual representan tienen que hacer la solicitud por escrito en papel membretado de la compañía para los juegos específicos con por lo menos 48 horas de anticipación.

Sitio Web: Debido al gran número de sitios cibernéticos y el espacio limitado en el Palco de Prensa los Gigantes sólo le otorgarán credenciales a aquellos sitios que estén asociados con una organización informativa legítima.

Lugar con Información para los Medios: Toda la información del juego (notas, alineaciones, estadísticas, comunicados de prensa, etc.), video y audio de entrevistas en inglés y español están disponibles en el sitio de la web de los Gigantes. Un miembro del departamento de Relaciones para Medios le puede asistir para que pueda ingresar debidamente al sitio.

Prohibida Absolutamente la Petición de Autógrafos: Los miembros de la prensa tienen terminantemente prohibido pedir autógrafos en AT&T Park. Cualquiera que viole esta regla se le pedirá que desaloje el estadio y su credencial será suspendida.
